Why can't you share, Woger? After all, you won "Cocksucker of the Year" for the second time in a row. You should share the limelight instead of being jealous.

> Your Pedo friend is going to suffer as<STOMP!>

You should really get to know Todd Daugherty, N9OGL, who came from behind to win "Pedophile of the Year" for 2007. He's your kind of guy (and he even writes like you, but in a kind of Tonto style.) The two of you need to give acceptance speeches, but I know that you won't. You just don't have any gratitude for the nice things that people do for you.

Mark Morgan was going to throw a party for the two of you, but he got disgusted and canceled it. All you have left now is Bill White. He still wants to thank you for all of the late night crank calls.

You're too fucking stupid to understand that the people who were helping you aka NewsGuy continually fucks you behind your back, dipshit.

How loud do you think Child Molesting Holsten will scream when the first Ass Rape takes place, you sick fat fuck? I'm sure Bill White knows that it's really you who is prank calling him, fatty. I've helped make the Pedo's hero Hal's life a living fucking hell. He was the smart one, he ran away like a little bitch. Steve the Pedo has just started to suffer. Remember to tell the stupid fat fuck who called DirecTV about him working. Now they can garnish his SSI check, fatty. Oh and ask him how his neighbors like him now that they have detailed information about him and "the young shaved ones" as well as Chris's arrest. I'm just thinking how terrible it would be if one of them shot him. The only good child molester is a dead one... And the only good Pedo enabler.

Ah yes, instead of the Turkish proxy at 195.175.37.8 that you used to make this post, you attacked Hal's web site from 195.175.37.6, as recorded in the list of IP addresses published at his blogspot site.

You have just used your real name and associated it with the same subnet as the attacking machine.

That makes you one really stooooooopid s.o.b.

Mailing the neighbors as well as making crank calls? You had a really "special" holiday, didn't you? Could it be that 2007 will be the year in which your chickens finally come home to roost? Let's hope so. You richly deserve it.

Are you planning on giving an acceptance speech, Tood? That was an amazing come-from-behind win last night. Congratulations!

Bodacious am a whole lotta' bull over nineteen hundred pounds.
He's born in Galry, Oklahoma and he's the baddest sonsabitch around if a Burma bull ever were a super star then Bodacious just might be.
He's a cream colored, beefy brawn,
full-fledged, four footed bovine celebrity.

Who's gonna ride Bodacious?
Who's gonna tame him down?
Look out for Bodacious, he's bound to hold his ground.
Here comes Bodacious, ya'll just step aside.
Big and bad Bodacious takes a toll from those who ride.

Young Bo met a man named Tuff Hedeman at the start of his buckin' spree and Tuff became one of the few to make the whistle

bkac in Nineteen Ninety Three.

Tuff tried to ride Bo again at the finals in Nineteen Ninety Five.
Bodacious had got a little older and wiser Tuff barely came out alive.

Just keep thinking that fat ass. You and your Pedo fatass bung-hole buddy are going to get what is coming to you. Especailly, the Pedo. I'm sure I gave him a Christmas he won't soon forget. 2007 is going to be even worse. He'd better save his tax returns this year because it won't be long before DirecTV starts taking a bite out of his SS. If we are lucky though, maybe his neighbors will kill his pedo ass first.

If we are lucky.

35. RufzXP 1.1.0 released

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.misc
Date: 2007-01-04 09:34:25 UTC
From: "Alessandro (IV3XYM)" <IV3XYM@interware.it> Message-ID: <504029F1chb40U4@mid.individual.net>
Source record: 22467

Mathias Kolpe (DL4MM) and Alessandro Vitiello (IV3XYM) are glad to announce the release of the first RufzXP update, RufzXP 1.1.0.

==Extract from www.rufzxp.net== RufzXP is an excellent training software for improving code speed and CW practice, particularly (ultra) high speed memory copying of true amateur radio calls. Focussing on improvement of CW proficiency, it is no contest simulator and does not provide for QRM. It provides additional tools for keeping track of training progress and comparing with other operators via International RufzXP Toplist.

RufzXP is a "must" for every serious high speed telegraphy operator and is an official competition of IARU High Speed Telegraphy Championships.
==========

Many news are in this version, revision history and file set you find at:
www.rufzxp.net. Download now!

You may run setup file on existing RufzXP. Old configuration and scoreboard will be updated if desired by user.
New RufzXP Topscores for the RufzXP International Toplist will be much appreciated. Old 1.0.0 scores are still valid, of course.

Best 73' and enjoy free RufzXP!

Mathias Kolpe (DL4MM)
Alessandro Vitiello (IV3XYM)

From sdcarl!rusty Mon May 11 09:00:58 1981
To: ucbvax^mark
Subject: newsgroup fa, net, etc.

Won't we need to change the .ngfile also? Also is ALL an acceptable newsgroup on the left side of the dot such that ALL.ALL will catch everything?

Rusty is right (or is that "Rusty is Wright"?) - we have ALL in our .ngfile
so I tend to forget this. ALL.ALL may or may not work, but ALL certainly does.

Mark

I plan to make the change on Tuesday unless something horrible happens.

Apparently nothing too horrible happened after they changed the .ngfile because we're still pecking out our little newsgroup messages all over the world 24 years later.

Mark,
Yes, the .ngfile needs to be fixed and maybe we should use .net instead of .ALL, talk to the guys and let me know what you think.

By the way, my friggin 8-track just went out in my pinto so i think i'm going to pick me up one of those new Casset Tape decks. Those things are outta sight, I hear Rick James has one! He's my hero, anyway get back to me soon on that other stuff.

Yeah, but it's not the oldest one on the net. Look at this site:

http://communication.ucsd.edu/bjones/Usenet.Hist/Nethist/0061.html
The earliest post at that site is from May 27, 1980

Lots of other ancient stuff on there too...

43. Kevin Alfred Strom's ex-wife speaks

Good Housekeeping/July 2001
By Kirsten Betsworth as told to Molly M. Ginty
"I hate black people," my eight-year-old son, Oskar, declared one day last year. I had just picked him up from his father's house, and he made the announcement as he got in the car. I asked him why, and he said, "I just hate them." Then I asked which black person he hated, and he couldn't give me an answer.

I wasn't the first - or the last - time I heard Oskar speak this way. I knew he got those ideas from my ex-husband, Kevin, who's a prominent figure in the National Alliance, a hate group that grew out of the American Nazi Party. And I knew that al long as I shared custody of Oskar and my other children - Edgar, six, and Klara Vita, four - with my ex, they would be in danger of becoming like their father.

I married Kevin Alfred Strom in 1990 on a small island off the coast of Virginia. The ceremony was performed by William Pierce, the leader of the National Alliance and an author of the Turner Diaries, the book that is said to have inspired Timothy McVeigh to bomb the federal office building in Oklahoma City in 1995. After we took our vows, Pierce told our friends and family members that the purpose of marriage is to perpetuate the white race. A few of our guests gave us funny looks, but the words just rolled off my back. I was in love and thought I needed to show respect for my husband and his beliefs.

My parents taught me that - to them, being the perfect wife was more important than anything else. My father, a former prison guard and retired master sergeant, and my mother, a housewife, were very, very conservative: They didn't let me go to college and didn't allow me to leave home until I got married. My older brother, Arthur, and I were conditioned never to speak out, never to ask for help, and never to let anyone know there were problems in our family. I remember going to other people's houses and wishing I lived there. It all made me incredibly depressed, and at age 15, I turned to alcohol. I married my first husband young - at 19. I would have done anything to get out of that house.

But the marriage ended in divorce after six months, and I was forced to move back home. Three years later, I met my second husband, Joseph, who got me involved in the white pride movement. I found that the more I agreed with Joseph about his beliefs, the less he would intimidate me. Our marriage lasted only a year, and I didn't know where to turn when it was ending. I couldn't go home again: My parents thought I was a disgrace because my marriages hadn't worked out and because I had turned to self-help groups to help me with my drinking problem. Kevin, whom I'd met in 1987 through Joseph, seemed like my salvation.

In the beginning, Kevin came across as smart and soft-spoken - especially in comparison to Joseph. When I met his friends in the Alliance, they also seemed bright - people who wanted to talk about current events and gun control, as opposed to everyone else in my life, who seemed to care only about football and TV. Kevin and his friends treated me like a queen at first. To them, I was a rarity - a girl who was interested in politics but wasn't liberal. I felt like I belonged somewhere for the first time in my life. One by one, I lost contact with my own friends.

Our first year of marriage was great. Then Kevin and I moved to the Cosmotheist Community, the National Alliance's 350-acre compound in West Virginia that's an hour away from the nearest big town. We lived in a beat-up trailer next to Pierce and his wife. The compound stockpiled food and supplies, and the heating and cooling system ran on its own power. But there never seemed to be more than ten people on "the land" (as they called it) at any one time, even though the Alliance claimed a membership of about 10,000 people.

I started feeling lonely very quickly: Kevin spent 12 hours a day working on an Alliance radio show (for which he got a modest monthly payment) and preparing for the race war, which he said would kill off all the minorities and leave the Aryans in power. We were cut off from the world, and my only companions were the other wives - mostly Eastern European mail-order brides whom Pierce and the other members had brought into the States. For Kevin's sake, I sometimes helped out by photocopying pamphlets and stuffing envelopes with National Alliance literature, or making plastic tubes that were designed to hold a few rifles so you could bury them in your backyard. I even posed for a white supremacist magazine while holding a swastika flag. When I look at that photo now, I don't see Kirsten, but a person who was completely brainwashed.

A year later, when we were about to have our first baby, we moved off the land to nearby Hillsboro. I was happy to leave, but things didn't get much better. I started shutting out the world and the terrible things I was hearing about - like the raid at Ruby Ridge, Idaho, in which federal agents killed the wife of a white supremacist Randy Weaver. I just couldn't handle all this. Right after Edgar was born in 1994, I began to feel really miserable and went to see a doctor. He wanted me to go to counseling, but Kevin wouldn't allo9w it. He thought it would expose him.

That's when we started fighting. Kevin would keep me up for days at a time until I said what he wanted to hear. I remember one particularly bad 48-hour stretch during which he wouldn't leave me alone until I said that giving women the right to vote was what had caused everything in American to go wrong. When we argued, Kevin would call my parents, who'd yell at me to obey my husband. I felt there was nothing I could do about my situation. After all, I had been taught all my life that I was pretty much worthless. And I believed it.

In 1995 we moved to Rochester, Minnesota, a city that was 96 percent white and rated one of the best places to live in the country. I was very excited because I thought I'd be able to socialize more. But even there, I was isolated. I wasn't allowed to make new friends - Kevin was too afraid to let anyone into our house because if they noticed the pamphlets or the books, they would know what we were. He didn't want me to take the kids to the YMCA because he said it was dedicated to the destruction of the white American family.

Kevin continued to do his radio shows for Pierce, and he let me take a job as a real estate agent. But after he wrote a letter to the editor that was published in the Rochester Post Bulletin advocating a racial breeding program, my boss fired me, telling me that he couldn't afford to have "something like this" going on in his office.

While we were in West Virginia, I was cut off from current events - no television, no radio, no newspapers. Although we still didn't have a TV in Minnesota, I was able to hear about what was going on in the world without having it filtered through Kevin. About nine months after the Oklahoma City bombing, I saw reports and pictures from the blast for the first time. I was horrified - it was so much worse than Kevin had made it out to be.

I finally began to step back and question his beliefs. Nothing he was saying could justify what had happened to those children. And I no longer accepted the idea that when the race wars came, I would have to kill the people I loved - like my favorite junior high school teacher who was Jewish; my best friend, a gay classmate who came out to me after we graduated; and even my brother, because he worked for the government.

All of it - the intimidation, my isolation, his anger and hatred - were wearing on me. I didn't think I could take much more. The final turning point came in November 1996. We were listening to the radio one evening and heard that a young couple had killed their baby, stuffing its body into a Dumpster shortly after it was born. I had just had my third child, Klara Vita (who was named for Hitler's mother), and I couldn't imagine anyone doing that to an infant.

Then Oskar tottered into the room and started asking questions about the news. Kevin turned to him and said, "It doesn't matter what happened to that baby because its parents were a gentile man and a Jewish woman. That baby deserved to die." At that moment, I realized I was married to a monster, and he was trying to make another monster out of my son. I started crying, and for months, I couldn't stop. I broke down completely and had to spend ten days in the hospital under psychiatric evaluation.

Kevin left me while I was in the hospital. He got temporary custody of the children due to my mental state. But by the time the hearing came around, I had gotten a low-paying secretarial job, and a judge ruled that I had to give Kevin $430 per month in child support. I ended up in debt to him for thousands of dollars.

As exhausted, frustrated, and scared as I was, I knew I had to fight back. In the hospital, I woke up to how restrictive my life had been and just how horrible Kevin was. He tried to have me committed during my breakdown and, after I got out, kept me from seeing my kids for nine months. I knew the longer I was apart from them, the harder it would be to save them. So two and a half years after the first decision, I went back to court and won joint custody. The judge also determined that Kevin had more money than he was claiming, so I got $61 each month in child support. The legal bills put me $22,000 in debt, but it was worth it.

Still, the custody battle continues. Kevin wants to move back to West Virginia with the kids, and I won't let him have them. They're in bad enough shape as it is. Oskar has been acting out in school. I'm sending him and Klara to therapy to deal with the trauma of going back and forth between their father's household and mine.

Kevin and I continue to battle about treatment for our younger son, Edgar. He was diagnosed with autism at age two, but missed out on crucial years of special education because Kevin wouldn't let him go to the school his doctor recommended. Kevin claimed the school promoted race mixing after seeing non-white kids in their posters and pamphlets. Thankfully, Edgar is doing much better now that he's in a special program for autistic kids.

I'm doing better myself. I've gone through psychotherapy, I'm in college full-time and I'm writing a book. Last year I met a radio producer named Brian Betsworth, and we got married on New Year's Day, 2001. His 11-year-old son, Tony, is with us every other weekend. I had never taken Kevin's name when we were married, but I took Brian's because I wanted to signal the start of my new life.

It's taken me a long time, but I now realize that hating people is just a sign you hate yourself. I don't want my kids to feel that way ever. I escaped from a world of anger and prejudice, and I need my children to know that I figured out what was happening and did my best to speak out. I want to protect Oskar, Edgar, and Klara from their father's beliefs and break the cycle of hate.

Kevin Alfred Strom: A rather boring NAZI who could speak for hours on 75m in praise of the KKK. He is a coward who lives in perpetual fear of the Southern Poverty Law Center and knows (or thought he knew) which lines he cannot cross to release their ire. But somebody found a skeleton in his closet.

Looks like something else, in addition to white sheets and tin foil hats turns him on. Have a good prison term, Kev.

In what way are the two connected? Besides the fact that the Waco whackos were given way too much time before the feds rolled in the armor. BTW, the whackos started the fires.

Strom's website is just plain weird, like the guy himself.

Jan. 4, 2007 - A leader of the white supremacist movement was arraigned today on charges of possession of child pornography and witness tampering after being arrested by FBI agents Thursday night at his home in Charlottesville, Va.

Kevin Alfred Strom, founder of the National Vanguard white supremacist group, was considered the leading intellectual of the movement since the death of William Pierce, the author of the notorious "Turner Diaires."

Strom was arraigned in U.S. District Court in Charlottesville, charged with the two counts, and is currently being held at a facility in the city. According to the indictment, he allegedly possessed or attempted to possess "multiple images of child pornography" on his computer's hard drive. Strom was also charged with witness tampering, which involved physically assaulting and mentally intimidating a witness to his criminal activity.

Last July, Strom took a leave of absence from National Vanguard, citing "family and health matters" and saying that he had "made mistakes, sometimes serious ones," according to the Southern Poverty Law Center, which tracks white supremacist activity. "After the death of Pierce, Kevin positioned himself to take over the leadership of the National Alliance," says Mark Potok, the editor of the SPLC's "Intelligence Report." "But he wasn't in the same position as Pierce and he didn't get the same respect. He was a wannabe and he was considered something of a wimp by other supremacists."

Strom wrote frequently about art and beauty, often rhapsodizing about the physical attributes of white women and girls. In an 2003 essay titled "Millstone for the Mogul" for the National Alliance's Web site, he condemned the producers of the movie "Thirteen" for "what they are doing to our little children - teen and preteen White children - to normalize perverse and degenerate sexual behavior for them, to normalize homosexuality, to prematurely sexualize them, and to make interracial sex fashionable to them - can never be forgiven, can never be explained away. The media moguls who are doing this to our children deserve to be tried and punished for conspiracy, rape, gang rape, murder and attempted murder."

White Supremacist Busted on Child-Porn Charge Leading Intellectual of Racist Movement Was Arrested by Federal Agents
By MARCUS BARAM

Jan. 4, 2007 - - A leader of the white supremacist movement was arraigned today on charges of possession of child pornography and witness tampering after being arrested by FBI agents Thursday night at his home in Charlottesville, Va.

Kevin Alfred Strom, founder of the National Vanguard white supremacist group, was considered the leading intellectual of the movement since the death of William Pierce, the author of the notorious "Turner Diaires."

Strom was arraigned in U.S. District Court in Charlottesville, charged with the two counts, and is currently being held at a facility in the city.
According to the indictment, he allegedly possessed or attempted to possess
"multiple images of child pornography" on his computer's hard drive.

Strom was also charged with witness tampering, which involved physically assaulting and mentally intimidating a witness to his criminal activity.

Last July, Strom took a leave of absence from National Vanguard, citing "family and health matters" and saying that he had "made mistakes, sometimes serious ones," according to the Southern Poverty Law Center, which tracks white supremacist activity.

"After the death of Pierce, Kevin positioned himself to take over the leadership of the National Alliance," says Mark Potok, the editor of the SPLC's "Intelligence Report." "But he wasn't in the same position as Pierce and he didn't get the same respect. He was a wannabe and he was considered something of a wimp by other supremacists."

Strom wrote frequently about art and beauty, often rhapsodizing about the physical attributes of white women and girls.

In an 2003 essay titled "Millstone for the Mogul" for the National Alliance's Web site, he condemned the producers of the movie "Thirteen" for "what they are doing to our little children -- teen and preteen White children -- to normalize perverse and degenerate sexual behavior for them, to normalize homosexuality, to prematurely sexualize them, and to make interracial sex fashionable to them -- can never be forgiven, can never be explained away. The media moguls who are doing this to our children deserve to be tried and punished for conspiracy, rape, gang rape, murder and attempted murder."

Later in the essay, he goes on to describe his desire to give children "self-respect, respect for their ancestors, respect for the future of their people, a deep respect for their own sexual nature, and respect for the members of the opposite sex who will be their mates and life companions."

Now that is just darn handy, finding some porn on his computer, isn't it? Makes one wonder in such high profile cases ...

And no, I don't think those women and children in Waco Texas deserved to die ... I do think clinton and reno should have spent prison terms for playing such a major role in their deaths--if for no other reason than just plain negligence, that seems obvious enough to me.

For years and years We warned our wayward brother Kevin Alfred Strom that he should not piss on The Father's Chosen People but he would not listen.

We warned him to leave the little girls alone. But he would not listen.

We warned him to stop jerking off at the keyboard. But he would not listen.

Now he is in his darkest hour and he is calling for us from the pits of hell. But we are not listening.

Kevin is now trying to explain his hatred of African-Americans to his newfound brother LeRoy but all LeRoy can hear is Kevin's squeals.

What you sow, Kevin, that also shall you rape -- er, reap.

And you know the best part about it????

Kevin is broke. His bulldyke wife is broke. He was tossed out of the National Alliance. He formed the "National Vanguard" -- which is broke. His friends, such as they are, are all broke losers.

This is a federal charge, he's in a local lockup in Charlottesville, VA
-- that's likely overcrowded and filled with the same people Kevin likes to hate. His bail is likely to be $100,000 or more.

No one can go his bail -- so -- he'll sit in jail until his trial, which could be months unless he works out a plea agreement.

Oh, wait a minute -- you think he'll be able to sit?????????????

BWWWAAAAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAAAAAAAA!!!!!!

Strangely enough, when I was 32, a little girl pulled herself up on the barstool next to me and asked me to buy her a drink. I offered her my opinion that she was not old enough to drink. She said, "I am too old enough to drink - I'm 16." This was New Orleans 36 years ago when the legal drinking age was 16 and the age of consent in Louisiana was 12. It was perfectly legal so don't pretend to be so shocked. :-)

Later, a Louisiana female politician introduced a bill to raise the age of consent to 18. One of the male politicians tried to attach an amendment to make consent mandatory at age 18. That's a true story.

The state of Louisiana didn't object when Jerry Lee Lewis married his 13 year old second cousin in the late 1950's. It was the British who objected.

(AP) Guards at the Charlottesville, VA jail where white supremacist and neo-Nazi Kevin Alfred Strom is being held are reported to have used cellphones to take photos of Strom's first encounters with the prison population.

For over a decade Strom has written and spoken publicly of African-Americans, Muslims, Hispanics, and other "non-whites" as "inferior races." Strom, who now shares a cell with several African-Americans, appears in these photos to be adjusting well.

At least the "National Vanguard" says so.

http://www.nationalvanguard.org/story.php?id=11227

V-News has learned that Kevin Strom, a former close aide to Dr. William Pierce, and a former member of Dr. Pierce's National Alliance, as well as of National Vanguard (from which he resigned in July 2006), has been arraigned on a serious federal charge related to child pornography.

We are confident that this charge -- which we became aware of from the mass media -- is totally without foundation, and came about because of a fractious divorce situation. Added to this is the fact that Kevin was threatened by a federal agent after attending a hearing for Chester Doles, another pro-White activist framed on bogus charges. The agent allegedly pointed his finger at Kevin and swore that "I'll be seeing you next."

For decades -- first as a leading member of the National Alliance, and later with National Vanguard -- Kevin has been a fearless, outspoken activist and speaker against Jewish supremacist power in America, and more recently against the abuse of the Constitution by the neocons and their friends in the federal government. Given the ongoing revelations of widespread abuse of detainees and others in the so-called "War on Terror," we have absolutely no doubt whatsoever that ruthless elements in federal "law enforcement" would stoop so low as to falsely charge a man like Kevin with a crime so heinous that they hope to divide him from his potential supporters and smear his message.

Kevin's message is becoming mainstream, with even former President Jimmy Carter openly criticizing Jewish power. Faced with a lost war in Iraq and the massive anger of the people of the United States over Third World immigration, people like Kevin have to be "neutralized" now, just like Ernst Zundel, David Irving, Matt Hale, Chester Doles, David Duke and so many others.

Those who we believe are setting Kevin up and suborning false witness against him are desperate, and in choosing such a horrific charge, we believe, are hoping to shut him up forever. Think: the accusations go against all Kevin has ever believed, and all that his life's work stands for. This situation looks like -- and we believe, is -- a total frame-up. However, many men have been falsely accused of similar charges in the past under the sad circumstance of divorce.

Make no mistake: ANY sexual abuse of children is antithetical to the very foundations of the worldview we stand for as a website and as an organization. In a pro-White nation any person found guilty after due process of such a crime would be executed. We are not making special pleas for Kevin or for anyone else. If Kevin Strom is guilty he should be dealt with accordingly. However, we DO NOT BELIEVE that the elements of the federal government involved are being honest about this case. We honestly believe that this whole scenario is a lie from beginning to end.

Don't forget, the federal government is a proven liar: from "Weapons of Mass Destruction" in Iraq to Dr. Pierce's supposed "role" in the Oklahoma City attack, this government has no qualms about twisting the truth. Just one look at the infamous COINTELPRO crimes of the 1950s to the 1970s -- the frame-ups, the smears, the murders of everyone from Black Panthers to pro-White activists -- shows the conscienceless criminality of many elements in power in America. Given the technical prowess of the regime today, mixed in with the open threats against Kevin, is there any wonder that we are seeing such a serious charge leveled against him?

Some badly misinformed circles are already crowing that this nonsensical charge signals the "end" of National Vanguard and V-News, despite the fact that Kevin is not a member of the group, and as if a charge against him somehow speaks against our organization. The strength of National Vanguard does not depend on any one person, but is upheld by the numerous men and women who are committed to the vision of White freedom.

The arrest of Kevin Strom is a crime against all free-thinking people in America. If a man is framed for political reasons, no matter what his views, then all of us are one step closer to the loss of all of our freedoms. One does not have to agree with Kevin, or support him, to see what is going on here.

VERY CURIOUS that you mention Prussian Blue!
In fact, there was a posting on another web board by someone called gaede. While it's validity is as of yet un-confirmed, it does offer a curious peek into the domestic lives of these white supremacist sloopheads inside of the trailer parks where they usually reside.

In short, it reads like a script from the Jerry Springer show....
(enjoy!)

--- cut ---

from: http://vnnforum.com/showpost.php?p=480505&postcount=15

"In October of 05 we were driving to Arizona for the NV Eurofest and Elisha called me on our cell phone. She was screaming hysterically and wanted me to relay a message to Kevin that "the phone had been shut off" and that " he didnt pay the damn phone bill". She also stated that she "wouldnt be here when he gets back, he always goes on these trips without me etc..." when we got to Phoenix we told Kevin and later he explained that the phone was not shut off,it just was not connected properly and so the connection was on and off and that he could explain to her how to fix it if she would call him.

A few months later when the Colorado and Florida guys were complaining about Kevin's lack of ability to get things out on time I mentioned to a fellow member that "maybe Kevin and Elisha are having marital troubles and that is effecting his work". I had long suspected that she had been deleting my messages from their answering machine and from his email and my articles from the National Vanguard submission account.
Kevin confirmed months later that she had access to all of this and that might have been where the articles or messages that I sent ended up. Anyway, this fellow member told another fellow member who in a "genious" move posted that info on the internet like it was fact.
Elisha hit the ceiling. I called to appologize but she wouldn't hear of it. I tried to appologize again in May at the NJ conference but she said " April, get away from me, I dont want to cause a scene here today". After all the scandelous lies that have been written about me, I thought she was overreacting, especially since my appology was sincere and since it was only stated out of concern for them and for our organization.

Then in March of last year Kevin called me and told me that Elisha had attacked him and slammed one of those big heavy old fashioned phones down on his head and he had to get 8 stitches. Also, he told me that she had destroyed several one of a kind Reviolo Oliver taped interviews in a fit of rage because they had his ex wife on them. He also then told me that she had found some porn on his computer and that is was of adult females but that she freaked out and called him a pervert. ( as a wife I kindof can understand her being pissed) Then he told me that she had threatened to "get even" with him and that he was afraid that she would plant something on his computer since she had been openly calling him a "pervert, child molester" in front of their daughter ( Elisha's biological daughter but Kevin's stepdaughter) At this point I told him that he should have reported her to the police for assaulting him and should tape the threats that she was making. He said that he wanted to " save our marriage" ....and that he had "caused her alot of pain when she saw that porn" and that he wanted to help her and that she was having some psychological self esteem problems at the time.

Now as a mother I have to ask. If this was true about Kevin and what she suspected, then why would she have continued to stay in the house with her daughter? And why was she hanging all over him at the NJ conference?? Also, why would he mention this to me in March then continue to have stuff on his computer???

The bad thing about these kinds of things is that even if a guy is innocent and is declared innocent in a court of law his reputation of forever ruined.

Like a PIGGIE!!! That's gonna be like an episode of OZ.

Vic and the boys will be crapping their pants...

Not that some of them aren't doing it already, due to health problems.

April Gaede is the girls' mother. She allowed her daughters to pose for a magazine intended for adult men like this:

http://resistance.com/catalog/popup_image.php?pID=1186&osCsid=40a44c75b1f8053179d2341c965293fa

Resistance is published by the National Alliance, where Strom was second-in-command under Pierce for a long time. I believe it's no wonder that he's facing the particular charges he is right now.
Especially considering what he had on his website in the past (photos of young girls, about 12, in bikinis, and in suggestive poses).

In response to the news that a U.S. Citizen has been charged with a crime, some respondents have published lurid posts which assume that all of the following are true:

1. Vigilante justice is OK when carried out against neo-nazis.
2. Men named "Ahmed", "Tyrone", or "Leroy" are disposed to commit homosexual rape.
3. Homosexual rape is a just and acceptable side-affect of being arrested.

It seems to me that Mr. Strom isn't the only one who has shown prejudice: the question of whether his overt racism is more dangerous than some others' preconceived notions is left as an exercise for the reader.

How soon we forget. Here's a quote from a late 19th century symposium on the age of consent for the various states in the USA. Strom seems to have been born a century too late.

"The age of consent varies from ten years to eighteen, being the latter only in Kansas and Wyoming. The limit is ten years in three States, twelve years in four, thirteen years in three, fourteen years in nineteen, fifteen years in one, sixteen years in twelve, seventeen years in one, and eighteen years in two."

A22, BOTSWANA (Ops Needed!). Frosty, K5LBU (aka-C91CF/7P8CF/3DA0CF), is once again trying to put a team together to operate from another African country. He thinks operating from Botswana (A22) for the IARU Contest in July would be a good place. The contest is July 14-15th, so Frosty thinks that 15 days total would be the best amount of time to operate (arrive on the 9th of July and depart on the 23rd). This would give them 2 weekends on the air. If he can find at least 5 or more operators to join him, he will set up 2 stations (one for CW, one for SSB and/or possibly one can be used for RTTY and PSK or whatever a person would like to run). If he can not find a good place in A22-land, Frosty might look at Lesotho (7P8) if they can get real callsigns and not portable ones. He states that Daniel, ZS6JR, will have to check both places out. If you are interested in joining Frosty, let him know ASAP, at: frosty1@pdq.net

CT9, MADEIRA ISLANDS (Lighthouse Activity). Members from Madeira Island Radio Club (ARRM) and operators Alfons/DJ8VC and Rudolf/HB9CQL will be active as CT9F from the Ponta do Pargo Lighthouse (DFP FMA-004, ARLHS MAD-005 and WLOTA LH-0053) on Madeira Island (AF-014, DIP MA-001), January 19-21st. Operators mentioned are Hermann/CT3FN, Rudi/HB9CQL, Alfons/DJ8VC, Jose/CT3MD, Luis/CT3EE, Tiago/CT3KU, Jose/CT3DZ, Jose/CT3KY, Luis/CT3DL, Joe/CT3BD, Duarte/CT3EN, Miguel/CT3IA, and other associates from the Radio Club. Activity will be on 160-10 meters, CW, SSB, RTTY and PSK. QSL via CS3MAD: ARRM, P.O. Box 4694, 9058 Funchal, Madeira Island.

DX0, SPRATLY ISLANDS (Update). Members of the Philippine Amateur Radio Association (PARA) and a group of JA operators will be active as DX0JP from the Pag-Asa Island, in the Kalayaan Island Group (AS-051), Philippines, February 3-13th. Activity will be on 160-2 meters, CW, SSB, RTTY and PSK, with a special emphasis on the low bands. Operations will also be on 6 and 2 meters (JT65 EME). JA team members include JA1BRK, JA1RJU, JF1IST, JA4DND, and JF2XGF, and the PARA operators are DU1EV, DU1BA and 4F2KWT. QSL via JA1HGY. EME QSO only via JA1RJU. Look for more info to appear nearer to the date on the DX0JP Web page at: http://www.dxcom.jp/dx0jp

DXCC NEWS. OPDX received a report that the 5X1RI operation should be approved for DXCC credit very soon. Documentation was mailed and possibly the approval announcement will take place this week. Stay tuned!

EY8, TAJIKISTAN. Nodir, EY8MM, will be active in the CQ 160-Meter CW Contest (January 27-28th) as a Single-Op/High-Power/Assisted entry. QSL via K1BV. Priority will be given to NA QSOs and New ones. See Nodir's Web page for skeds: http://ey8mm.codan.ru

HAMATLAS ON THE WEB! Darek, SP6NVK, informs OPDX that he has started a new ham atlas service on the Web after 4 years of work on it. This service contains the complete information on all 337 DXCC Entities, over 3000 pictures and 1100 maps. He hopes everyone will enjoy and be satisfied in using his service. The HamAtlas Web site is available at: http://www.hamatlas.eu/

HL8, SOUTH SHETLAND ISLANDS. Sang, DT8A, was on the air this past weekend as HL8KSJ from the South Korea's King Sejong Station on South Shetland Islands (VP8/h, IOTA AN-010). Activity was on 20 meters CW/SSB. The length of his stay is not known. QSL via HL2FDW.

IOTA NEWS.....
AS-093. Kang, DS4DRE, is currently active as DS4DRE/4 from Hong Island (ARLHS SKR-041, WLOTA LH-1528, WW Loc. PM24OR) until June 30th. Activity will be on 80-10 meters CW/SSB. QSL via DS4DRE (see QRZ.com).

JT, MONGOLIA. Khosbaya, JT1CD, announced this past week that licensed radio amateurs of Mongolia held a conference on November 18th and have now established a new organization. The name of new organization is the "Mongolian Amateur Radio Soceity" (MARS). MARS will officially represent Mongolia to the IARU and all amateur radio societies. MARS hopes that they can co-work together in the future. Once all licensed amateur radio operators of Mongolia have switched their membership from Mongolian Radio Sport Federation (MRSF) to MARS, they hope that they can change the name and keep IARU membership. MARS will continue to pay its dues to IARU and their QSL bureau will be working permanently in the future. Also, MARS will be providing Mongolian Amateur Radio Awards to the world's amateur radio operators. If there are questions, please feel free to contact the following:
President of MARS D.Bolor, bolor@ntc.mn
General Secretary N.Khosbayar, JT1CD, jt1kaa@mtcone.net
Secretary D.Nekhiit, JT2AN, jt2an@yahoo.com
Member of EC C.Chadraabal, JT1CO, jt1c@mongol.net
Member of EC S.Baatar, JT1BB, baatars@yahoo.com

KP2, U.S. VIRGIN ISLANDS. Bruce, KI7VR, will be signing KP2ZZ from the Island of St. Croix (NA-106, also count for WLOTA LH-2477) between January 24th and February 6th. Activity will be on 160-10 meters, mostly CW, with an emphasis on 160/80 meters each night. Daytime activity will be focused on 30/20/17 meters CW for the first few days, then some SSB. QSL via G4OOC (QRZ.com).

NCDXF PRESS RELEASE: "NCDXF announces new video! I'm pleased to announce a new video about the Northern California DX Foundation. This video explains the history of NCDXF and highlights the Foundation's many accomplishments, including our scholarship program, the sponsorship of DXpeditions, the NCDXF/IARU International Beacon Network, and support for the World Radiosport Team Championship (WRTC). Everyone will enjoy the footage from numerous Foundation-sponsored DXpeditions and even long-time NCDXF supporters will probably learn a few things they didn't already know about the Foundation's activities.
The video runs just under ten minutes in length and was produced by James Brooks, 9V1YC. DXers around the world are certainly familiar with the high-quality DXpedition videos James has produced over the years.
DVD copies will be available in the coming weeks, but the video is available now for viewing on-line under the "Videos" section of the NCDXF web site: http://www.ncdxf.org
It may also be viewed or downloaded from the Google Video site at the following URL: http://video.google.com/videoplay?docid=-1969114446660423090
Feel free to spread the word about this video. Thanks for your support of NCDXF! 73, Tim Totten N4GN, Director, NCDXF"

Any relationship between the German National Socialist Party and the U.S. Democrats is purely in your drug-addled brain. Your comment is further proof that you rightwingers have gone completely batshit.

I've never understood the 'socialist' part of National Socialist.. the Nazi party was about as far right as you could possibly get, and Hitler despised communism.

National Socialism exercises control over the means of production while leaving the ownership in private hands.

Communism exercises control over the means of production while claiming ownership of those means of production.

Capitalism leaves ownership and control of the means of production in private hands.

National Socialism and Communism are just two sides of the same socialist coin. They are more alike than they are different. If National Socialism and Communism are 180 degrees apart, then Capitalism is orthogonal to both of those socialist systems.

No, their parents killed them, just as if they stuck a knife in their back. They died because of their parent's gullibility, and their failure to protect them.

And I fear religious kooks like you.

Are you claiming Koresh was innocent? Even if he was before all the shit went down, after he and his deluded followers shot the feds, that ended any claim of being innocent. That his followers were too weak minded to save themselves is sad, but it was their choice. What exactly do you think the feds should have done, and how long should they have waited to finally go and end it?

They started changing long ago. The principal upon which things are currently working is that it is better to hang 100 innocents than to let a single guily person go free. Sad indeed.

By now everyone knows that Kevin Alfred Strom, WB4AIO, was arrested late last week on federal child pornography charges.

Several individuals have posted items to this newsgroup commenting on Kevin's arrest.

However, there is an important matter that was overlooked: An article in a local Virginia newspaper reporting Strom's arrest pointed out that federal agents removed "over 40 cartons" of documents from Strom's home. Feds also removed computers, computer disks, and associated computer equipment.

Now, stop and think about this for a minute.

Since he was in high school, Kevin has been closely associated with anti-Semitic, white supremacist, Nazi organizations and individuals. He was a close associate of William Pierce and was expected to take over the National Alliance after Pierce's death. Kevin's coup in which he attempted to take over the Alliance and purge it of his rivals failed, Kevin was ousted and, with his bulldyke wife Elisha, Kevin founded the "National Vanguard" with something like 50 - 80 members, none of whom paid dues.

But I digress. Kevin was not a stupid individual -- in fact, he was quite intelligent. He was also very detailed and organized. He kept notes and records of EVERYTHING. According to many who were close to him, Kevin wouldn't take a shit without recording the details.

So -- what do you think is in those 40 cartons and on those computers and disks the feds removed from Kevin's home?

How about:
-- names, addresses, e-mails, phone numbers, nyms?
-- mailing lists, donor lists?
-- user IDs and passwords for blogs, newsgroups, discussion groups, and bank accounts?

And for you 3950 Liberty Netizens -- what does Kevin have on you?

Did you ever make a donation to one of Kevin's causes?

Watch for the feds to modify the child pornography indictment against Strom to include racketeering, terrorism, and conspiracy.

And for those whose names are in Kevin's records . . .

According to what I've read, these dirndl-wearing cuties chose the name "Prussian Blue" in reference to their ethnc heritage and the color of their eyes. What's ironic is that Prussian blue, a pigment used in paints, is a cyanide compound.

Benevolent capitalism is not socialism. Ideally, the family capital is owned and controlled by the adults and benevolently shared with the children who should have little say in how the family capital is saved, invested, or spent. Families who practice socialism (equal rights and equal shares for children) are families in trouble.

> Any tribal, village, and other forms of gov't operate on socialism, the

The pilgrims tried socialism and almost starved to death.
Only when they converted to capitalism did they survive.
Socialism doesn't work because the lazy people don't work and the non-lazy people are cheated out of their return on investment - so why bother working?

Please don't blame capitalism for the existence of a breeding herd of welfare folk who believe the world owes them a living.
Socialism rewards failure - Surprise! More failures are breeding, more people are failing, and WE are paying for it. That's certainly not the fault of capitalism which is being squeezed out of existence by creeping socialism. Capitalism rewards success and penalizes failure. That's the opposite of what is happening today.

I saw a neat T-shirt the other day. Under a picture of Bill and Hillery appeared the words: Do Not Resuscitate!

> The windows in my car are smashed if I have to leave it parked in a > strange area overnight. My cars are stolen! People sneak into my back

Typical of people raised on governmental handouts, i.e. socialism at work. They have lived for generations under socialist handouts so they think your property belongs to them. That's the basic problem with socialism. Socialism says your life belongs to the state. Capitalism says your life belongs to you. Why are you choosing socialism, the very thing you are complaining about?

> One of my neighbors put up high a high iron fence, state of the art

Socialism rewards failure and punishes success. What do you expect?
Your successful neighbor is being punished. All of us successful folk are being punished. You are complaining about the fruits of present day creeping socialism and yearning for the past glory days of a more capitalistic society.

Uhhhh John, this nation has been getting less and less capitalistic and more and more socialistic for half a century or more. The "chicken in every pot" mentality is responsible. People raised under The New Deal, The Great Society, and Hillery's socialized health care concepts are demanding that you give up your chicken, exactly as was predictable from the start. Since you support socialism, why are you complaining about giving up your chicken?

I agree with this completely, at least in principle, but reality isn't perfect. Koresh's followers decided, or were forced by he and the rest of the cult leadership, to stay. Once people were shot, The feds weren't going to walk away, and Koresh and his deluded followers weren't coming out, and it went on and on, some people did come out, for whatever reasons, maybe they had a choice to stay or not. If they didn't, it's more blood on Koresh and the cult leadership's heads.

A great principle, but humans are never perfect, and when you're dealing with an insane person...nothing is easy.

Some things have changed for the better, some haven't. I would rather live today than 100 years ago, that's for sure.

RICHMOND - The arrest of Kevin Strom on child-pornography charges points up the need for "policing" of rightist ranks, as never before. According to an irate Travis Golie, pro-majority forces need to obtain "legal, accounting and spiritual guidance" and avoid hooking up with fatally-flawed activists. Strom, a former associate of the late William L. Pierce, who published the bombing-plans used by Tim McVeigh, was nabbed at his residence. His former and second wives had reportedly made incriminating statements against him and the unlawful material was found on his computer.

In the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, Strom had solicited donations, via the Internet, purportedly for "white" storm-victims. But, no public accounting was ever rendered and his associate, Frank Weltner, was shut down by a court-order obtained by the Missouri Attorney-General. Evidence had been introduced that all funds raised went into Weltner's personal account. Barry Hackney had once said that a competent and effective rightist needs "a lawyer, accountant and preacher," at his side, and that "using the system to change the system" is preferable to jail.

Numerous jailed-associates

Numerous Strom-associates have been jailed, such as Chester Doles, for being an ex-con in possession of an arsenal, James Burmeister, for murder, Todd VanBiber, for bomb-making, and Eric Hanson, for murder. Shaun Walker is awaiting trial for organizing violence and Larry Shumake was killed in a shoot-out with police. Strom peppered his website with photos of females, some as young as twelve, but never posted advice to follow the law, keep proper accounting or use a vocublary which might fend off lawsuits or prosecutions. He, also, never condemned lawlessness.

Strom, who had conducted Internet audio-clips in behalf of Pierce, had touted the line that rightists should ignore the law, advice taken by Alex Curtis, who was jailed for "hate," for calling for "finishing the job" done by McVeigh, over the Internet. Andrew Pearson countered that rightists need to promote "a positive message, rather than a primitive or criminal mind-set." After Pierce's death, Strom set up his own website from his residence in Earlysville, Virginia. He had, initially, claimed to have assembled a "board of directors," which broke apart after a brief tenure.

Prussian Blue isn't particularly toxic as the cyanide is very tightly bound to the iron. It's actually used to sequester ingested radioactive cesium and thallium.

Your problem is in thinking that what we have today is capitalism - it is not! Everything that you presently complain about is the result of creeping socialism and the breeding of welfare masses. We were more capitalistic in those good old days that you long for. Today failure is rewarded and success is punished. That is the opposite of capitalism.

Strom is a life-long, well-known white supremacist and Nazi.

Google "Kevin Alfred Strom" and read the material about him. Pay special attention to the articles from the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC).

His only contribution to amateur radio was to encourage a group of middle-age, lardassed, semi-literate wackadoodles to congregate every Saturday night on 3950 where they called themselves the "Liberty Net" -- and where they accomplished nothing except ruining a perfectly good frequency.

I don't use my legalname because I've never cared for it. That doesn't mean you won't find it on usenet, though -- you just have to look hard, and in the right groups. As for you, however -- you're an anonymous coward, as well as a stalker and homo-/biphobe, and I therefore anticipate an eventual Bobo Award nomination for you. For that matter, I think the Brown Clownpants Award, heretofore reserved solely for Ying Guo the Non-Existent (won on the basis of extreme cowardice in the face of a Perl script, and an utter lack of comprehensibility in hir posts), is one that may well fit you, and given that your continuing k00kdance has carried right on into 2007, I think this calls for a ruling from the Friendly Neighborhood Vote Wrangler. You are the very model of a chicken, even moreso than Joe Bartlo or Andy Chung, and your repressed homo- or bisexuality, in this day and age, is the essence of comedy.

Sounds good to me. I've never heard, or know of, a no-code ham doing anything worse than using incorrect "lingo". BFD. I've heard, and been the victim of extra class hams keying on top of me, ignoring me, etc, all because my call was after a certain date, and I might have been a no-code ham. I passed the code back in 73, that was enough for me.

OBSESSION: Radical Islam's War Against The West

http://www.obsessionthemovie.com

What The West Needs To Know

http://www.WhatTheWestNeedsToKnow.com

"People like Brigitte are plenty in the world,---"

Brigitte Gabriel is an expert on the Middle East conflict and lectures nationally and internationally on the subject. She's the former news anchor of World News for Middle East Television and the founder of AmericanCongressforTruth.com .

Universities, for those of us who lecture on campuses, are the battleground for the heart and soul of the next generation of leaders. It is the battleground where we must fight to win back the opinion and allegiance of American college students. This is made harder when Islamists in both the college and local communities try to intimidate us and deny our free speech on campuses in some of the least likely places. We have grown to expect these things on the major East and West Coast "elite" university campuses that harbor radical professors and anarchist student and radical Muslim community activities. But not in the heartland where I spoke last week at the University of Memphis. What was shocking was that it occurred in the South, in "Bubbaland" as my friends from the region call it. I was invited to give a lecture sponsored by Professor David Patterson of the Judaic Studies Program. When news about my appearance spread, the Muslim community both on and off campus launched a full-scale campaign to stop my lecture. They demanded that Dr. Patterson cancel my speech. E-mails flooded the University of Memphis administration and Dr. Patterson from Muslim students on campus and Muslims in the community and mosques.

Here are some of their comments:
"People like Brigitte are plenty in the world, they are the true enemies of Islam. And despite their rubbish talks, the truth about Islam is spreading like a wildfire across Americas and across the globe (All Praise to Allah)."

"Dr. Patterson, hosting of this lady is orders of magnitude worse than hosting of the Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan."

"Do you honestly think the scheduled lecture will serve any useful purpose other than inflaming the Muslims, insulting them and spilling poison in the community?"

It is interesting to see the reaction of the Muslim community to someone with Muslim shrapnel in her body who speaks against butchering innocent people in the name of Allah. If they would put the same energy into condemning the radical element within Islam and join us in saying that slaughtering people in the name of Allah is murder not jihad maybe we wouldn't question their loyalty as American citizens. Dr. Patterson refused to bow to their intimidation and insisted on going on with the scheduled speech.

By the time I showed up at the amphitheater-style lecture hall on campus, police officers were already standing at each entrance. Nearly half of the hall was filled with Muslims with their leaders dressed Osama bin Laden style sitting in the front two rows at eye level making "their point," that I wasn't going to get away with speaking freely. Just as the program was about to begin, a Muslim student walked to the front and asked the crowd to raise their hands if they believed that this lecture was "undemocratic." They complained that I would be taking questions on cards instead of allowing them to ask them publicly. Experienced in these settings, I knew they would make speeches, spew anti-American and -Israeli sentiments, and create chaos in the room during the Q&A. I decided that they were not going to do that. The provocative Muslim student behavior before I even began my lecture proved my foresight. Dr. Patterson explained that taking questions from cards distributed to the audience was normal protocol at university speaking events like mine.

Patterson tried to calm the unruly crowd, but nothing was working. Fed up, I went straight to the podium and ordered everyone to sit. I told them, this is my lecture and I run the show. If they didn't like the way I conducted my lecture and my questions they could leave the room, now. Shocked at my behavior and authority they shut-up. The non-Muslim members of the audience applauded. I finished, asked Professor Patterson to make introductory remarks and returned to my seat. Dr. Patterson introduced me by telling the audience what an eye-opener this lecture had become because of the reaction. He stated that he never realized that here in Memphis a speaker should be threatened for his/her safety just to speak on a college campus. He introduced me and I delivered my speech with police officers on both sides as well as about eight others in the lecture hall and around the building. Unknown to me, a Muslim student attending the University of Memphis was arrested weeks prior to my lecture for, among other things, possession of DVDs on pilot training and charts on the layout of the Memphis airport. They found links on his computer to sites associated with a radical Sunni Muslim organization in Iraq, and searches for information on how guns and bombs can be smuggled past airport security. After witnessing the Muslim reaction to my lecture and what happened few weeks ago at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, when an Iranian Muslim student drove into for Allah's sake innocent students gathering on university grounds, the Memphis police were not going to take any chances.

It is a sad state of affairs when any speaker on any American University campus has to be surrounded by police officers to protect their freedom of speech and person from intimidation and menace. America is the country where free speech is protected under our Constitution. Who would have expected that in the home of the Beale Street Blues, W.C. Handy and Elvis, I would be confronted by Muslims trying to muzzle my free speech, and perhaps all of us? At the end of the lecture, the Muslims immediately in front swarmed over me questioning and intimidating. Police officers quickly moved in and pulled me out straight to the police cars as the enraged Muslims started shouting. Based on what happened to me in Memphis, I think its time for Americans to wake up as to what is occurring within their very midst. It is time to be energized and empowered to stand up and fight to take back our universities. It's incidents like this that spur speakers like me to defend our civilization and everything it stands for.

Right on cue! Robert Wolfe needs competition, and I believe you are fit to be that competition, Wabbit. Indeed, I think you may have what it takes to turn the Mop Jockey into a greasy puddle.

Coward of the Month

Given to the most cowardly, yellow-bellied Usenet chicken of the month. Anyone who meets the current month's eligibility bar can get it; like the HL&S and the Palmjob Paddle, this award is not necessarily reserved for Kooks!

Those who hide behind pseudoanonymous sockpuppets, to say and do things they would not normally say or do as 'themselves', usually make good candidates; you can nominate either the sockpuppet or if you know the real name behind that person; either way, the sockpuppeteer gets just credit.

This award is also given to people who don't follow up on threats. Or respond to hard questions. Or other cowardly acts of which AUK can be convinced.

For his continuing campaign of laming Mark Morgan (and Lloyd Davies, Andy Timberlake, and others) for his bisexuality (and the fact that he's out of the closet, like me), his dyslexia, and his Paganism under a variety of frogging nyms and morphs, for lo these many months, I, Snarky, Supreme High Overlord of rec.radio.*, do hereby nominate for Coward of the Month the entity or collective entity known as "Wabbit" (in honour of his/their emulation of Roger "Woger Wabbit" Wiseman, or possible true identity as such).

So, let's re-cap Mark's wonderful life, as he tells it:

1) He was drafted into the US Army.
2) He is a member of the Chemical Corps.
3) The military won't let him retire.
4) He doesn't serve under the name 'Mark Morgan', but that's okay, 'cuz
the FBI, DOD, and CIA have all told him he can do it.
5) He is on-the-lam from stalking former marines and fatal attractionex-wives
6) He was, until recently, paying $5/hr. to access his ISP
7) He has a 248 IQ, but can't figure out how to use a spell checker.
8) He is a bi-sexual 33 yr. old Pagan male ham who likes to be spanked.
9) He can't find any action on the military base in Central IL, so he has to ask people on USENET.

Have I missed anything?

Oh, Wait! Mark recently said:

"they want to do soemthing I have never done before lead men in battle
the war is treching things quuit e abit
I tell em no hell no and no fucking way"

(One has to wonder what the war is "trechings"??)

Wouldn't shock me at all. He's mighty odd, to say the least. Maybe he's into all the stuff his idol Hitler was supposed to be into.

Doesn't matter, he won't deciding what his sexual activities consist of

There was one guy, can't remember his call up North of here who was sent a warning letter about "deliberate interference" for keying up over NCTs, and he continued his nonsense until he got whacked for a few thou,

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

Dyslexic, so he says. By now, I'm inclined to assume he either can't use a spell-check, or else considers it to be too much trouble. He's a bit stupid or inconsiderate that way, but Wabbit, OTOH, is simply vile. His foam is entertaining, however.

TEH WAY OF THE K00K
Never learn from your mistakes.

Always practice your mistakes; you may get them right.
Always pick on those smarter and tougher than you.
Always believe that only you know the TRVTH.
Never allow logic or reason get in the way of a good k00k.
When being overwhelmed by logic and reason: k00ksuit!
If you are going to be wrong, do it at the top of your lungs.
When caught in a lie: LIE!
When in doubt: Order the Crab Won Ton
Plagiarism is your friend. Use it.
Whenever contradicted; morph, start calling people names, and make false accusations. Include the children of your target in your allegations, even if they don't have any.
(06-Jun-05) When nobody else will listen, post to your own fan group.
(06-Jun-05) Obviously, since you have your own fan group, this must mean that you have fans. Post prolifically to your fan group - you wouldn't want to disappoint them!
(10-May-2005)Everyone reads usenet. Approval here means approval everywhere.
Post numerous blank posts, or posts containing only a message id.
Post numerous copy&paste web articles from crackerpot websites.
Never forget to call kookologists "k00ks."
If there are several, call them "sockpuppets" too
When all else fails, accuse various and sundry kookologists of e-mailing viruses to you. This is a sure-fire method of garnering sympathy and ensuring that the General Public will always see things your way. An especially effective sub-strategy here is to accuse them of infecting you with the 'Sasser' worm via e-mail.
Quote notorious scientists or writers - it makes it look as if they approve the drivel you are writing!
(9-Jul-05) Anytime your computer is infected with a virus, bogged down by spyware, attacked over your internet connection, or otherwise suffers from preventable problems, government agencies are responsible and are trying to silence you and are monitoring your computer files.
Ignore all traffic signs and feel free to trespass, you don't have to obey any rules.
Scare your enemies with lawsuits, police escorts and whines.
Always back up your empty (albeit noisy) threats with phony LARTs, false police reports, and harassing letters to the FBI and other gubbermint agencies.
Be vigilant in your redundancy. The more you repeat yourself, the more likely others will believe you!
If you can't find anyone as crazy as yourself to support you in the flamewars you start with the normal population, create sock puppets and use anonymous remailers that shamelessly hang on every word you write.
(17-Mar-05) When dealing with law enforcement, remember that it is they who have the problem, not you. Be sure to inform them of this at every available opportunity, as they will surely appreciate your constructive criticism. Be sure to make them aware that YOU KNOW YOUR RIGHTS! ("The cops like that, when people know their rights. That way they don't have to read them to you on the way to the station." - George Carlin)

The more your fake personalities adulate you, the more respect you'll get!
When confronted with a reality that you don't like: Announce loudly that you are departing, never to return as long as there's an Internet. Come back in three or four days and claim you were drunk, hacked, abducted by alience, or forged. Alternately you can just not even mention your prior departure, and if anyone asks you about it, either ignore them or respond with something along the lines of "YOUR NOT THE BOSS OF ME! PLONK!" People really know you mean business then.
Always remain clueproof.
(20-Mar-05) Anyone who does not believe that you are the reincarnation of [$DEITY_OR_PROPHET] is obviously an infidel lacking in faith whose soul in in peril of everlasting damnation.
When responding to one line challenges, post paragraphs of rants and screed in response.
Incoherency is not a roadblock to poasting.
Neither is illiteracy.
Delusions poasted often enough become fact.
Claim you will destroy <insert newsfroup> for attacking you.
When spnaked, send cmsg for Fanboi newsfroup(s).
Find your Lame, Use your Lame, Be your Lame!
Post Edit when the TRVTH hurts.
Always sneck the offending newsfroups.
Always poast pictures of yourself so you can be admired in all your k00ky glory.
Always accuse others of the very acts you are guilty of.
Post lots of boasts about your high IQ and incredible talents.
(20-Mar-05) If you repeat a lie often enough, it becomes the truth.
Anybody who fails to understand this is engaged in a deliberate campaign of misinformation and character assassination.
Always <plonk> somebody just before replying the plonkee!
The k00k considers itself the most intelligent person in any conversation, possibly on the planet. Other people are benighted and ignorant, and have been waiting their whole lives for the k00k to rescue them from intellectual darkness.
Write a self-published book and claim it a success. Bonus points for comparing it to "Mein Kampf" and/or the Bible.
Declare yourself equal to a deity of your choice.
Claim that you've come from other planets.
Claim thousands of past lives.
Frothing complaints carry far more weight when you send them from "legal@" some domain.
Nothing strikes terror into the hearts of your detractors more than telling them that you're archiving their messages for possible use in the future.
Never forget that everyone else posting to Usenet is a paid disinformation agent looking to discredit you.
Usenet is governed by US law. If a poster in Romania killfiles you, he's obviously violating your 1st Amendment rights and can be sued.
Every news admin in the world hangs out in NANAU, and they're just dying to nuke the account of that meanyhead who just called you "fucknozzle".

Drop 'em a line - that's what they're there for, after all.
AUK will be closed down. Just you wait and see.
They've nuked hundreds of accounts in the name of free speech and
yours will be next.
The k00k will, without any trace of irony, lie, manipulate, impersonate, censor, and declare themselves powerful in ways ranging from the ability to have an account shut down to being God Herself, in order to convince people that they are not liars, manipulators, censors, or insane.
Abuse women while telling how many hundreds you've loved. Nevermind that you're one ugly motherfucker and that there were 30,000 femininas that thought you were a scumbag with bad teeth.
Remember that your ko0ky klaims are 'facts', and that 'facts' do not require proof.
Do not neglect to poast your responses to forums that the originator doesn't read. This will make the people in that forum very impressed with how you tear him to shreds without him being able to respond. They like it even better if you are off-topic for that forum.
Keep in mind that lack of evidence supporting your konspiracy theory actually _is_ evidence, of how effective the konspiracy is in hiding.
(06-Oct-05) When spanked, always retreat to the safety of the Ad Hominem.
(04-Aug-2005) When spanked mercilessly for days on end, proving with each poast just what an illiterate and ignorant fool you are, ALWAYS claim ownership of [person(s),froup(s)]. This works on so many levels.
It inspires dread in your opponents that they will no longer be able to poast in their home froup and that they will eventually have to pay rent, to name just two.
Any problems with your poasts are the fault of the konspirators, who are trying to stop you from preventing the extinction of humanity.
Konspiracies that are able to subvert whole governments are always unable to silence konspiracy ko0ks.
The entire United States government is willing to spend millions of dollars for the sole purpose of harassing you.
Hollywood is making movies based on your personal life.
Do not consult psychiatrists or other mental health professionals. They are part of the konspiracy, and will sedate you and lock you away and keep you drugged if you tell them the truth.
Numerology and Astrology are respectable sciences and are useful for proving your case.
Everyone is Tim Hill, or David Green, or...
There is a fine line between trolling and kookery. Find that line and cross it repeatedly. When you are killfiled and/or LARTed for net.abuse as a result, claim victory. If you lose multiple accounts, this merely proves that you are indeed a world-class troll, with a black-belt in manipulation.
If you respond to every post someone else makes, they're obsessed. If they respond to less than 1% of your posts, they're even more obsessed.
Publishing people's real names, addresses, and phone numbers when there's no other way for you to come out of a flamewar with any dignity is cool, and proves that you are a master of secret internet information stores, and absolutely not to be fucked with.

Everyone is out to get you. You can put a stop to this by telling everyone that they're out to get you at every available opportunity.
You are the only sane one.
Those that give you a hard time about morally bankrupt things you yourself admit to are just persecutioners of the new inquisition.
Yelling in all caps and cursing at your detractors is debate. Your detractors laughing at you with sarcastic remarks is obvious anger and jealousy.
If doing something results in the loss of your account, legal hassles, or blunt trauma injury, do it again. It always works better the second time.
Asterisks, lots and lots of Asterisks.
Poking holes in kookscreed is stalking, and is a felony.

No, he (Mark) was deemed too boring to be worthy of any attention from AUK (though he didn't get placed in the Galactic Killfile by the FNVW (an executive appointment only -- he's a cruel dictator, but fair, after his fashion), it'll take some serious campaigning on his part to win eligibility (i.e., a seconded nomination and support from the FNVW) for any other awards) last summer, so he won the Golden Killfile instead.
However, his frogger(s) (you have to look closely, but all of the other's posts are non-replyable, thus he evades breaking the TOS with his ISP) has(have) been singularly cowardly in his(their) refusal to post his(their) crap under his(their) own name(s), thus he is/they are nominated (and validly seconded) for Coward otM.

REQUEST FOR DISCUSSION (RFD)
moderated group rec.radio.amateur.moderated

This is a formal Request For Discussion (RFD) for the creation of the moderated Usenet newsgroup, rec.radio.amateur.moderated.

NEWSGROUPS LINE: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

rec.radio.amateur.moderated Amateur radio practices, rules, etc. (Moderated)

RATIONALE: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

rec.radio.amateur.moderated is a moderated alternative to the existing rec.radio.amateur.misc and rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroups. The rec.radio.amateur.misc newsgroup is chartered to discuss amateur ("ham") radio practices, contents, events, rules, etc., including anything related to amateur radio not specifically covered by another rec.radio.amateur.* newsgroup. The rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroup is chartered to discuss ham radio rules, regulations, and policy. Over the past several years, the traffic on both groups has become largely flame wars, spam, and personal ad-hominem discussions of past, present, and future violations and violators, having little or no bearing on amateur radio. Polite requests by serious group posters to the offenders to refrain from such behavior have not resulted in elimination of such behavior and has in fact resulted in another series of flame wars. As a result, many knowledgeable and concerned posters in both groups have ceased being active therein.

Prior to the deterioration of rec.radio.amateur.misc and rec.radio.amateur.policy, both groups had active discussion of their chartered topics. It is expected that offering a moderated group will persuade those who formerly participated to resume their participation in rational, focussed, and informed discussion. Proper moderation will enable serious postings to the group to remain on topic while not limiting who can voice opinions or what opinions can be voiced.

Combining the topics of the unmoderated rec.radio.amateur.misc and rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroups into a single moderated newsgroup is offered as the most practical solution for both the moderators and the participants at this time. This proposal does not necessarily presume that any other rec.radio.amateur.* newsgroups and their topics require moderated alternatives at this time.

CHARTER:

rec.radio.amateur.moderated is for the discussion of amateur ("ham") radio. It is not limited to the rules of any one country or time period. Possible topics include past, present, and future operating practices; events; contests; past, present, and potential-future rules; power limitations; authorized frequencies; allowed modes and band plans (or other gentlemen's agreements) that govern how we are to operate;
what constitutes the acceptable operation of amateur stations.

General communications law or government policy of various government agencies is also on-topic, as long as the discussion relates to amateur radio. Examples would be emergency communications, local antenna restrictions, and property deed restrictions applying to operation of amateur radio stations.

Discussion of other type of radio, such as Citizens Band, Broadcast, other Personal Radio Services, Commercial or Private Land Mobile, and Marine or Aviation services are off-topic, except when directly related to amateur radio. Similarly, discussion of methods violating applicable communication law and regulations concerning radio equipment or operations are off-topic.

The following are prohibited:

* Personal advertisements.
* Commercial advertisements and money-making schemes.
* Chain letters.
* Posts in HTML.
* EMP spam.
* Binaries, apart from PGP signatures, X-Face headers, and other ancillary article meta-data.
* Forgery of valid e-mail addresses.
* Excessive morphing/nym-shifting.
* Copyright violations. Pointers to news articles, blogs, etc. on this topic are welcome but are required to comply with fair use standards.
* Personal attacks and flames, as defined by the moderation team.
* Advertising items and/or services for sale.
* Links to "objectionable" web content, including pornographic sites, sites encouraging illegal activities, or sites deemed unacceptable
by the moderation team.
* Discussion of moderation decisions. See below for information on appealing moderator action.

Secure, Team-Based Usenet Moderation Program (STUMP)

MODERATION POLICY: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

A moderation robot will scan all submitted posts. Each post will be either automatically approved, rejected, or sent to the moderators for manual review. The moderator 'bot will enforce the following guidelines:

* Crossposting is generally not allowed, with the general exception of crossposts of bulletins, FAQ's, and other informational articles to rec.radio.info, rec.answers, and news.answers. Infrequent administrative crossposts may occasionally be allowed at the sole discretion of the moderator.

* Postings must be in plain text. In particular no HTML or mixed text and HTML posts will be allowed. Messages that are multipart/alternative will be automatically filtered to pass just
the text/plain version to the newsgroup.

* No binary postings of any sort will be accepted. Exceptions will be made for cryptographic signatures and such.

* Messages must not have a 'Followup-To' header that points out of rec.radio.amateur.moderated (other than to "poster").

* Messages must not continue a thread that has been "closed" by the moderators.

Individual posters may be temporarily banned for consistently violating the group charter. Posters who feel that their posts have been unfairly rejected or banned by a specific moderator may appeal the decision by contacting the Appeals Board, consisting of a rotating group of 2 or more moderators, at the Administrative Contact address below. The Board will discuss and vote on the appeal and respond within 14 days if the appeal is successful.

Multiple temporary bans, attempting to circumvent the ban, or abuse of the appeal system may result in a permanent ban.

Consultant: Cecil A. Moore, W5DXP <Cecil.A.Moore@ieee.org>
Consultant: Phil Kane, K2ASP <k2asp@arrl.net>
Consultant: Brian Short, K7ON <k7on@comcast.net>

The moderators are seeking additional candidates for the moderation team in order to ensure minimal posting delays and to avoid any appearance of bias. We would especially like to find moderators in other time zones, countries/continents, etc.

END MODERATOR INFO

PROCEDURE:

For more information on the newsgroup creation process, please see:

http://www.big-8.org/dokuwiki/doku.php?id=policies:creation

Those who wish to influence the development of this RFD and its final resolution should subscribe to news.groups.proposals and participate in the relevant threads in that newsgroup. This is both a courtesy to groups in which discussion of creating a new group is off-topic as well as the best method of making sure that one's comments or criticisms are heard.

All discussion of active proposals should be posted to news.groups.proposals.
To this end, the 'Followup-To' header of this RFD has been set to this group.

If desired by the readership of closely affected groups, the discussion may be crossposted to those groups, but care must be taken to ensure that all discussion appears in news.groups.proposals as well.

We urge those who would like to read or post in the proposed newsgroup to make a comment to that effect in this thread; we ask proponents to keep a list of such positive posts with the relevant message ID (e.g., Barney Fife, <4JGdnb60fsMzHA7ZnZ2dnUVZ_rWdnZ2d@sysmatrix.net>).
Such lists of positive feedback for the proposal may constitute good evidence that the group will be well-used if it is created.

too much trouble and the mispeling serve a purpose in the NG my posts are intended for since the subject has been testing for Morse Code use in real time, and allowing the my normaly mispeeling unchecked shows that if I did somehow mange to learn Morse Code for such a purpose I could never use since what you see on USENET has some proofing what I would send using ham radio could have none thus every sentence posted helps make the point that those claiming anybody can use morse efffectively are worng first the timing of this proposal would seem to indicate that the makers of the of are unable to deviler the proposed NG in a timely manner as this was first being discussed in July 2006 with a promised delveiery date of falll 2006 as can be by this being JAN 2007 I find it highly dubious that the ng can in fact function in timely if it can't be rolled out in a timly manner

the charter would exclude materail from the general topic of comuncation by RF which means it can't not truely further the interestes of the Topic amateur except in reinforcing the insular view held by some Hams that Ham radio exists in total isolation from the rest of RF

the pronent has hardly been in RRAP in year

amoug the moderators areis at least one individual that has taken part in the flaming ot flaming of myself that being WH2T posting material insiting that I must be mental ill by distorting the works of the AMA and APA indeed was part of the fuel thrown on the flame
none of the llist a single repsentive form the largest class indeed all seem to be respentives of one the smalest class of US licnse holder which certainly inpsires no confendince that the interest or view point of the 90 of the holder of Us Ham tickets will be respected, nor do ANY of the moderator show to my PERSONAL knowledge any real signs of being knowledge of, let alone sympathetic to the interest of the tech/vhf and up user of Ham Radio

the body consists of people largely unknown to a comon poster over many years what poster I know something NONE comes from that gruop that thinks Code USE is not good for the ARS not merely testing and as far as I know only one was even a member of NCI or the NoCode test movement in general

what apears is an effort to establish another version of Good old boys club (in literal sense as well as figuritly) to at least partails replace the one that NCI has recently otherthwon

I honestly don't see where the new gruop is needed. indeed now that the current issue has been settled we already see signs of claming and a setttling down even the return of some poster that had abesnted themselves the cuase truly of the normal sniping geting out of hand is it becoming obvois that one side was wining the Code debate which had caesed being a deabte but a ralling cuase where both side had to contiue to keep the follow interested excetra and some of the parties resorted to same sort of negitive campaigning that we see in the outer world in politics

I must furth object to insiting the the proposals be required as it is NOT carried by my prefered provider

I don't see a valid reason to object for this reason. This was in progress for quite some time and the fact that we didn't rush out and file the RFD before we felt we where ready seems like a good thing to me.

How so? As I read the RFD (which I helped draft) discussions of Ham Radio as compared and contrasted to other types of service are not considered off topic as long as there is a connection of interest to Ham Radio.

No single moderator will control the group and if you have any difficulties with a moderation decision, you have the ability to appeal said decision to the whole team. The point of the proposed moderation is not to control the viewpoint expressed, but to keep things on topic and useful to the readers.

I don't understand why this is an issue. No code testing is now the reality and soon will be the law of the land. Why the FCC did or did not retain this or what my personal feelings are about it does not enter into the decision to allow a post or not on the proposed group. I think the folks who have signed up thus far all would agree that this is not an attempt to limit discussion to our own viewpoint, but an effort to keep things on topic and useful by eliminating personal attacks and some of the real trash that gets posted here.

Great proposal.

Can't wait to cast my vote for the affirmative.

The only dissenting opinion you'll find are those who wish to spew their sewage into a forum like such, and will otherwise be shut out from doing so.

and yet if someone has to appela many or most discision made by a

The followups in the original RFD were directed to news.groups.proposals and ONLY to news.groups.proposals for a reason: That group is moderated. Hence, I trimmed that moderated newsgroup from this thread, because this thread is not presently following the no crossposts protocol.

The discussion has just begun, and already you people are incapable of following directions.

Indeed, Mark Morgan is correct that a search of Google Groups reveals that Paul W. Schleck has NOT been a user of the groups he proposes to rescue. As a non-user, his credibility will be hurt with the Big 8 Board if they continue with their past behavior. However, the suggested moderators are not strangers to the rec.radio.amateur news groups, and that should help immeasurably.

But Mark has an axe to grind and actually fears the creation of a moderated group. That's one of the reasons that I will file a proper comment to news.groups.proposals in favor of the creation of the new group. I would like to see abusers like Mark lose their ability to destroy any rec.radio.amateur news group at will. Should rec.radio.amateur.moderated be approved, that will be a group which cannot be vandalized by his kind.

There will be no impact on anyone using rrap or rram, because both of those groups will continue "as is." According to the RFD, the new group will be an additional group in which noise suppression by means of a robot will at first be attempted. I see no reason for anyone to oppose the creation of such a group, and I can see that there is at least the possibility that it will turn out to be an asset to the amateur radio community.

So I say, yes! Go ahead and give it a try. Only kooks can possibly feel threatened by its creation. I will shortly post an affirmative comment in news.groups.proposals.

Also note that, by posting your comments only to news.groups.proposals, you will assured that people like Mark can't try out what they call "thread hijacking." The vandals are powerless there.

that makes the lack of fairness of the result obvious from before we Again, I don't understand your objections for a number of reasons.

First, I'm finding it difficult to wade though your post and determine exactly what you are trying to say. (I think there is some spelling and gramar issues that are causing me problems, so forgive me if I get something wrong here.) Second, this group is not moderated so my failure to attempt to moderate (by objecting to what he posted) a poster in this group is a reason you would not support a moderated group? That doesn't make sense to me. Had I come out and railed against all the trash that gets posted here it would be used to bash the proposal just because my name is on the proponent list? I don't read all the trash that gets posted here mainly because it's not worth the time to sort through all the garbage, I'm sure I'm not alone. This is the reason I started to work on this RFD months ago. Given this, how can a failure to denounce specific posts be used as reason to reject this RRD?

Second, are you saying that you don't think the criteria used to evaluate prospective postings are acceptable or that you don't think it will be used fairly?

Given our past discussions, it seems that you want your cake and to eat it to... On one hand you want me to openly object to content in these unmoderated groups, but on the other you are afraid of having your view point squashed by the establishment of a moderated group being created.
Nowhere does the proposed policy list "disagreement with the moderator's personal views" as grounds for rejection of posts.

You and I have had debates on these forums in the past. I cannot speak for the whole team, nor can I address posts of yours I haven't read, but I don't seem to recall any of your posts that I would have rejected based on the conditions in the proposed RFD. I certainly don't agree with many of the view points you may have, but we can still have a meaningful debate of the facts, agree that we don't agree, and move on without having to get into nasty personal attacks.

Further, these forums will not be changed by this RFD should it be approved. They will continue to be as they are now, free for all to post what they want. The only thing that will change is that there will be a new place that will hopefully be a lot less garbage to wade through so meaningful debate can more easily take place.

You can't be serious. Why not include you? Because your objectionable and continually disruptive behaviour preceeds you, Mark. Your record with QRZ is one indicator, but the other, and worst, is that you were summarily banned from the very bottom-feeder of groups, the Nim Busters board.
Your vote and/or comments is just what a new, moderated group does NOT need.
YOU are exactly what a moderated group is, by design, intending to prohibit.

You are solely responsible for your bed of thorns, Mark. Now lay in, accept it, and stop whining.

It's likely worth pointing out that their "ability to deliver" actually rests on outsiders.

This isn't a popularity vote (and of course this isn't yet a vote). The process is about ensuring that not yet another unneeded newsgroup is created. So while I forget the exact proportions, a Call for Vote requires not just sufficient votes in favor, but those votes have to be greater than the no votes. And unlike those particularly interested in the topic at hand, the no votes can come from everywhere, because yet another newsgroup requires more resources, and the voting process is to filter out the unneeded.

So a vote, if it gets that far (and getting to a vote also depends on those outsiders), will require not just convincing hams to vote for it, it requires convincing outsiders that there is good reason not to vote against the new newsgroup.

I should also point out, while I'm posting, that you'd actually want disinterested moderators. Because then they'd be filtering the junk, and not being concerned with what is being said beyond making sure it's not off-topic. "Balanced" moderators may be worse than disinterested moderators.

you missed it I object to the fact that one of the pronent (paul) of the moderated aserts from himself preveledges that he attacks me for for when I do the same thing

particaularly when this person proposes to be a moderator

I object in toincluding in the moderation team another moderator that has particpated in the Gay bashing that has been used to detail RRAP problem in the first place

I don't know that I understand the criteria so I don't know/. some RRAP poster such Dave Heil have argued that My sexuality is relavant to RRAP as somehow reflecting on my trustworthness and other charter related isses I conceed he has SOME point in this but how your crtieria would deal with this I don't know. Given the inclusion in the moderating team a man that has expressed strong antiBLGT views I don't realy excpect even handed treament

I also supect in the case Ace they will not be aplied fairly. How can I expect to be treated fairly by man that has called me MENTAL ILL in in RRAP based on his relisous convicttion that define my sexuality as as sinfull etc

where I recall post of my own that I would HOPE you would rejected I would also HOPe that I would not find need to resort to those tactics

Indeed from reading Ruals Post I believe I am personaly am one of the targets of this effort. Indeed Paul seem to begin to complain about RRAP when I choose to finaly RESPOND in something like kind to the treatment that he began to object I can recall posts and private email from Pual derected at my posts and I saw no posts from him comending

the posts that drove to those unpleasent tactics

I would hope so but I have have based on past interaction serious issues with ACE concerns about Paul and don't have any meory of interactions to give confindence in yourself or knowledge of the rest.

I have a friend that works for PERSCOM in Alexandria. Well find out if Markie is FOS, but I suspect like a majority of sexual deviants, and considering all the free time he has to post to the NG's, Markie is probably an under acheiver just like Woger and Lloyd.

it is lie the problem is not of My making at all. It results from Steve to go stlaking ing into my life bring up something I never would deny and try to balckmail me with he then moved on to making death threats about it

I certainly did nothing to deserve being blackmailed nor do I deserve to be harrassed by the like of you who I hope but doubt would be excluded by the proposed moderation which is the topic of this thread dispite your efforts at threadjacking

no one deserves to be threatened with MURDER and meyhem and harrased for many simply for being Bisexaul and out of the closet my principle objection to the proposal is that one of the proposed mods is guilty of gay bashing HERE in RRAP another the listed prime author is guilty of aserting preveldges for himself that he has tried to deny others

I have no real obection to a moderated gruop but I object to one moderated unfairly as I expect this proposal to result in if adopted in its present form

Markie,

First, I am not forging anything. Where have I represented myself as that mutant Lloyd??? Second, Lloyd knows who I am because I told him who I was seven years ago, way before your stupid ass showed up on this NG, he still whines about my NG identifier although even he can figure out its a parody. Third, I don't know who "Robeson" is, or care about his purported rules. Last, my posts are not a lie, nor do they need to be, I will call my friend that works in the Hoffman Building to find out what I already think is true. That your are a lying POS deviant under-acheiver who spends all of your time on the internet lying about some make believe military service, but nevertheless, time will tell.

Mark, you constantly stick your big nose where it's not wanted or needed.
You deserve what you get. You don't know when to/can't keep your mouth shut.
You remind me of the little punks at school who hid behind the principle all day talking shit, knowing all the while that when they left school walking home that they would get the shit pounded out of them. Then the following day, it all started over. That Mark, is you. You're only saving grace is that this us Usenet, and no one can touch you. And Mark, yes, that is a problem in your mental makeup. Now, the big kids are tired of you, and they are making their own Mark-free zone, and it pisses you off. Well, just consider that being similar to the cool kids playing sports. You can't make the team. Get over it and move on.

Oh well, life is funny that way. Get used to it. You cannot change what help with the moderation tasks.

I would not expect that any of this would be "in play" in a new group.
Read the proposed criteria and decide for yourself. I for one don't intend to be heavy handed in the moderation. Stay on topic and be respectful to others and I'm not going to reject your posts.

<snip>> > Nowhere does the proposed policy list "disagreement with the > >moderator's personal views" as grounds for rejection of posts.

Thus the appeals process. I don't expect that we will always get it 100% right the first time, but I hope we can keep things in the center of the road most of the time by getting a number of folks all looking at it objectively.

> >You and I have had debates on these forums in the past.
> have we realy? I honestly don't recall any

Perhaps we haven't, but I thought I was responding to a different person "an old friend" with whom I recall having a few debates over the last year.

> > I cannot speak

> would also HOPe that I would not find need to resort to those tactics

I hope that if the RFD ends up generating the new group that merely the threat of being moderated would keep things under control and the actual moderation task will be very limited.

Having been involved in the formation of the RFD and involved in the debate of the moderation policy, I don't think any of these personal issues matter to the proposed group and certainly is not part of any discussions the proposed moderators have had by my mail records. I for one would not stand by and let personal differences knowingly impact moderation decisions by me or others in the team. This is why the appeal process in the RFD was included and why we are even now appealing for more volunteers to help with the moderation tasks.

That's correct; sequestering agent = chelating agent = complexing agent.

that is a hope but given the behavoir HERE of a number of the worst

Sounds like him. Lots of CAPS, use of "summarily" and ordering you to lay in you "bed of thorns." Sheesh. I think all he learned from the USMC was the drama from the guys in the campaign hats. Or from watching too "Stripes" once too often.

> any coment of the propoasol for moderation BB?

We've gone from Paul talking about this stuff a year ago to "POOF!" a whole list of moderators and consultants, many of whom I've never heard of and the others posting very infrequently, complete with a constitution, articles of incorporation, and rules of enagement.

So when did all this happen?

And wh6hz thinks he gets to vote! Hi, hi!

Look, pinhead: Contrary to your constant whining, this newsgroup IS NOT ABOUT YOU!!!! Yet that is exactly what you have tried to make of it.

I don't give a damn about your feud with Robeson, but I do know that I did give a damn when you and Robeson repeatedly flooded these newsgroups for over 18 months in a "mine is bigger than yours" pissing contest. You started it, and then others joined in, including Wiseman. I've been watching this whole fiasco since the beginning, and I know beyond any shadow of a doubt that you are a major reason for the problems in rrap. Robeson eventually responded in kind to your provocations, giving you what you so badly wanted -- attention -- while the rest of the users of the group were deprived of its reasonable use.

On several days, your combined posts exceeded 300 per day, and all of them were trash.

As far as you have been concerned, Mark, this newsgroup is solely about you and your vendetta, and so:

- You whine that someone attacked your sexuality when only you seem to think that such an attack has been made. You use the sexuality claim in the same way that others use the word "racisim" when it doesn't apply. You use your sexuality as a convenient, "poor me" kind of whine. You then make dozens of nonsensical followups to your imaginary assailent's posts.

- You followup to almost every post with a change in the subject line, again under the delusion that somehow you are righting a wrong done to you. You couldn't even keep yourself from changing the subject of the thread from which this was extracted, thanks to your lack of self control (If other posters restore a subject line you have changed, your subsequent behavior proves that you are delusional.)

I was going to add more paragraphs above, but then realized what is obvious: There is absolutely no point. You can't make an insane person see that their world view is out of whack with reality, and you, Mark, appear to be suffering from a true mental illness. Thus, there's really no point talking to you, and action must be taken instead.

The action now being undertaken by the moderated group proponents is in fact a response to your abuse. People will be able to go to a Usenet group which free of your spews and be able to talk to one another like true adults. You, Wiseman, and a few others can continue to thrash about in this cesspool you've made, but you won't be able to stink up yet another rec.radio.amateur newsgroup.

Good riddance.

Mark hijacks another topic. He punces.

Mark, you seem to be squirming a bit more now that someone has threatened to dig into your alleged military past. This is quite apparently causing you to feel uncomfortable. Hiding something, are we?
That you are a liar is a moot point. We ALL know that.

If you are talking about posts to news.groups.proposals being rejected, I'd like to point out that nobody on the proposed moderation team has any control over that group. If your posts are not reaching the moderators for some reason, who's falut is that? Or if the rejection messages are being lost after they are sent, who needs to look into that?

This has nothing to do with the proposed group or it's moderation team..

Ahhhh.. So you are getting rejection messages from them... Then the system is working correctly.

Again, I have no control over the Big8 moderation decisions, but I think I understand why this last post was rejected... Seems you where trying to engage the moderator in a debate about why he rejected your posts and they think that is off topic.

And of course, early on news.groups.proposals was dropped from the crossposted by one of the repliers, so most of the posts in these two newsgroups aren't even being seen by the moderators in news.groups.proposals

I don't know whether that was deliberate, or just cluelessness.

ANd if they are getting over there but being rejected, one immediate reason I can see as a possible reason is the quoting of the full message being replied to, which often includes the full text of previous messages, with only a line or two of "new material". That makes it really hard to grasp what is being added, or even that is being added.

But that isn't really a surprise, since that is some of the problem we are seeing in the rec.radio.amateur.* hierarchy.

I gather news.groups.proposals has gone to moderated status (I don't remember it being so the last time I looked, years back) in order to keep existing feuds out of that newsgroup. But a lot of the replies here are that existing feud.

FInally, of course if people aren't posting with legit email addresses, and I don't know if that's the case, then the moderators can't reach the posters to acknowledge receipt of the post, or acknowledge acceptance or rejection of those posts.

I've probably exchanged "words" with several members of the moderation team over the years.

I certainly have no problems with any of them.

I believe the only ones who will are those who have issues with self-restraint, which is exactly why this newsgroup has become a cesspool.

Oh so your name is not Mark C. Morgan, you shouldn't lie to the FCC, that is a federal crime. Furthermore, your the kind of person that military service groups specialize in exposing. People like you who talk BS about a fantasy military service and then try to cover it up by saying you were some kind of covert op or specialist. One site indicates "Phonies often claim they have no military record because they were involved in covert operations and the government has purged the documents from the system to disavow their illegal activities. Don't accept that." I dropped your name and provided a copy of some of your your BS posts about your supposed military service record to a couple of these groups, one group said they would check into it. I did not know this, but this group informed me that several states have laws on the books that it is a crime to lie about military service? Punishable by several years in jail and fines.

Your wrong, don't need to commit a crime. Guess what dummy, ever hear of FOIA. Anybody can get your military service records from the DOD records center in St Louis, MO, under a Freedom of Information Act Request. Very easy to get.

medle??? what the Fk, your spelling is almost as bad as Lloyd's.
Isn't Medle some new fancy feast cat food that is advertised on TV???
I wouldn't need to "medle in what is none of your affair" if you would keep all this garbage off of a PUBLIC NEWS GROUP, but since you choose to post, I choose to commit.

But this time YOU made an off topic post and it was rejected. Leave it alone, Mark. Get used to the simple fact that you simply are not wanted there and move on. Or would that be too "grown up" for you?

Will you stop your whining? Get it through your thick head once and for all that the proposed new group is to be concerned with Amateur Radio and NOT used to address your pro gay sympathies. You are not wanted there! Must someone bat you on your forehead with a two-by-four to make the point?

yes. Here, I hear long time hams who know and passed the morse code test, singing on the ham bands. These hams don't report the other hams for violating FCC rules by singing on the ham bands, yet these very same hams report cb operators they hear singing on the cb bands.

That shows what kind of people the hams are.

It seems clear to me how it works, but I helped write the RFD....

Um.. Just like your recent posts that where rejected by the Big8 moderator, the posts will be returned to you with hopefully a brief note as to why it is being rejected. This assumes you have a valid return E-mail address configured when you post.

If you disagree with the moderator's rejection, you may appeal via the administrative contact specified in the RFD.

Appeals are handled by a group of moderators who determine if the original rejection was in error. If your post passes muster in the second hearing, it will be approved and posted on the group.

If your post is not deemed acceptable on the second hearing, there is no further defined process except that of the Big8 RFD process, where you could try and get the moderation team replaced.

Is that enough information?

afoul of the rules about discuing Comercail radio but none of that

That's not true. I'll vote against it and you can hardly accuse me of being shut out since I left here years ago rather than waste many hours accomplishing nothing constructive. The reason being that this group is too polarized with no room for dissenting opinions. No moderation is going to be impartial because no moderators are impartial. Therefore, a moderated ng will not reflect the opinions of hams in general. Instead, they will reflect the opinions approved by biased moderators.

My advice is to go to googlegroups, yahoogroups, or any of the other *.groups and start your own moderated community/group there instead of trying to start your own moderated newsgroup on Usenet. It's a lot easier.

I would say that without people whose only objective is to stifle dissenting opinion gone, this would be a better newsgroup. However, we all know that people will post to both newsgroups and probably get banned for something that they posted here.

I had hoped that, once the code vs. no-code childishness was over, these ng's would be useful again. I'm beginning to see that I was wrong.

I'll try back here in a few years to see if things have improved any.

i recevied them 24 hr later without any real explantion of the problem still don't see how they were quote "off topic" does apear tif moderation in the proposed NG is like that in the propsoal gruop then it may well be impossible to bring anything where to accurately describe something one must be in some manner unpleasent ok next question ow do the message get to a moderator ? that is do the Moderators get asigned them ramdomly or do they log in somewhere 9that

I don't need to know exactly where) and the moderator tathat log take em in order or does a moderator get to look and say I want to to moderate that one over there? sorry if that is hard to follow but lacking data I can't formulate a clearly one

Oh, don't get trolled by Wabbit. Basically, he's calling Mark a cunt, and in the verb form, I think he's also calling him a cocksucker.

They are awash in their self-proclaimed glory after they posed as an underage person and agreed to do all sorts of sex acts wioth adult males, and they are adults posing as teenager themselves. They make themsleves into liars by falsely impersonating underage persons and by not fuilfilling the words they tell the victims online in their chats. Why don't you read it where they tell these victims of their deceit about how they have been with grown men and such? Why don't you read it where they say, "That would be cool." after someone makes an advance towards an adult who is posing as a teenager? And, where they agree to meet the person, etc.
Lost control, didn't you?
Is that why you feel as if you need to lie so much now? I see where lots of these false impersonation games are not sticking. I am one of those that were alleged not to exist. I've waited for over 10 years for code to go away before I would upgrade. However, I decided that, rather than waste time here, my efforts would be better spent actively trying to drag ham radio into the 20th century.

That being said. I see no benefit to a moderated group and would not participate in one. Self-moderation by all sides would go a long ways. Establishing a moderated newsgroup on policy defeats it's own purpose of providing open discussion.

Perhaps those who control the Big 8 will feel the same as myself. Perhaps they won't. Either way, it's of no real consequence since I have no interest in subscribing to such a newsgroup.

The technical details of how moderated news groups operate are freely available on the web and are controlled by the documents that network news readers and servers all must follow. I don't know what the RFP numbers are and I don't have time to research it.

In our case, messages will be moderated by a mixture of manual and automatic means using any method we (as the moderation team) decide.

Currently messages will be routed though some automatic checks and into a manual moderation process where they can be approved/rejected by any of the moderators at any time. Once approved, the message is automatically inserted into the local news group server and must propagate from there.

How long it takes before you will see your posting depends on a host of factors, many beyond the control of the moderation team. The only factor we could hope to manage it how long it takes to get posts approved. At odd hours (say 3 AM Central) it may be a number of hours before a moderator is available to review posts. We hope to find volunteer moderators around the world which will help.

Poor Mark finds this all so "exsaperating" that he could just stomp his toosties in "frutatoun". The Big Boys are proposing a new club and poor Mark is not a part of it. Is being ignored. He is acting much like a petulant little brat standing outside the locked door of the Big Boy's club house who plaintively whines, "Come ON, you guys. Let me in. Why can't I come in? You guys aren't fair. It's not fair! What did I ever do to you guys? I want in and I want in NOW! Come ON! You guys owe me a real explation and I demand that explation now!"

Watching Mark dance is SO entertaining.

I don't have fantasies about devients, but you claim to be a member of

No, your wrong. It can be requested for any reason whatsoever. Check DOD's web site, you just have to make sure you put FREDOOM OF INFORMATION ACT REQUEST on the letter, and bingo the info is on its way.

Rephrase in english please, does not compute error error....

you have NO need to meddle in my life at all you should confine your coment to radio related topics you don't

This was once a place that you could do that, but because of people like you this NG is worthless. I'll be glad when they have the moderated group, then they will KF all of your posts, BTW I think I will volunteer

I think you are wrong, I believe that you are the target, I am not the one with thousands of cross posted dribble drabble posts, my posts may add up to a hundred in six years time, hell you did a hundred last week.

Would posts such as Robesin's "what it's like to eat my excrement from another mans genitals" pass muster?

Thanks.

Does it make a difference what the automatic scanning does? Right now, we are ready to moderate all posts by hand and are working on additional filters as necessary to lower the moderation load.

Your idea that we could have a pre-approval list for well behaved posters is a good one. I assist in the moderation of some very busy yahoo groups that use that approach. The first few posts from a new poster are moderated by hand, but once they establish a positive history the are allowed to post w/o moderator interaction. Of course any problem posts that make it though would get them put back into the moderation queue.

That really doesn't need an answer right? Can you say off topic?

Believe me, you want as much automatic moderation as possible. Because otherwise the newsgroup relies to much on human moderators, who have other things to do besides sit by the computer to moderate the newsgroup.
Off-load as much as you can, and then the humans can be used for the things that require human moderator intervention.

You're implying that there would be a list beforehand. But that list could be made quite rapidly after such a newsgroup was created, if it does get created. After a handfull of posts, the moderators can evaluate the whether or not a poster is actually going to be on-topic. Or, the posters will never go beyond a single post or two, which means there's little reason to put them on an automatic list. The point of the list is to automate the process, so the majority don't have to go through a human moderator (and I should point out that this would mean those human moderators aren't going to be fussing over the contents of the post, which some here seem so worried about). The point of the moderation is to get rid of the junk, not to limit discussion.

And if someone strays, then it's easy for the robomoderation to catch the stray, or a moderator to realize a post has slipped through that it shouldn't. So the person falls off the list, until they once again prove they won't stray off-topic.

So ultimately the people who have ruined these two newsgroups can get into the moderated newsgroup by being on topic and following the rules. Post a relative handful of times like that, and their on the list. ANd of course, the minute they revert to previous behaviour, they'll be caught and back to human moderation.

This is not a new process. So much of the detail has been worked out because there have long been some moderated newsgroups. And ultimately if you check them, you will see a variety of "culture" to them, each having a different style, just as unmoderated newsgroups can have a different feel from each other.

I think that freedom of speech is inherent to any open discussion. If you don't like what they have to say, you are under no compulsion to listen to them. I came and looked a few years ago and didn't like what I saw, so I moved on. I'd have to see how much bias the moderators have and I have to be honest with you, if they are regular posters to these ng's, serious doubts about their ability to be objective and judge each post on it's own merits or lack thereof.

I see the moderated ng's becoming the playground of one group or the other and gaining the respectability of being part of the Big 8 hierarchy. That is unless those who make the decisions realize what is going on. I notice no one has answered the question about why you guys don't just start a yahoo group or something along those lines. You don't really need permission for that you know and it's a lot easier. You can still have your own private playground and decide who gets to play in it.

I gave up on these two ng's long ago. However, I have hopes that now that the code debate has been decided, things will improve. Flame wars, name calling, and personal attacks are part of un moderated Usenet. Learn to deal with it, leave it along, or move to a moderated format. I have a really good set of filters to keep out most of the riffraff.

Those are about your only choices.

One point that some seem to miss is that the new NG will not replace RRAP. Both will exist, and people can post to both. The big difference is that off-topic comments and personal attacks will be removed from the moderated group.

I don't see what the big problem is.

Boy I sure am in favor of some kind of moderated group.I am getting ## 370. european full privilege ham licence in USA ?

Hi,

A question about european ham licences used in the USA.
Now that FCC suppressed the Element 1 from the regulation (CW), what the matter with the foreign licensed ham of CEPT class 2 (HAREC B) working from the USA ?

Recall : In Europe, all HAREC B are either old VHF amateurs or all new amateurs whising to get the full privilege licence who, thanks to WRC2003, can now work on all HF bands without restrictions. So it is equivalent to the US Extra licence.

Can those amateurs owner of an HAREC B certificate get an Extra class licence if they work from the US ? If they cannot, what licence will they get ? Do they still need to succeed an examination to work in all the HF spectrum from the US ?

At last, an european amateur owner of HAREC A certificate (the old one requiring the CW) can he get an US Extra class by simple exchange or has he also to succeed an exam ?

Thanks in advance

Thierry

Well, Florida had Punce de Leon, and "show-na-to-va" is a tennis can you blame him for having to find friends on cognet?

Perhaps he'll find Tommy, who doesn't know what the Fountain of Youth

Vulgarity Yes at times even profanity at times certainly, the

the proposed moderators are people largely unknown to me Brain Burke knowing BB Hot ham as I do I will go out on limb and suggest that hsomething HE doesn't want happening nor do I indeed it is something I am afraid of happening since based on the long history of the poster I suspect it willbe abused

Nothing BTW has been mentioned about what will be done if?when (you through?

no it did need an answer

it's maker insits that it is not an attack since he insits it is simply a true statement, and true statement are not personal attacks

you answered my question of wether reference to people sexaulity were going to be permited . you hedged with an answer that "you hoped they would not come up" or something like that without an understanding of how the moderator truly intent to proceed your gruop will not gain my support nor the support of others like BB will a statement we he can't be trusted around peotencail new hams baned wether ture since I doubt that any "debate" of such is possible) will it be permited (as has been done sos and so remark should not even be considered since he lack the experence to make them

The rules concerning newsgroup creation are available on the web. Just do a google search on newsgroup creation or I can post it if necessary. The acronym "RFD" stands for "Request for Discussion." The process is not unique to only the rec newsgroups...there are seven others in the Big 8.

I have had tried to read though a lot of it but it gets rather confusing indeed the Intel person peron I am professional at imes gets suspious that it is intended to be confusing

but even after a few back and frth with a moderator on the proposal gruop I still don't what is off topic for that gruop in expressing resverations about a proposed memebr of the moderating gruop/

Well those "internet types" have co-opted the acronym.

Actually, I always wondered what "RFD" meant in reference to mail delivery, and I don't think I saw an explanation until I saw someone mention the meaning on the internet.

I guess it needs to be posted since so many seem to be unaware of the process evidenced by comments about discussion not being allowed. You are indeed allowed to post questions regarding the proposal and the proponents are required to answer your question. Just post your concerns as questions and not comments. They should go through.

It is interesting to note that discussions here should have follow ups set to go to the ng proposals ng. However, there seems to be an effort to keep that from happening. I guess that some people don't want those on the decision board to know about some discussions.

Please note that those on the creation board do not have a vested interest in the formation and probably do not post to these ng's. The process is designed to be as fair as possible and the ng created if their will be sufficient traffic to justify it and a need has been established.

I have no intention of using the ng's when created because I have serious reservations about the ability of the moderators to be impartial. Nuff said about that.

Here. I hope that this helps you understand the process a little better. If I were you, I'd just go with the flow. Ask any questions that you have about the charter, FAQ, and moderation over there. The proponents are required to reply to questions in a polite and informative manner and the BS experienced here will not be tolerated from either position. Sometimes, moderation is a necessary evil.

Here...hope this helps you understand the process at least.

1. Informal Discussion
Anyone wishing to propose a newsgroup may do so simply by posting a message to that effect in news.groups or by writing the Big-8 Management Board or one of its committees. There are no requirements on the format or content of that message. For example, ï¿½Yo, dude, a surfing newsgroup would be WAY COOL!ï¿½ would be a perfectly fine way to initiate a discussion. Of course, more information is always welcome, but it is not required at this point in the process.

The idea is to get ideas out in the open quickly, where they can be discussed and fleshed out before the formal RFD is written.

The proponent of the newsgroup ought to cross-post the idea to other, relevant newsgroups in addition to news.groups. In these cross posts, follow ups should be directed to news.groups so that discussion of the idea is confined to a single location. This makes it easier for interested parties to follow the entire discussion in one place, and for uninterested parties to avoid the discussion simply by staying out of news.groups. However, this is merely a recommendation ï¿½ the proponent should do what s/he feels comfortable with during the informal discussion of the proposal.

The proponent may choose to conduct an interest poll during the informal discussion phase. See the notes on Traffic Analysis for further information.

Proponents who have experience with the newsgroup creation process and believe that they have a well-developed idea may skip the informal discussion and start with step 2, the RFD.

2. Request for Discussion (RFD)
The proponent submits his/her proposal to the newsgroup news.announce.newgroups by posting to the group or by emailing the proposal to news-announce-newgroups@moderators.isc.org. This submission is known as a Request For Discussion, or RFD.

The RFD should be cross-posted to newsgroups whose readers might be interested in or affected by the proposed group. It should also be cross-posted to news.groups.proposals, and followups should be directed there. (If you do not know how to set followups in your newsreader, we will help you figure it out. The line that needs to be included in the RFD header field is ï¿½Followup-to: news.groups.proposalsï¿½.)

Some information is required in the RFD:

newsgroup name Checkgroups file entry
whether the newsgroup will be moderated or unmoderated
if moderated, who the initial moderator(s) will be, including their contact addresses
Some information is not required, but is strongly encouraged:

rationale
charter
moderation policy, if moderated
Other information which supports the creation of the newsgroup may be included. For example, this could include:

traffic analysis
moderation site and software
Each of these items is discussed in greater detail here.

As discussion of the RFD progresses in news.groups, the proponent should submit revised RFDs to news.announce.newgroups et al.

3. Discussions of the Proposal in news.groups.proposals
News.groups.proposals is a moderated newsgroup in which Big-8 newsgroup proposals are discussed. We ask proponents and others interested in a proposal to subscribe to news.groups.proposals for the duration of the discussion period and, so far as possible, to bring the discussion of this group elsewhere into n.g.p. by using the ï¿½Followup-to: news.groups.proposalsï¿½ header along with a line in the body of the post saying ï¿½Followups set.ï¿½

All discussion of active proposals should be posted to news.groups.proposals. If desired by the readership of closely affected groups, the discussion may be crossposted to those groups, but care must be taken to ensure that all discussion appears in n.g.p. The purpose of the discussion is to evaluate all of the elements in the RFD: name, charter, rationale, traffic analysis, moderation policy, moderators, distribution list, etc., along with other concerns about how the topic fits into the Big-8 and Usenet as a whole.

It is very important that proponents answer questions about their RFD in news.groups.proposals. Failure to participate in the discussion will result in the proposal being removed from the active queue. At the same time, proponents who are responding to reasonable questions and requests for clarification may use their discretion in not responding to repetitious or contentious questioning.

As a general rule, members of the Board are expected to follow the discussion in news.groups.proposals. Members of the Board who wish to do so may participate in the discussion either to express their personal views or to clarify matters of policy and procedure.

The Board may, at its discretion, conduct polls of various kinds to help settle the question of whether the group should be created. Proponents may also initiate polls to show that creating the group is desirable.

4. The Proponent Asks the Board Make a Decision
When the proponent is ready for the board to make its decision, he or she should submit an RFD/Last Call For Comments to news.announce.newgroups. The Board may also take the initiative to suggest to a proponent that the time has come to end the discussion and make a decision on the proposal.

If the board believes that the proposal is ready for a decision to be made, the Board will publish the RFD/LCC under its own name. The RFD will announce that the Board will begin voting after 5 days, and that interested persons should make any final comments that they wish the Board to consider when making its decision.

Alternatively, the board may request that the proponent make additional changes to the RFD/LCC, or supply additional information; or they may request that the proponent continue to discuss the proposal in news.groups.proposals.

5. The Board Votes on the Proposal
The Board will decide whether the new group will be created. In making its decision, the Board will use its standard voting procedures.

The Board will wait five days after the Final RFD and Last Call for Comments is issued before beginning to vote. After the five-day period, the Boardï¿½s vote may take one to seven days.

If the Board decides not to create the new group, the Boardï¿½s announcement of the decision will include an explanation of why the proposal was rejected. Furthermore, the Board will explain to the proponent, either privately or in the decision announcement, what, if anything, he or she can do to improve the proposal before asking the Board to reconsider it.

6. If the Proposal Passes, It is Implemented
The Technical Team will take responsibility for properly formatting and circulating the request to create the new group. This formal request will be archived at the ISC website.

Somebody on the team pointed out to me that the submission address in the RFD is currently active... So if you want to see how this would work you can send a test posting to the submission address.

Of course the proposed news group doesn't exist yet so we have to send the posts to something else. In this case it goes to misc.test.moderated. I just tested it to be sure it still worked and it does.

I'll be happy to approve or reject some short test messages as you wish.. Just indicate in the test messages what you want to happen with it. We actually welcome the ability to test submissions from folks beyond just us so please give it a try.

Remember that the moderation team is limited and we are not fully "on line" and watching the inbound queue for postings as the proposed group does not exist yet so the approval/rejection delay may be a bit longer than it will be when we are up and running for real.

You still don't get it, do you? The group is NOT about you, Mark. They neither need or want your "suport". You are what they are hoping to avoid. Got it?

It is common and polite practice to use the the expanded phrase in the first useage with the acronym in parenthesis. Then to use the acronym thereafter is appropriate.

It's kind of funny watching all the anonninnies getting in their last not appropriate.

Perhaps you could use your "polite practice" expertise to assist Mark with his dismal attempts at communicating herein.

OK. You confirmed what I thought.
FCC philosophy is strange and severe because in all Europe for example, once you get your CEPT licence you can get the licence and work from any other european country without having to pass again some examens.
e;g. I own an ON4 licence. If I live in LX I can get the LX full privilege licence based on the reciprocity of CEPT (or rather the HAREC reciprocity).

Thanks for the info.

Please check the ARRL website (www.arrl.org) for details on foreign hams operating in the US. The individual replying to your original question isn't completely correct.

The following is quoted from www.arrl.org

BEGIN QUOTE

Foreign Amateurs who wish to operate in the US may do so if the country of which they are a citizen and amateur licensee has entered into a bilateral or multilateral reciprocal operating agreement with the US. Such agreements can include a reciprocal licensing agreement, CEPT license, or IARP permit. No additional permit is required -- simply bring your original license, issued by your home country when you visit the US; and be sure to identify your station while operating by the US call district identifier (e.g., followed by your non-US call sign.W3/G1ABC).

If your country of Citizenship and Amateur Licensing is not named in the lists of countries that have such agreements with the US, then no operating agreement is in effect between the US and that country--and operation is not possible in the US based on your home license. Should you wish to seek such an agreement between your home country and the US for the future, you may want to contact your national Amateur Radio society to request that they contact the responsible government official to request such an agreement with the US.

Operation in the US by any person is possible if you seek a US amateur license. Any person, other than a representative of a foreign government, can do so. Once a person is prepared to take the US license examinations, licensing is possible in as little as a few days to a week. A US mailing address is required for application purposes. Information about US licensing is available elsewhere on the Web site. If a US license is held, no other reciprocal operating authority may be used.

END QUOTE

As you can see, there is some reciprocity with the CEPT license. If the person is from a country with a reciprocity agreement, CEPT license, or IARP permit, there is no need to take the US tests. If your country is NOT covered under one of these three, a person can then get a US license and operate.

Please check this for yourself with the ARRL. Information on public newsgroups is often incomplete or even downright WRONG.

For the previous (SHORT) update, see:

http://groups.google.com/group/rec.radio.amateur.misc/msg/c55f821b689e1845

There is also an important (FINAL) update in this message. Please read it all the way to the bottom, especially before following up to the newsgroup.

In September of 1996, I started mailing an introductory message to all new posters to rec.radio.amateur.misc. This is accomplished via a special Perl script originally written by comp.infosystems.www.* FAQ maintainer Tom Boutell, who uses it on comp.infosystems.www.authoring.html, to send each poster such a message once, and only once, to a given E-mail address. It runs from a Unix cron job on my host every morning at 2 AM and queries my local news server via NNTP for the headers of any new articles posted to this newsgroup.

The project was expanded on June 19, 2002 to cover all rec.radio.amateur.* newsgroups, but with the same previous-poster database (as I stated my intention to do in previous updates). This means that if you have already received the message to a given E-mail address, you won't receive it again to that same E-mail address. The average number of recipients per day is currently about 9. Feedback statistics remain about the same for the additional 2,500 recipients (see previous updates via the link above for more details). Here are the milestones in terms of number of recipients, and the date each milestone was attained:

Recipients: Date: Average Recipients/Month (approx.):

>Subject: WELCOME to rec.radio.amateur.*

Hello,

The following message is automatically sent to every new poster or cross-poster (as of June 19, 2002) to any of the rec.radio.amateur.* newsgroups. It should be sent once, and only once, to each unique address. This is a welcome message. The Internet amateur radio community welcomes you to the newsgroups, including rec.radio.amateur.*, and welcomes your input, opinions, and constructive participation. To help make you feel welcome, experienced participants like myself have chosen to systematically inform you, as a new poster, about useful information resources and user tips to enable you to get the most out of these newsgroups. I hope you will consider the message in that spirit.

1. The news.announce.newusers newsgroup, moderated by Jon Bell, et al, contains a number of very informative articles providing an overview of net-etiquette, suggested writing styles for electronic forums, and other various do's and don'ts concerning Internet culture. If the articles have expired at your site, you may also access them from:

ftp://rtfm.mit.edu/pub/usenet/news.answers/news/

2. Original newsgroup voting and charter information for the rec.radio.amateur.* hierarchy, as well as for rec.radio.info and rec.radio.swap, may be accessed from:

ftp://ftp.uu.net/usenet/news.announce.newgroups/rec/rec.radio.info ftp://ftp.uu.net/usenet/news.announce.newgroups/rec/rec.radio.amateur-reorg ftp://ftp.uu.net/usenet/news.announce.newgroups/rec/rec.radio.amateur.dx ftp://ftp.uu.net/usenet/news.announce.newgroups/rec/rec.radio.amateur.boatanchors

3. The Guide to the rec.radio Newsgroups, originally written by Jay Maynard, K5ZC, is now maintained by Jeffrey Herman, KH6O. It provides an excellent overview of all of the Usenet newsgroups devoted to amateur and CB radio. It may be accessed from:

ftp://rtfm.mit.edu/pub/usenet/news.answers/radio/personal-intro

4. The rec.radio.swap FAQ: A Guide to Buying and Selling on Usenet, also originally written by Jay Maynard, K5ZC, is now also maintained by Jeffrey Herman, KH6O. It contains a number of good pointers for reading and posting articles concerning the buying and selling of radio and radio-related equipment on the Usenet newsgroup rec.radio.swap (which, with the sole exception of rec.radio.amateur.boatanchors for vintage equipment, is the only appropriate newsgroup in the rec.radio.* hierarchy for such articles). It may be accessed from:

ftp://rtfm.mit.edu/pub/usenet/news.answers/radio/swap-guide

Please direct any submissions, feedback, or administrivia regarding the above two resources to jeffreyh@hawaii.edu.

5. An FAQ list for the rec.radio.amateur.boatanchors newsgroup is maintained by Nick England, KD4CPL. It may be accessed from:

http://www.virhistory.com/ham/rrab.faq.htm

Please direct any any submissions, feedback, or administrivia regarding the above resource to nick@3rdtech.com.

6. The national amateur radio society of the United States, the American Radio Relay League, has a presence on the Internet. You may access their comprehensive and informative home page at:

http://www.arrl.org/

(They also have information about amateur radio organizations in other countries.)

7. Read the newsgroup first to see if your question has already been answered. You may also view, and search for keywords in, older news articles (going all the way back to 1981) at the Google (formerly DejaNews) archive:

http://groups.google.com/

Many topics have been discussed before, often in great depth, but the articles have expired at your local news server. Services like Google allow Usenet a much longer "institutional memory," greatly benefiting both new and experienced users.

8. If you do post to the newsgroup, give as many details as possible. After you post, read the newsgroup for a week or two to see all replies to your posting. A recommended practice is to ask for responses by E-mail and offer to post a summary if others are interested in the answer to your question. Note that it is (almost without exception) inappropriate to post your article to all (or even a significant subset of) rec.radio.amateur.* newsgroups. Please pick only the most relevant newsgroups (2 or 3 at most), and post your article as a simultaneous cross-post (check your newsreader documentation) so that only one article is propagated, and the article is only shown once in a newsreader.

9. Remember, Usenet newsgroups are based on the idea of mutual aid. Usenet only works if we put as much into it as we get out of it.

73, Paul W. Schleck, K3FU

The author welcomes any and all constructive feedback. Please direct all such feedback to pschleck@novia.net and retain the original subject (e.g., "Re: WELCOME to rec.radio.amateur.*") in your reply.

Consistent with recent discussion on rec.radio.amateur.policy:

http://groups.google.com/group/rec.radio.amateur.misc/browse_thread/thread/f1b7c5974d76e1c
f/ce5473fbe69deff0#ce5473fbe69deff0

this project will be decommissioned shortly after the creation of any new moderated amateur radio discussion newsgroup or newsgroups that emerge from the current Request for Discussion that was recently posted here:

http://groups.google.com/group/news.groups.proposals/browse_thread/thread/273b46ea0ffb5b34 /71589af727edf068

I believe that this welcome message project has been a successful and positive resource on this newsgroup for the last 10+ years. I certainly have the desire, and ISP approval, to pursue this project indefinitely.
However, realistically, I will only have time to manage one project going forward, and have chosen to manage a moderated discussion newsgroup, instead. This is also acceptance of a fair offer from those who have stated that they will support the creation of such a moderated discussion newsgroup if this project ends.

Thanks to everyone who offered positive feedback and encouragement over the years. Please consider participating in the above Request for Discussion for a new moderated discussion newsgroup, and watch for the possible creation of such a newsgroup or newsgroups sometime early this year.

Hey Y-man ! ! !

Isn't it time to proclaim a Shortwave Radio event for the evening?

If you let us down again we're gonna post pictures of you and Cindy McKinney on a very popular web site.

Hey did anybody tell Chicken Fornicator about Kevin's "brush with the law"?

Sir Sidney promised not to gloat about it but promised that we can count on him to rub it in.

A troll? Not according to him, he's not. The poor, deluded dyslexic is actually convinced that he is defending what he calls his "honor" against a plethora of unseen attackers. Mark is not unlike Roger Wiseman. Like Roger who sees Lloyd behind every tree and around each corner, Mark sees Steve Robesin in every shadow and behind every post. Mark is quite obviously obsessed with Mr. Robesin, just as Roger is with Lloyd Davies.
We've all watched when Robesin makes a handfull of posts every few weeks and Mark goes ballistic by replying to the posts hundreds of times and for weeks afterward.

Go ahead and complain, though it will do little good. In fact, this clown actually thinks that he is helping to clean up the newsgroups when quite the opposite is true.

So, you mean it's a treehouse for a bunch of repressed homosexuals, where they can wank each other and pretend that they're all straight?
I'm getting the feeling that frogging Mark is a joint effort between the lot of you, and shunting you all into a group where you'll only have time for the aforementioned wanking and posturing might well be the best idea yet.

That's nice, Wabbit. Keep on sniping at Mark from behind your mask.
That'll show 'im how brave you are.

That is not what was said or even alluded to. Therefore there is no "So, you mean..".

Is there a reason you don't answer my questions?

Do you know the answer, or do you have a problem with me, or my question?

How nice. Now can you answer my question?

You are mistaken. It was not a suggestion, but another question.
Absolutely do not attribute that "idea" to me as a suggestion.

It does need an answer because I have asked a legitimate question. If you're having problems answering legitimate questions, I suggest you remove yourself from moderatorship, no matter your claims of superb moderatorship on yahoo.

Now back to the subject. By using "genitals" and "excrement" instead of street language, Robesin would have passed the first, gross filter. And by posting several legit posts first, and being on the "approved" list, Robesin could easily slide some sick, off-topic material into the group.

So, do you have any answers, or do I need to communicate with someone else?

Another crybaby/Mark Morgan sympathizer has joined the fray.
What part of 'Robesin has not posted in weeks' do you not get, Billy?
Perhaps, just perhaps, were Mark to cease pointing out that he is bisexual (and proud of it), the ugly comments would cease. Of course that is not a likely scenario now, especially in light of the fact that Mark continues to post links to his blog wherein he openly admits to his bisexuality.
He brought this upon himself. On the same hand, Mark's proclivity for posting hundreds of times a week and intruding in conversations (notwithstanding his habit of hijacking topics) in which he is not welcome has nothing to do with others disliking him, does it?
You, like Mark, are opting instead to place onus of blame on an occasional poster while using him as a scapegoat for whatever mental ailments the two of you suffer from.

For a while there I thought you were brighter than Mark...a "step above", so to speak. I was obviously wrong.

Actually, no. Robesin went stalking Mark on the internet and brought back to RRAP subjects which were not appropriate for discussion on RRAP. To quote the moderator, it was "off topic."

It's called "out-assholing" Robesin. Very nasty stuff.

Robesin is laying low for some unknown reason, probably to trick fools such as yourself. His spots haven't changed.

You're obviously wrong on a number of issues. Best of Luck.

I suspect they will have their hands full with Robesin, if they want to

We'll see. The new group just might become a single, monthly posting from Miccolis on the number of amateur operators. I wonder if that will be on-topic?

I think I have. I think you have, too. Notice your forging of the

It wasn't always that way. At one time attribute forging, thread-jacking and avalanches of postings were the exclusive domain of Robesin. What you are witnessing now is Robesin's tactics turned against Robesin, i.e., "out-assholing" Robesin. Don't like it? You've had almost a decade to speak up, and didn't. Best of Luck.

If you'll go back up to "Loyd's" response to my last post, you'll see where he couldn't resist forging the attribute chain. That Robesin is posting everyday is a given.

Only Google limits the number of postings in any one session.

Well, I see this sort of thing as a disruption of the group. However, there was a valid purpose for it and it seems to be working. Robesin as Robesin has all but disappeared, or rather has been driven underground to post his bile as an anonnie. Nevermind that Robesin as Robesin has posted chapter after chapter about how despicable anonnies are. He is a man without conscience.

Well, Mark has certainly "out-assholed" just about everybody in these groups, save for yourself perhaps.
Again, using Robesin as an excuse to post 300 to 400 times a week, and to crap on as many posts as he can is folly. Even YOU should be capable of realizing that.

Mark is rude. He is thoughtless. Robesin didn't cause that. I could touch on Mark's obvious mental illness, but there is little need for that, is there?

Sure, Mark has dyslexia. Too bad.

Robesin was the catalyst for many of the problems in this group. If he had only been able to apologize for calling Mark a rapist..., and instead sues Mark (Mark is still waiting to be served). His mental stability has been the focus of numerous postings.

Nobody, including you and me, can prove that he is Robesin claims to be a nurse. Nurses are supposed to be considerate of those with medical problems...yet Robesin was cruel and a bully to Morgan without consideration of his dyslexia. Continually.

But, acting the bully was TYPICAL for Robesin anytime someone disagreed with anything he said. Ergo, that made Robesin a classic catalyst to bring others (mostly anonymous) in here to increase the filthy postings.

The slightest disagreement with Robesin would set him off. He was/is a loose cannon, firing off round after round of filth at all those he didn't like (practically everyone posting after a while).

There's thousands of archived postings to prove all the charges. There's lots of memories among those of us who've been reading the newsgroup for years.

2006 MOST WANTED SURVEY RESULTS ARE IN! Look for the complete results of the "2006 Most Wanted Countries" in the January/February issue of "The DX Magazine". From the top 100 world-wide listing/ranking, the most wanted top 10 are:
1) Scarborough Reef (BS7) 6) Glorioso (FR/G)

2) Lakshadweep (VU7) 7) Bouvet (3Y/B)
3) North Korea (P5) 8) Desecheo (KP5)
4) Yemen (7O) 9) Marion Island (ZS8)
5) Navassa (KP1) 10) Heard Island (VK0/H)

Editor Carl Smith, N4AA, does mention that this year's survey does have an error. Swains Island was NOT shown on the survey form by mistake and Carl apologizes for the error. Carl actually feels Swains Island is the number one most wanted country due to the "relatively small number of contacts" made by the KH8SI DXpedition and that "only one operation has ever taken place from Swains Island". He states, "Although it is not shown in the #1 spot on any of the reports, please consider it to be there." Carl usually posts (not there yet) the results of the survey on "DX Publishing, Inc." Web page at: http://www.dxpub.com/

3B8 & 5R8, MAURITIUS AND MADAGASCAR. Karl, DK2WV (one of the XF4DL crew), is currently on holiday in Mauritius (AF-049) until January 20th and is expected to be active as 3B8/DK2WV. He has been there since January 6th, but we have not seen any QSNs on him yet. He is also expected to be active as 5R8HG from Madagascar (AF-013) between January 21-23rd. Activity will be on the HF bands using an amplifier and dipole antenna. QSL via his home callsign by the bureau.

4TH ANTARCTIC ACTIVITY WEEK (AAW Update). The Worldwide Antarctic Program's (WAP) 4th Antarctic Activity Week (AAW) will take place between 0000z, February 19th and 2400z, February 25th.

* Operators Willy/OE3WWB, Reiner/OE3RPB, Karl/OE3KTA, Bert/OE3AIS, Karl/OE3KKA and Gus/OE3SGA will join the 4th AAW by signing their own callsigns/ANT. They wanted to apply for a club callsign but their regulation in Austria will only allow them to work from each operator's home station. The WAP reference number issued individually, is as follows: OE3WWB/ANT WAP-85 OE3KKA/ANT WAP-88
OE3RPB/ANT WAP-86 OE3AIS/ANT WAP-89
OE3KTA/ANT WAP-87 OE3SGA/ANT WAP-90
They will be active mainly on SSB but also PSK and CW from February 19-25th.

* Correction. Last week, under "stations announced/lined" to be active for the AAW, had K4A's operator listed as K6IED and it should have been K6EID. Information was listed wrong on the WAP Web site.

For more details/updates on the WAP and the 4th AAW, please see the 3Y0X QSLS. QSLs via Bob, N2OO. Bob reports: "I am expecting a large crush of QSL mail once the VU7RG operation gets going. So, if you have been waiting to send for your 3Y0X, CE0Z, XR9A QSLs (or any other QSL I handle), right now is a GOOD time to send for it. Once the VU7 mail starts coming in, all other QSLs I handle COULD be delayed a bit. Remember! If you use IRCs, ONLY send the NEW current IRCs that expire Dec 31, 2009."

5A7A QSL STATUS. Andy, DJ7IK, informed OPDX on January 8th that some 38000 QSL cards were printed, and they are now starting to answer the 4400 direct QSL cards which they have received. about their DXpdedition for QST, ARRL and other ham magazines which will be published soon. Andy, DJ7IK, states that he is producing a powerpoint presentaion about 5A7A, and Rudi, DK7PE, is working hard on their DXpedition video. Meantime you can watch video samples on: http://youtube.com

His E-mail address is: Phil@g3swh.demon.co.uk

QSL STATUS FOR YX0A AND YX0LIX. QSL Manager Steve, KU9C, reported on January 10th, the following: "As of this morning, I've probably got about 25% of the card requests in the mail. Many more to do, so please be patient. The timing of the stuff I need to manage the QSL sending came at a bit of an inopportune time for me with other commitments, but I'm hammering them out. A few notes:
- There were a number of QSOs that DID NOT make it in the initial logs that are online. I've recently received a final update, and am checking the 'not in logs' thoroughly against these new logs. Unfortunately, this is going to slow me up a bit, but I want to make sure you get credit for as many QSOs as I can match!

- A number of you requested QSLs for other stations I manage. I've been able to finish many of these before the YX0 cards arrived, so that hasn't slowed me down...but for those of those I missed, this will slow the request down substantially. Please do not re-submit, as this just adds confusion.

- I'll be putting up the logs in LOTW, but this will be after I get the direct cards mailed, for a number of reasons.

I'll update as I get down the pile further. 73, and Happy New Year -- Steve KU9C"

XU7, CAMBODIA (Update). Operators Steve/9M6DXX, John/9M6XRO and Pete/SM5GMZ will be active as XU7DXX, XU7XRO and XU7ADI, respectively, from an established DX shack in Sihanoukville, Cambodia, between February 1-10th. Activity will be on CW, SSB and the digimodes with operations on all bands, depending on propogation, of course. Steve will primarily be on SSB and John will be on the key and RTTY. QSL XU7ADI via SM5GMZ, and for XU7DXX and XU7XRO via M5AAV: Graham Ridgeway, 6 Pilgrim Street, Nelson, Lancs, BB9 0JQ, England. ADDED NOTE: Please see the following interesting Web site at: http://www.qth.com/dxshack/XU/XUtop.htm

XW, LAOS. Alex, RK3DT, is now active as XW3DT between now and January 20th. Activity seems to be on 40/30/20/17/15/12 meters, mostly CW with some SSB. QSL via: PO Box 11, GPO, Hong Kong (before May 2007).

ZK3, TOKELAU ISLANDS (Also, 5W). Look for operators Sara/HA9SDA and Eli/HA9RE to be active as ZK3RE from February 3-21st (possibly 22nd). They plan to have two stations on the air operating CW, SSB and RTTY, and on 160-10 meters. The suggested frequencies are:

N efective discssusion will be possible

no use to form NG etc for use in making announcments and not in all cases even that gruop is intended to preplace RRAP and yet can not prefrom the funtctions that RRAP has filled no new issue wil be possible to be rasied and discussed if it is as controveraial as the Code NoCode

how do we call the question and proced to vote

I have posted test meesages it will be a farce amoug the rejected post is a very mild post calling fraud fraud when one poster will alter a line in the quoting of text and it will be refused as off topic to call it the fraud that it is the Porposed NG will be quiet and useless for any real discussion

also rejects the notion that anyone will mange to get around the moderator wether by hacking or mistake and there is somebody does those posts can spew all kind of vile and the target will be premitted
NO response at all

"When I told Abbie Hoffman that he was the first one who made me laugh since Lenny Bruce died, Hoffman said, "Really? He was my god." The combination of satirical irreverence and sense of justice that Bruce and Hoffman shared was the real spirit behind the Yippies--a term I coined to describe a phenomenon that already existed: an organic coalition of stoned hippies and political activists who engaged in such actions as throwing money on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, then explaining to reporters the meaning of that symbolism. Folksinger Phil Ochs summed it up: "A demonstration should turn you on, not turn you off." So when journalists link the Yippies with misleading bedfellows, at best it's careless shorthand; at worst it's deliberate demonization. Osama bin Laden wanted an aircraft to crash into the Pentagon. Abbie Hoffman merely wanted to levitate it." -- Paul Krassner, http://tinyurl.com/ehu3v

The "he" that I used there did not refer to Mark. It

You are not a victim, nor are you defending yourself. You are a protagonist.
Your fixation with Robesin has gone well past simply responding to his comments. You've turned into a stalker and your cruel comments about his deceased daughter put you on a nasty level far lower than anything Robesin has ever done.
It is you who should seek professional counsel, not Wiseman.

No, there is a reason why those awards are /unique/. Until someone does something that matches or exceeds Ying-A-Ling in all those departments, the Brown Clownpants award stays in retirement. Besides, that kind of award is one that I'd give to someone on their way into the Galactic Killfile, which Woger is nowhere near--yet.

I just recorded the CotM for Wabbit. I'd consider a Goofy Azzed Babboon, except that Wabbit is trolling with his fupped duck typing in imitation of "an old friend" Mark, who I'm ruling is immune from the GAB and the GAB alone on the basis of his dyslexia (There, two rulings in one). Mark isn't truly a GAB anyway. He's a Garble.

http://redwing.hutman.net/%7Emreed/warriorshtm/garble.htm

"Garble is a mystery: Is he a foreigner with only tenuous grasp of English? Is he on drugs? Does he suffer a serious mental debility? Is he typing wearing boxing gloves? Garble's rampant typos, malapropisms and execrable grammar can't be blamed solely on poor typing skills. Garble is all the more puzzling because if one manages to hack his way through the tangled muddle of his messages a discernable idea will often emerge.
For example, in a forum discussion about a painting he might say, "Sorry the picchr the har is wrog. The culir. I liike the lips bot teh Paintng is sucs". When someone refers to his random capitalization Garble might say something like, "oPS i HITTED THE CAPDLOCK". Garble drives Grammarian and Nitpick absolutely nuts, but he disdains all efforts at correction, and if complaints persist he will indignantly sign exit saying, "yuor forum si stupef. bYE!" HINT: Garble may be Net Rat." --

512. Mark Morgan Faces Federal Charges

It has come to the attention of a select few in Law Enforcement that Mark Morgan, KB9RQZ, has violated Federal Law in that he has illegally wrested control of a web site, http://www.marksspamblog.blogspot.com/ away from the original creator. Mr. Morgan exploited weaknesses in the log-in and registration procedures and provided false information to Google in so doing.

Morgan is apparently unaware that in so doing, he violated Federal Regulations making such acts illegal.

Mister Morgan has since been reported to the proper authorities and copies of his illegally gained web site have been recorded and saved for future legal proceedings.

His act is a Felony under current regulations.

That's fucked up. There is an award just for one poster. This award is special because it was desperately created before they finally gave up the ideas of giving someone more kook awards. The accusation was for lack of practice in perl script, how funny, compariable skills in c++ was not good enough. But really this award is so called no-need-for-conviction award.

So I hear... I gather it was you that posted those messages that got rejected then? By our design, folks that get three posts rejected in a row get reviewed by the appeals board and blacklisted if they agree with the moderator(s). I understand this has happened to you, so your messages are no longer moderated, just dumped.

We will reset the system should the news group be approved, so you got one more chance if/when the proposed group is approved.

I guess it's pointless to debate the RFD further with you then?

I don't think Paul Schleck knows what kind of slippery devils he is dealing with. Every line of any Robesin posting will have to be read, including the attribute chain for possible forging, and any text being quoted will have to be compared to the original.

I don't think they're up to it, therefore, Robesin will keep sliding his zingers through, and nothing will happen. Just like nothing happens now except that you drove the little squirrel underground. You won't be able to drive him underground in the moderated group, and he will continue sliding accusations of rape right on through.

> the Porposed NG will be quiet and useless for any real discussion

Which is what Miccolis and Coslo wanted from the gitgo. Just PCTA agreeing with PCTA.

Correct. Robesin might have to take a hit and play nice for a couple of weeks, til he sees the opportunity to slide some more filth into the new group. A man without conscience.

Oh, I tried it for a couple of weeks and couldn't stand myself. Maybe if Robesin had slipped up and posted his famous "eating his excrement from another man's genitals" posting, I might have been able to finally bury the idiot in his own filth, but that wasn't to happen for a year.

Robesin is happy enough with the outcome of his actions. He obviously discuss.

Thanks, but Mark has no reason to "out-asshole" me.

I think his bedroom preferences are off-topic in an amateur radio news group, and have no idea why anyone would go out to the web and bring something like that back here.

Mark will talk ham radio with you if you like, or we can go on talking about why this newsgroup has become all about Robesin.

> Again, using Robesin as an excuse to post 300 to 400 times a week, and to

I might have agreed with you except that I have seen Robesin viciously attack other people on RRAP, myself included. Now I have no disagreement with any method used to control Robesin. But thanks for asking.

> Mark is rude.

He can be, but so can I. Ditto you.

Actually, no. Robesin has deeply hurt Mark. An apology is in order.

> Robesin didn't cause that.

Sure he has.

> I could touch on Mark's obvious mental illness, but there is little need for that, is there?

Dyslexia is not a mental illness. Mark is fine when he's not being made fun of or being accused of lyng or rape. Try treating Mark as a human being and he will respond in kind. If you respect yourself it will be a lot easier to respect other people. Best of Luck.

I disagree. if the gruop that is the Oficail site for such thing do not funtin then the voting process and discussion are curprted and result in a less railble pictice of the opion on Hams radio usenet users

.....

Oh, wow! There's some further misspelling, and hardly the "occasional" misspelled word you alluded to.

Someone get a spell check program!

Ohhh, I don't think Mark's done a single illegal thing, there. He merely took possession of a blog which had been created to harass him, and the creator foolishly used an email address of Mark's for reference. You stepped on your own dick, there, Wabbit. Silly Wabbit!

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. Hi All,
I've been following along the discussions.
And Mr. Brock, I have to say I personally am in favor of discussion of the NG's topic. Self-moderation has proven it's self to lead to name calling, personal attacks, CB'ers attacking hams and may more such useless posts and cross posts.
I agree with KH6HZ , who said

"Great proposal.
Can't wait to cast my vote for the affirmative."

I think KH6HZ has hit the nail on the head. I couldn't have said it better.

True, I think Wabbit deserves recognition for "skillz" in k00ky kombat.
I'll let another make that nomination, though.

No no no felching is solely my domain. I have never penetrated anything in my life. But I have been penetrated man times during a typical day. I love it when my top-boys let me felch out their deposits!! If I move my butt well enough they might leave a gerbil or two for my pleasure.

I'm a dude but I so want to have a vagina. I am a transexual that can afford the operation. I am hideously ugly and have mountains of fat, but I am sure that after the operation, some black male will ask me out.

Actually there's no reason to make it dependent on a vote. Those who do not wish to participate in a moderated group can continue here. This group is not being eliminated. There is simply a new group being added.

In general, no one can prove that he is not guilty. The point of logic is: In general, negative assertions cannot be proved. That's why, in this country, a person is presumed innocent until he is proved guilty. An alibi proves a positive assertion, i.e. that one was physically somewhere else at the time of the crime.

Imagine the problem presented to the women accused of being witches during the Salem witch trials. They were required to prove that they were not witches. They were presumed guilty until proved innocent which was a logical impossibility.

This characteristic of logic carries over into conditional statements. If the 'if' portion of an 'if/then' conditional logic statement is false, then the entire statement is true by definition. The following is a true statement.

"If the moon were made out of green cheese, then a cow could indeed jump over it."

Given the lack of replies, I guess it wasn't an inside joke. Mark, why do you worry about it so much? If they want a private country club type atmosphere, and those who control the Big 8 don't mind allocating the resources to it, why not let them have a little place of their own. Don't worry, this place isn't going anywhere and they won't be able to resist dropping by to do what they have always done before they retreat back to the country club to brag.

Frankly, I see it as a waste of band space, but band space is cheap these days. Look it as a consolation prize now that they have to share all those HF frequencies with people who didn't lean the code, they can at least have a little piece of cyberspace. Why the didn't go to Yahoo groups or Myspacegroups still eludes me and no one has cared to reply. Must be some kind of a prestige thing.

It's OK though, because I really don't care what they do or where they do it. Freedom of speech is a great thing even if some have to feel protected to exercise it.

You have been taken in by the oldest scam in ham radio. Your logs mean nothing because you never did moonbounce after all and just talked to a guy with a 100 mw qrp rig somewheres nearby. We are all laughing at you.

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

Well, if I were still inclined to nominate her for k00k awards, and I wanted someone to "destroy" her, I suppose that might -- I repeat, might -- have been desirable. As it is, you're going to clean up at this month's awards.

The combination of satirical irreverence and sense of justice that Bruce and Hoffman shared was the real spirit behind the Yippies--a term I coined to describe a phenomenon that already existed: an organic coalition of stoned hippies and political activists who engaged in such actions as throwing money on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, then explaining to reporters the meaning of that symbolism. Folksinger Phil Ochs summed it up: "A demonstration should turn you on, not turn you off." So when journalists link the Yippies with misleading bedfellows, at best it's careless shorthand; at worst it's deliberate demonization. Osama bin Laden wanted an aircraft to crash into the Pentagon. Abbie Hoffman merely wanted to levitate it." -- Paul Krassner, http://tinyurl.com/ehu3v

No, You got blacklisted per our policy based on the content of your posts.

I warn you that this exact thing will happen again should the new group get created and you presist with such content only the next time will be for real. This demonstartion has shown you how the moderation process works from both a policy and technical perspective so what we are trying to do should be obvious to you now.

Any further questions you have about the RFD that I can help explain or do you just intend to object on grounds you have already outlined in other posts?

Indded it is clear. you intend to stiffle any discussion that is if I indeed belive that say Dave Heil will be moderted in the way it is also cler I or anyone that is not apporved by those that like to forge posts can expect our post to even reach moderators to be rejected

from the look of If someone sucessfull forges anyone myself or dave heil for three unabaccable post that email address will be banned

it seems clear enough that the procedure is quite flawed

Hi Metro. I am a profoundly retarded gay male and I am very attracted to you. Nowadays it is so hard to meet attractive well endowed men that a decent, such as yourself. In gay or bicurious relationships I also function as the bottom-boy. This means that I am the one penetrated. In Bondage type scenarios, I am always the submissive.

I am a pre-op transexual. I am still trying to raise the funds to have my penis cut off and reshaped into a vagina.

I hope I haven't repulse you or even alarmed you. I am being a little bet forward because decent "real" men are hard to find. I can accommodate up to 14 inches of penis in my rectum with feeling pain.

If this is something that might interest you, please send me e-mail at <exebuyola@yanospamhoo.com>.

I have plenty of sex toys that could be used on me.

If you were repulsed, I apologize. I read some of your posts and you seem like a diamond in the rough. Thanks again, for your attention.

If you're not gay, I have to tell you that receiving blowjobs is not gay. A mouth is a mouth is a mouth is a mouth. Whether it's hairy or not. Whether it has lip stick or not.

If you are not a male, would you be opposed to putting a strap-on on and still work me over. Again if you are repulsed, I apologize.

Lustfully Yours,

Well, I'm sure that you will be notified via this news group when we get to that point, but just in case we forget (or you don't get the posting for some strange reason) you will want to watch the proposals group as well.

At this point, it looks like there will be a revised RFD forthcoming, with a second discussion period. I don't suppose that the revisions will meet with your approval anymore than the original one did. I'm sure this group will be notified when the revisions are complete and submitted for discussion.

I suppose that the LCC (Last Call For Comments) will be coming up after that, depending upon how long it takes the team to agree on the revisions and get them into written form and how long any additional discussion takes. Once the LCC is posted you will have 5 days to "cast your vote" although the results are not necessarily dependant on the number of votes received on either side of the issue, but on the opinion of the Big 8 Board.

See their process at http://www.big-8.org/dokuwiki/doku.php?id=policies:creation

I suppose I could advise you to stay civil in your postings to the moderated news.groups.proposals so the will approve the posting of your no vote, but that wouldn't help my case any.. :)

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them

up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

PLEASE NOTE AND WITNESS BELOW:

""Well that's interesting because the moderators will either have to block me or block everyone else since I've disagreed with most people at one time or another on something. The cross postings from outside the amateur radio
groups the last few days have really been annoying.""

Dee, N8UZE

ms dee is the grand dame of the rec radio groups. she is an extra class, code tested amateur radio operator. this alone proves her knowledge is above and beyond everyone elses.

as you can see she does not like you and your ilk posting in the radio groups. as you can see she states it's "annoying".

WE MUST DEMAND AND ORDER THAT MS DEE'S WISHES BE RESPECTED!

we therefore order the following:

you and your perverted pals will not post (or read) the following groups:

rec.radio.amateur.policy

rec.radio.amateur.misc

rec.radio.amateur.antenna

rec.radio.shortwave

rec.radio.cb

alt.ham-radio.vhf-uhf

alt.military.cap

should you disobey you will see the raw power of hams that can copy

666. MI5 Persecution: Dirk Gently on the Toronto Case (843)

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.misc
Date: 2007-01-18 22:49:07 UTC
From: MI5Victim@mi5.gov.uk
Message-ID: <m07001823432950@4ax.com>

Cross-posted to: proxad.free.adsl,aus.radio.amateur.misc,rec.radio.amateur.misc,alt.os.linux.suse,gay-net.spiele

Dirk was on the West Coast when he got the call. An old friend at the Toronto police department thought he would like to fly up and take a look at a homicide which had occurred the previous evening. He decided to skip the last day at the World Holistics conference and take the next plane out of San Francisco.

The flight was bad; Dirk had been hit on the back of the head by the Newspaper trolley, the drinks trolley, the dinner trolley and now the gift trolley. When the hostesses weren't trying to tear his arm off they pestered him to stop leaning into the aisle - ignoring the fact that the guy next to him was taking up one and a half seats. Air Canada used to be the flight which was so good you just didn't wanna get off - on this occasion Dirk would be glad to see the back of the plane and the over sized alternative comedian wedged into the window seat.

After breathing in a couple of lungfulls of crisp Canadian air Dirk took a taxi into town. There was a small group of demonstrators outside the MacDonalds and the taxi driver insisted on stopping on the opposite side of the street. "Don't Eat Meat" the placards read and the demonstrators chanted. A couple of policemen where stopping the crowd entering the restaurant itself - one held up his arm and challenged Dirk. A wave of the fax he had been sent and the policeman pushed open the door.

There were few customers in the restaurant. Not surprising really with a demonstration going on outside, half the dining area roped off with tape and a dead body seated at one of the tables. "Mr Gently sir" the officer in charge called out as he peeled one end of the tape off a column "We were told not to touch anything til" you got here".

The body of the man slumped awkwardly in a chair. Then even a dead body would start getting uncomfortable in a MacDonalds chair after twenty minutes - and this one had been there for at least eighteen hours. Two back legs and the tail of a cat hung out of the man's gaping mouth. Dirk turned to the officer, "I suppose you are going to tell me this is the darndest thing you ever saw?"

"Ain't this the darnd...". The officer seemed annoyed that Dirk had second guessed him. "We're removing the body in a few minutes, so if you can get through as quick as possible�

�Many people eat cats in fast food restaurants?� Dirk asked and without waiting for an answer leant over the table to pick up an untouched burger. �And what�s this?� he asked waving it in front of the officers face.

�It�s a Vedgie Burger� The waitress, who was cleaning one of the adjacent tables, shouted across. She walked over to Dirk. �We started doing them because of that lot out there� she nodded towards the protesters who were pressing there faces against the windows �They�re called Linda McCartney Vedgie burgers - ever heard of them?�

Dirk suddenly felt faint, perhaps a combination of hunger and jet lag. �This is deja vu all over again� he thought to himself. He glanced at policemen - at the badge on his shoulder �OPD� but this wasn�t Ontario this was Toronto. OPD - Officially Pronounced Dead. It dawned on Dirk what was happening, he knew what he would see if he looked out of the window. Sure enough, there it was, the Volkswagen Beetle parked across the road - number plate 28IF - 28 IF Paul McCartney had lived. And amongst the lyrics of the song blaring out into the restaurant he could pick out the words �I buried Paul�. Now it was though Dirk was viewing the whole scene though a TV screen. This was conspiracy. Not -a- conspiracy, or -the- conspiracy, but just plain conspiracy.

�You look faint - are you OK mister? The waitress asked.

Dirk shook his head �Probably a bit hungry� Then to economise on dialogue took out a pack of cigarettes and held it out towards the girl. She was about to take one but Dirk snatched the pack away, held it up to his mouth and drew out two cigarettes. He lit both then passed one of them to the girl. It was the closest he had come to a sexual encounter in three months.

�Want a Burger?� the waitress asked.

Dirk looked down at the Vedgie Burger on the table. �No thanks - just a plate of fries�

The waitress walked away and Dirk looked around the room. Apart from a family seated in the far corner there was only one other person in the restaurant - and he wasn�t eating. The guy was about mid twenties and had straggling, shoulder length hair. On the table in front of him were lots of pieces of paper cut into squares. Every so often he would pick up a camcorder and pan it around the room and then, when he was finished, speak into a microphone which was attached to a tape recorder. Dirk walked over to where the man was sitting.

The small pieces of paper had paragraphs of text written on them and were stuck to the top of table with blobs of mustard. Lines had been drawn, some solid some dotted, on the table top with a marker pen. The lines ran from one piece of paper to another.

"What are the lines for?" Dirk asked, realising straight away that "What the hell are you doing?" would be more appropriate.

"You see" The man replied nervously "The dotted lines are weak links and the solid lines are strong links. The dotted lines are things which are happening in the rest of the world and the solid lines are things which are happening to me. Now you see I draw over a dotted line, replacing it with a solid line, when I can link something back to me. Like this" The pen squeaked over the Formica and before Dirk could interrupt the man added. "You see I lost my short term memory and, as a consequence have a very short attention span. I write down, record and film everything then put it all together later"

"So" Dirk interrupted. "You filmed what happened here?"

"Yes, yes, it"s here on this tape" The man pushed the cassette across the table. On the label the words "Grassy Knoll" had been crossed through and replaced with "MacDonalds".

Suddenly the man sprung from his seat. Dirk turned and saw that the body was being removed on a stretcher. As it passed the man picked a small object off the edge of the stretcher itself. "This is important" he said, laying a blood stained bullet on one of the small pieces of paper on the table.

Suddenly the room was filled with a deafening throbbing sound as a Black Helicopter landed in the street outside. Two men in United Nations uniforms got out and collected the stretcher. Back at the table the long haired man was replacing all the dotted lines with solid ones. Dirk panicked and began to walk backwards at some speed. Barging through the swing doors he stumbled into the kitchen, tripped and felt himself sink slowly into a large vat.

"The guys fallen into the batter" Dick heard someone shout before he sunk below the surface. He came to sitting in a chair with the batter solidifying all over his body. He surveyed the room through two eye-holes someone had cut. Suddenly the chair on which he was sitting was picked up carried through the restaurant and out of the building. As the chair was being lifted and put into the back of a van, Dirk caught a glimpse of the waitress following him. "Your fries mister, your plate o..."

The doors of the van shut and Dirk tried desperately to steady himself as it sped across town. Eventually the doors flew open and Dirk was flung into the road at which point the solidified batter shattered and set him free. Standing up he found himself outside the international departures terminal of Toronto airport.

In the departure lounge Dirk had time to reflect on the day's events. He had got caught up in the conspiracy theories and the haphazard welding together of pieces of irrelevant information. It was time to catch the person who was operating the bizarre cognitive engine which appeared in front of him like a fairground mirror, distorting any flaw it could find in his own, fragile, map of the real world.

Dirk leant into the aisle of the plane as it took off for London. The oversized person next to him swung his arms violently as he complained about every thing from the supper in a plastic tray to the state of British politics. With a shaven head and a badly fitting suit the man looked as though he could have worked behind the reception desk of the Kremlin. However when he spoke he did so in a Liverpudlian accent. "Me I blame the Con-serv-a-tive government, me. The Tour-rees. That-cher. Me. They need a good kicking" He jerked his feet forward and struck the seat in front with his Doc Martins. "With these. Me Doc Martins. Doctor Martin's, Doctor Martin's, Doctor Martin's Booots!" The phrase was now being sung over and over again as the man writhed in his seat and clicked his fingers.

Dirk looked down at the boots and thought of the reaction most people used to deal with the paranoids at the end of the wire. A nice quick kick. "Oi nutter - get some therapy". This is the easy way out and perhaps the safest. After all there you are sat, alone, in front of the screen. No body language between you some paranoid. No way of telling if he really is some gibbering psycho. Look at it too long and you be drawn in. Fall into the tangled database of weird links with him. Who knows he may be watching you, reassembling and linking your experiences with his. How sure are you of you own cognitive threads. After all cognition is only a bug fix for a neurological system which was designed in a hurry - it's abused by everyone from politicians to advertisers. If people really can convince each other that a bottle of washing up liquid is as exciting as an orgasm using just television God knows what they can do with a computer. Better to avoid the risk. A swift kick. After all if you're Homophobic you put the boot in because you are scared of any ambiguity in your own sexuality - why not be Nutterphobic as well.

Although Dirk would have liked to devoted time to tracking the culprit down he decided to let it rest. The Internet changed over the next twenty odd years. A lot of the people who used it went out and got lives. And those who already had lives burnt them away. The number of users had dwindled after someone had invented a C++ program, with truth as a variable, to deal handle politics and government. Dirk had already retired from finding old ladies cats with the help of obscure science when he got another call from Toronto.

It was 4th March 2025 when he booked onto the Air Canada flight from Heathrow. The silver haired woman in the seat next to him painted bright red lipstick around her mouth. "Of course it was no surprise to be offered the job after Claire Raynor retired" she sneered" After all I used to be a psychiatric nurse... Now if Blokes had periods they would understand..."

By chance the taxi ride to Toronto mental hospital took him past the MacDonalds - where the whole thing had started. Of course it was barely recognisable having become a Church Of Scientology Vedgie Bar. Police in riot gear kept the two sets of demonstrators apart. Dirk didn"t really know what to expect when he got to the hospital. The girl at the reception desk directed him to a row of chairs in a wide well lit corridor. There was a strong smell of disinfectant, the furniture and the carpets were immaculately clean and behind the rows of teak veneer doors the "nutters" were all safely locked away. For some reason Dirk started thinking about CompuServe forums.

A tall blond woman in a white coat approached. "Mr Gentle, I assume"

"Yes" Dirk replied shaking her by the hand. "You"re the nurse who..."

"Doctor" She interrupted, "Doctor Killfile" She led Dirk across the corridor towards one of the doors then stopped with her hand resting on the handle. "Now you know about this person don"t you?" and after Dirk nodded she continued "Don"t tell him anything about yourself - don"t let him get into you head. If he does he"ll screw it up"

The door opened to reveal a frail man sitting in from of a TV screen. He had a keyboard on his lap and next to the television was a computer screen. Dirk glanced at the walls of the room and remembered that his settee at home need upholstering. The nurse left the room and the man looked up "So you come to my daughters wedding and ask me to kill a man" he said in a dry cackling voice. "Look" he continued, pointing at the screen, "I know that man. They"re talking about me now - listen&#65533;. The man stared at Dirk. &#65533;What&#65533;s your name? Are you one of my friends from the Internet? - Are the lambs still screaming Dirk?&#65533;

Dirk, at first recoiled in horror, then felt a sense of anti climax. So this is what they hyped up to superstar status on the back of their own fears of madness. Dirk was reminded of the film &#65533;A day on The Beach&#65533; where a submarine had set off to search a post nuclear World to track down a signal coming from a remote military base - only to find it was being sent by a Coke bottle half balanced on a Morse tapper. Outside the room the nurse waited for him. Because his nicotine craving had returned - and to avoid an awkward piece of dialogue - Dirk turned to her and asked . &#65533;Patch?&#65533;

Dirk took two nicotine patches from his wallet the first of which he stuck onto the inside of his arm. Stepping closer to Doctor Killfile he opened her white coat and slid his hand into the opening at the front of her dress. He pressed the patch onto her leg as close to the top of her inner thigh as he dare. She took a deep breath and then slowly breathed out. &#65533;What Bogart could have done with these things&#65533; Dirk thought to himself.

&#65533;Is he crazy?&#65533; Dirk asked tilting his head back to towards the door.

&#65533;Who knows&#65533; Doctor Killfile replied &#65533;We let him type away. He sees something on the TV in the morning and it keeps him busy all day. What he types doesn&#65533;t go anywhere it just stays on a mainframe in the basement. It can be read by anyone else in the building but that&#65533;s it. We got them all in here conspiracy theorists, racists, nationalists. They&#65533;ve created a world within a world really...&#65533; Her voice trailed away and she stared down the corridor for a while then added &#65533;So long are two things are different neither will come to be in the other and so become at once both one and two.&#65533;

Dirk gave her a puzzled look &#65533;You mean their brains are fried?&#65533;

&#65533;Fried?&#65533; Killfile smiled at Dirk &#65533;No that was Plato&#65533;. Then the smile fell from her face. &#65533;You must remember, mister, plate o...&#65533;

Mike Corley FAQ version 0.1
first edition 5th May 1996
last updated 5th May 1996
Iain L M Hotchkies iain@XXXXX.demon.co.uk

Mike Corley is a 'net personality' who has been active on the following newsgroups (uk.misc,uk.legal,uk.politics,uk.media,soc.culture.british) since....? Well, at least as far back as the summer of 1995.

He posts long tracts, the tone of which approximates that which one might expect from a reasonably intelligent paranoid schizophrenic.

No details are known of Mike's 'real' personal life or background. Once would presume that he came from a reasonable family and was reasonably well educated before the first symptoms of schizophrenia began.

Schizophrenia: Clinical features
(from the Oxford Textbook of Psychiatry, 2nd Edition)

The acute syndrome

Some of the main clinical features are illustrated by a short description of a patient. A previously healthy 20-year-old male student had been behaving in an increasingly odd way. At times he appeared angry and told his friends that he was being persecuted; at other times he was seen to be laughing to himself for no apparent reason. For several months he had seemed increasingly preoccupied with his own thoughts. His academic work had deteriorated. When interviewed, he was restless and awkward. He described hearing voices commenting on his actions and abusing him. He said he believed that the police had conspired with his university teachers to harm his brain with poisonous gases and take away his thoughts. He also believed that other people could read his thoughts.

This case history illustrates the following common features of acute schizophrenia: prominent persecutory ideas with accompanying hallucinations; gradual social withdrawal and impaired performance at work; and the odd idea that other people can read one's thoughts.

In appearance and behaviour some patients with acute schizophrenia are entirely normal. Others seem awkward in their social behaviour, preoccupied and withdrawn, or otherwise odd. Some patients smile or laugh without obvious reason. Some appear to be constantly perplexed. Some are restless and noisy, or show sudden and unexpected changes of behaviour. Others retire from company, spending a long time in their rooms, perhaps lying immobile on the bed apparently preoccupied in thought.

The speech often reflects an underlying thought disorder. In the early stages, there is vagueness in the patient's talk that makes it difficult to grasp his meaning. Some patients have difficulty in dealing with abstract ideas (a phenomenon called concrete thinking). Other patients become preoccupied with vague pseudoscientific or mystical ideas.

When the disturbance is more severe two characteristic kinds of abnormality may occur. Disorders of the stream of thought include pressure of thought, poverty of thought, and thought blocking. Thought withdrawal (the conviction that one's thoughts have been taken away) is sometimes classified as a disorder of the stream of thought, but it is more usefully considered as a form of delusion.

Loosening of association denotes a lack of connection between ideas. This may be detected in illogical thinking (knight's move) or talking past the point (Vorbeireden). In the severest form of loosening the structure and coherence of thinking is lost, so that utterances are jumbled (word salad or verbigeration). Some patients use ordinary words in unusual ways (paraphrasias or metonyms), and a few coin new words (neologisms).

Abnormalities of mood are common, and of three main kinds. First, there may be sustained abnormalities of mood such as anxiety, depression, irritability, or euphoria. Secondly, there may be blunting of affect, sometimes known as flattening of affect. Essentially this is sustained emotional indifference or diminution of emotional response. Thirdly, there is incongruity of affect. Here the emotion is not necessarily diminished, but it is not in keeping with the mood that would ordinarily be expected. For example, a patient may laugh when told about a bereavement. This third abnormality is often said to be highly characteristic of schizophrenia, but different interviewers often disagree about its presence.

Auditory hallucinations are among the most frequent symptoms. They may take the form of noises, music, single words, brief phrases, or whole conversations. They may be unobtrusive or so severe as to cause great distress. Some voices seem to give commands to the patient. Some patients hear their own thoughts apparently spoken out loud either as they think them (Gedankenlautwerden) or immediately afterwards (echo de la pensee). Some voices seem to discuss the patient in the third person. Others comment on his actions. As described later, these last three symptoms have particular diagnostic value.

Visual hallucinations are less frequent and usually occur with other kinds of hallucination. Tactile, olfactory, gustatory, and somatic hallucinations are reported by some patients; they are often interpreted in a delusional way, for example hallucinatory sensations in the lower abdomen are attributed to unwanted sexual interference by a persecutor.

Delusions are characteristic. Primary delusions are infrequent, and difficult to identify with certainty. Delusions may originate against a background of so-called primary delusional mood - Wahnstimmung. Persecutory delusions are common, but not specific to schizophrenia. Less common but of greater diagnostic value are delusions of reference and of control, and delusions about the possession of thought. The latter are delusions that thoughts are being inserted into or withdrawn from one's mind, or broadcast to other people.

In acute schizophrenia orientation is normal. Impairment of attention and concentration is common, and may produce apparent difficulties in remembering, though memory is not impaired. So-called experiences result from illness, but usually ascribe them to the malevolent actions of other people. This lack of insight is often accompanied by unwillingness to accept treatment.

Schizophrenic patients do not necessarily experience all these symptoms. The clinical picture is variable, as described later in this chapter. The table below lists the most frequent symptoms found in one large survey.

The most frequent symptoms of acute schizophrenia (World Health Organization 1973)

Symptom Frequency (%)

Lack of insight 97
Auditory hallucinations 74
Ideas of reference 70
Suspiciousness 66
Flatness of affect 66
Voices speaking to the patient 65
Delusional mood 64
Delusions of persecution 64
Thought alienation 52
Thoughts spoken aloud 50

Various theories exist about Mike Corley:

1) he exists and is disturbed and has net access and for reasons uncertain spams a selected number of newsgroups on a regular basis - if you are reading this FAQ then you will almost certainly have seen

one of his posts.

2) Mike Corley is a 'virtual schizophrenic'. Mike displays the relevant features so well that some people think he may be a construction of one or more people with intimate knowledge of mental illness and the mentally ill. Perhaps they wish to monitor the effects on the internet of the posts of a schizophrenic. Moving into X-Files territory a bit, ourselves, here.

Mike's posts attract different responses:

1) cruel, humourous, dismissive posts from those who've seen his posts many times and have become generally irritated by his behaviour while accepting that he probably has a mental illness.

2) posts from Corley-newbies - those who have come across relateviely few of Mike's posts. These may be humorouous or disbelieving.

3) posts from people who have been sucked in (for one reason or another) into Mike's Wild & Wacky World (TM)

That's enough for now.

684. MI5 Persecution: Website Index (2642)

Persecuted by the Security Service

Since June 1990 the British security service MI5 has waged a campaign of harassment against a UK citizen, through the broadcast and print media, verbal abuse at work, and molestation in public and during travel.

Despite widespread knowledge of the campaign in the UK and discussion of its characteristics on Usenet for over three years, it continues today both in Britain and North America. Its cause and basis is xenophobia on the basis of the genetic accident of mental illness, coupled with discrimination against an inferior "foreigner" whom they condemn as "not up to British Standards".

If this is your first visit to this site, please read the FAQ first. Feel free to contact the author with any questions.

Frequently Asked Questions article outlines the parameters of the persecution. Who is involved, and why?
What technical and social means do they employ? What response have I made, and why has their campaign yet to be exposed?

The UK Security Services which are believed to be behind it all. Domestic security is the province of MI5 while the secret intelligence service MI6 combats foes (and its former employees) on foreign shores.

Usenet archive chronicling the (sometimes very enthusiastic) exchanges which have taken place on UK-local newsgroups since May 1995. Make your mark on the continuing discussion!

Believe it or not, a few items of evidence have been recorded. Although none of them is particularly conclusive, by presenting them I hope to explain what I understand from some television and radio programmes.
Most of the "clinching" material was aired in 1990-92, and no recordings exist now, which is quite unfortunate.

My complaints to the BBC and MI5 (via the Security Service Tribunal and Interception of Communications Tribunal), and their response to my challenges, are recorded here. Basically they deny everything, they have put their denials (mostly - Buerk and Lewis refused) in writing, and I don't believe them. Part of the website also documents media coverage of my campaign to expose the persecution.

Faxed articles to, and responses from British organisations including Parliament and UK media. Over 24,259 faxes in all were sent from 1998 to 2000. Their aim was to boot discussion of the persecution into the public domain, and that aim was not accomplished.

20,000 Reward Offered to Expose the Conspiracy

I am making a pledge for information directly leading to the exposing of the "BBC Newscaster Conspiracy". The exposing would specifically need to lead to a legally binding admission from Martyn Lewis or Michael Buerk of the BBC they they were watching me through the TV set.

I would be happy (delighted, in fact) to pay GBP 20,000 sterling in reward for the above admission.

Funny, I didn't read a damn thing in there about abuse . . . however, a quick search DID reveal this:

http://www2.verizon.net/policies/acceptable_use.asp

ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY
1. This is Verizon's policy on the acceptable use of the Service. It is designed to help protect the Service, Verizon's customers and the Internet community, from irresponsible or illegal activities.

2. Verizon reserves the right to deny Service to you, or immediately to terminate your Service for material breach, if your use of the Service or your use of an alias or the aliases of additional users on your account, whether explicitly or implicitly, and in the sole discretion of Verizon: (a) is obscene, indecent, pornographic, sadistic, cruel or racist in nature, or of a sexually explicit or graphic nature; (b) espouses, promotes or incites bigotry, hatred or racism; (c) might be legally actionable for any reason, (d) is objectionable for any reason, or (e) in any manner violates the terms of this Acceptable Use Policy.

3. You may NOT use the Service as follows: (a) for any unlawful, improper or illegal purpose or activity; (b) to post or transmit information or communications that, whether explicitly stated, implied, or suggested through use of symbols, are _obscene, indecent, pornographic, sadistic, cruel, or racist in content, or of a sexually explicit or graphic nature_; or which espouses, promotes or incites bigotry, hatred or racism; or which might be legally actionable for any reason; (c) to access or attempt to access the accounts of others, to spoof or attempt to spoof the URL or DNS or IP addresses of Verizon or any other entity, or to attempt to penetrate or penetrate security measures of Verizon or other entities' systems ("hacking") whether or not the intrusion results in corruption or loss of data; (d) to bombard individuals or newsgroups or community message boards with uninvited communications, data or information, or other similar activities, including _but not limited to "spamming", "flaming"_ or denial or distributed denial of service attacks; (e) to transmit unsolicited voluminous emails (for example, spamming) or to intercept, interfere with or redirect email intended for third parties using the Service; (f) to introduce viruses, worms, harmful code and/or Trojan horses on the Internet; (g) to post information on newsgroups or community message boards which is not in the topic area or charter (e.g. off-topic posting) of the newsgroup or community message board; (h) to interfere with another person's usage or enjoyment of the Internet or this Service; (i) _to post or transmit information or communications that are defamatory, fraudulent, obscene_ or deceptive, including but not limited to scams such as "make-money-fast" schemes or "pyramid/chain" letters; (j) to damage the name or reputation of Verizon, its parent, affiliates and subsidiaries, or any third parties; (k) to transmit confidential or proprietary information, except solely at your own risk; (l) to violate Verizon's or any third party's copyright, trademark, proprietary or other intellectual property rights, including trade secret rights; (m) to use more than one IP address obtained from Verizon; (n) to generate excessive amounts (as determined by Verizon in its sole discretion) of Internet traffic, or to disrupt net user groups or email use by others; (o) to engage in activities designed to or having the effect of degrading or denying Service to Verizon users or others (including activities that compromise a server, router, circuit, software or other Internet component; (p) to use any name or mark of Verizon, its parent, affiliates or subsidiaries, as a hypertext link to any Web site or in any advertising publicity or other commercial manner; (q) to use the Service to operate a server in a manner that interferes with the network or other users' use of the Service; (r) to use the Service or the Internet in a manner intended to threaten, harass, or intimidate; (s) to cause the screen to "scroll" faster than other subscribers or users are able to type to it, or any action that has a similar disruptive effect, on or through the Service; (t) to use the Service to disrupt the normal flow of online dialogue, (u) to use the Service to violate any operating rule, policy or guideline of any other online services provider or interactive service; (v) to attempt to subvert or to aid third parties to subvert, the security of any computer facility or system connected to the Internet; (w) to impersonate any Verizon employee or official or other person or use a false name while using the Service or implying an association with Verizon; (x) to install "auto-responders," "cancel-bots" or similar automated or manual routines which generate excessive amounts of net traffic, or disrupt net user groups or email use by others; (y) to make false or unverified complaints against any Verizon subscriber, or otherwise abusing any of Verizon's complaint response procedures; (z) to use software or any other device that would allow your account to stay logged on while you are not actively using the Service, unless you are a Broadband customer; (aa) to export software or any information in violation of US export laws; (bb) to use the Service in contravention of the limitations of the pricing plan you have chosen; (cc) for Broadband customers who use static IP address, to use an IP address other than the one assigned by Verizon; (dd) for customer who have been assigned a dynamic IP address to use such IP address to circumvent the changing of IP addresses assigned by the Service or (ee) to open connections to more than one Verizon Usenet news service at a time.

Usenet Policy and Posting Restrictions: Usenet comprises a system of bulletin boards called newsgroups. Usenet access is provided to Internet access customers of Verizon through the Verizon network. Verizon Usenet may not be accessed via any other network. You may open no more than five simultaneous connections to newsgroups at any one time. You may not rapidly open and close or create connections for users other than yourself (our Subscriber). Verizon will carry newsgroups at their sole discretion. Requests to add a newsgroup, from any source, will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis, and added at Verizon sole discretion. You must familiarize yourself with the subjects and established guidelines and restrictions of any newsgroup in which you participate and we reserve the right, in our sole discretion to terminate your Service in the event you violate newsgroup guidelines or restrictions.

yep this b1tch is violated several of knology's term of service agreement.
1-877-KNOLOGY.

APPROPRIATE USE POLICY (AUP)
Copyright 1999 Knology Inc.
ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

Our Appropriate Use Policy (AUP) is designed to help protect our customers, and the Internet community from irresponsible or illegal activities. As good net citizens, we prohibit the impersonation of others, unsolicited commercial appeals, and any disruption of Internet services.

Knology Inc. may revise this Acceptable Use Policy without notice at any time by posting a new version of this document on our corporate web site at http://www.knology.com/legal/aup. As a result users should check this document frequently to ensure they are in compliance with most recent version. In the event there is a conflict between any subscriber agreement and this policy, the terms of this policy will govern.

The Appropriate Use Policy governs all services provided by Knology Inc. and its partners provided for customer use. The Services shall be defined as residential dedicated cable modem Internet access, email, and web storage space and newsgroup services.

Section 1. Violations and Descriptions of Appropriate Use

* General Violations
* Inappropriate Content
* E-mail
* Web Space
* Newsgroups
* Internet Relay Chat (IRC)
* Financial
* Excessive bandwidth or disk utilization
* Line of service demarcation

General Violations of the Acceptable Use Policy

Impersonation/Forgery: Adding, removing, or modifying identifying network header information (a.k.a. "spoofing") in an effort to deceive or mislead is prohibited. Attempting to impersonate any person by using forged headers or other identifying information is especially frowned upon. Please note the use of anonymous re-mailers and nicknames does not constitute impersonation.

Network unfriendly activity: Any activities which adversely affect the ability of other people or systems to use Knology services or the Internet is prohibited. This includes "denial of service" (DOS) attacks against another network host or individual user.

Privacy violations: Attempts, whether successful or unsuccessful, to gain access to any computer system or customer's data, without consent, are prohibited.

Threats: Threats of bodily harm or destruction of property are always prohibited.

Inappropriate Content

There is content on the Internet or otherwise available through the Services, which some may find offensive or disturbing. It is possible to obtain access to content, which is pornographic or offensive. Neither Knology Inc. nor any of its content distributors can assume any responsibility for the content contained on the Internet or otherwise available through the Service. You must assume the risk of accessing content through the Services, and neither Knology Inc. nor any its distribution affiliates shall have any liability for any claims, losses, damages, suits or proceedings arising out of or otherwise related to access to such content.

You are solely responsible for any information, which you publish on the web or other Internet Services. You must ensure that the receipt of the content is appropriate. You must take appropriate precautions to prevent minors from viewing inappropriate content. Knology Inc. reserves the right to refuse to post or to remove and information or materials, in whole or in part, that it, in its sole discretion, deems to be offensive, indecent, or otherwise inappropriate regardless of whether such material is unlawful.

Knology Inc. has no obligation to monitor transmissions made on the Services. Knology Inc. does however, have the right to monitor transmissions at any time.

E-mail

Commercial e-mail: Sending unsolicited commercial email is prohibited. Using a Knology e-mail or website address to collect responses from unsolicited commercial e-mail is prohibited. This includes but is not limited to, bulk mailing of commercial advertising, informational announcements, charity requests, petitions for signatures and political or religious messages. Such messages may only be sent to those who have explicitly requested them.

The Services may not be used to collect email from unsolicited email sent from accounts on other Internet resources or email services which violates this policy or the acceptable use policy of any other Internet Service Provider. In addition, unsolicited email may not direct the recipient to any web site or other resource, which uses the Services.

Mail Bombing: Sending large volumes of unsolicited e-mail is prohibited. The propagation of chain letters is similarly prohibited, whether or not the recipient wishes to receive such mailings.

Harassment: Sending threatening or harassing email is prohibited. If after being requested to stop, a Knology user persists in emailing another Internet user, Knology may intervene. Extremely threatening or harassing e-mail is always prohibited.

Knology Inc. is not responsible for the forwarding of email sent to any account, which has been suspended or terminated. Such mail will be returned to sender, ignored, or deleted at Knology Inc. sole discretion.

Web Space

As part of the Services, Knology Inc. provides storage space and access for web pages through its personal web hosting services. You are solely responsible for any information you publish within this personal storage space. All content published within this space must honor all aspects of the inappropriate content clause of this Acceptable Use Policy.

Newsgroups

Messages posted to newsgroups must comply with the written charters of FAQ's for those newsgroups. Advertisements, solicitations, or other commercial messages should be posted only in those newsgroups whose characters of FAQ's explicitly permit them. You are responsible for determining the policies of a given newsgroup before posting to it.

Posting or cross-posting the same or substantially similar messages to more than seven newsgroups is prohibited.

Do not post binary files to USENET groups not specifically named for such purposed, namely the *.binaries and .pictures hierarchies. Binary postings are not allowed in any knology. newsgroup, with the exception of small test postings to knology.test. Use your Knology FTP and web space to distribute binaries.

Newsgroup spamming: Spam is, first and foremost, a numerical metric-Posting substantively similar articles individually to multiple newsgroups is spamming by definition. This form of Spam is sometimes referred to as "excessive multi-posting" (EMP). Knology considers "multi-posting" to 7 or more groups within a two week sliding window to be excessive. Knology servers currently limit the number of allowable "cross-posts" to 7. The full version of the clarification and definition of what constitutes Spam is posted regularly to the newsgroup news.admin.net-abuse.misc. This article is posted once per week and is intended to describe the current consensus Spam thresholds and ensure that the definitions of the terms are available. It is believed that most Spam cancelers use these definitions and thresholds.

Flames, hostile attacks, or invectives aimed at a group or an individual poster, are generally considered inappropriate Knology service groups. Flames in the non-service groups are not encouraged. Many newsreaders offer filtering capabilities that will bring certain messages to your attention or skip over them all together (kill files).

You may not forge or remove header information. This includes attempts, whether successful or unsuccessful, to circumvent the approval process for posting to moderated groups or the issuance of news control messages. Knology may cancel such articles.

You may not cancel messages other than your own. You may cancel posts forged in your name.

Internet Relay Chat (IRC)

The Services may be used to participate in "chat" discussions. Knology Inc. will not monitor the contents of these discussions and is not liable for the contents of any communications made via Internet chat.

The Service may not be used to send messages which disrupt another user's equipment, including software, hardware, and user display.

These Services may not be used to "flood" a chat room or to perform acts of "flooding" of chat services. Flooding is defined as the deliberate act of repeating text-generating actions in quick succession in order to prevent other service users from utilizing the chat service.

The use of IRC "Bots" is prohibited, as is the violation of any accepted policies on IRC servers. If Knology is banned from a server, the offending account will be terminated.

Any computer or other device connected to through the services may not maintain more than three simultaneous chat connections. This includes the use of automated programs, such as "bot" or "clones".

The Service may not be used to access any chat server in violation of the acceptable use policy of that server. The Services may not be used to manipulate any chat server in order to disconnect or harass other Internet users, or to gain unauthorized access to network resources.

A customer may not use the Services to connect to chat servers or channels from which they have previously banned.

Financial

Reselling service without express written consent from Knology, or offering any public information service, such as running a web server or FTP server, is prohibited. Untimely payment of any and all amounts due may result in account cancellation.

Excessive Bandwidth or Disk Utilization

Knology reserves the right to set limits on bandwidth and disk utilization, and use in excess of those limits is not permitted. The total number of bytes transferred from an account's Web and FTP space determines bandwidth utilization. The total number of bytes required to store an account's Web, FTP, and Mail data determines disk utilization.

If excessive bandwidth or disk space utilization is determined to adversely affect Knology's ability to provide service, immediate action will be taken. The account owner will be notified by e-mail as soon as practicable.

Line of Service Demarcation

Knology Inc. will provide technical support for one modem and one computer connection to the Services of the network. Knology Inc. or any member of its technical support team does not support any additional internal networking within the customer's premise, regardless of who installed it.

Knology is not responsible for supporting and shared networking printer devices or other shared resources within the customer's premise.

Section 2. Reporting to Knology Abuse

If you are aware of a potential inappropriate use, please direct the information to Knology's abuse staff at abuse@knology.net. The staff will investigate potential violations carefully before taking action.

Contact personnel for abuse notification are as follows:

* General abuse e-mail account: abuse@knology.net. This account is checked daily.
* For network security related abuse (for networks outside of Knology) abuse@knology.net
* For questions about the AUP and internal concerns among Knology modem users (inquiries or complaints from users inside Knology's network) abuse@knology.net

All complaints we receive will be actively investigated, and action will be taken when and where it is appropriate. Depending upon the severity of the abuse and the history of the account involved, we may take any one or more of the following actions:

* issue warnings: written or verbal
* suspend newsgroup posting suspend the account

Section 3. Rationale and Ruminations

Rationale

This Section attempts to provide a general understanding of Knology's Policy on the Appropriate Use of Knology Services. Common sense and judgment are a necessary part of any system of rules, and this AUP is no exception. Of course, flagrant or repeated violations of the policy are viewed in a very different light than minor infractions. Knology considers net-abuse an action that undermines the ability of the Internet to serve as a discussion medium. In addition, net-abuse may be a violation of state or federal law, or the laws of other countries.

Protection of our customers and our resources, the ability to provide quality service to our customers, conformance with existing law, and the protection of our reputation as a service provider are all contributing factors to decisions on AUP violations.

It is our intention to allow Knology customers access to everything the Internet has to offer with minimal or no interference. Our belief in free speech is a firm commitment to our customers. However, just as free speech does not include the right to shout "Fire" in a crowded theater, certain activities are considered inappropriate by the Internet community at large and cannot be permitted under the guise of free speech.

Knology does not censor the content of any newsgroups. We believe such choices should be left to the individual. We do advise our users that tools are available to screen an account's access to newsgroups one considers offensive. It is the account owner's responsibility to make use of such tools if desired.

Knology does not monitor the activity of accounts except for measurements of system utilization and billing records. However, in our efforts to promote good citizenship within the Internet community, if we become aware of inappropriate use of Knology service, we will respond.

If a Knology account is used to violate the AUP, we reserve the right to terminate service without notice. Our preferred course of action would be to advise the account owner of the inappropriate behavior and corrective action necessary. However, flagrant violations of the AUP may result in immediate termination of service.

In the event that an account is temporarily inactivated as a result of any prohibited activities, the account may be subject to reactivation charges and/or deposit requirements determined by Knology.

Privacy

It may be necessary for Knology employees to examine system accounting logs and other records to resolve system problems. Knology reserves the right to access an account's mailbox to resolve system problems or mail system errors.

In addition, Knology will cooperate with the appropriate legal authorities in investigating claims of illegal activity, including but not limited to illegal transfer or use of copyrighted material, postings or e-mail containing threats of violence, or other illegal activity.

Knology makes no guarantee and assumes no liability for the security of any data on any server including "secure servers".

Our customers are reminded that no computer system should be considered safe from intrusion. E-mail may pass through many computer systems, and should not be considered a secure means of communication unless encrypted. Even then, information is only secure as the encryption method.

Policies & Procedures

"WE", "US" AND "OUR" REFER TO KNOLOGY, INC. "YOU" AND "YOUR" REFER TO YOU AS OUR CUSTOMER. "TERMS" MEANS THESE GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS. "SERVICE(S)" REFERS TO ANY CABLE SERVICES, INTERNET SERVICES AND/OR TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES FOR WHICH WE ACCEPT YOUR ORDER, ALONG WITH ANY RELATED INSTALLATION, MAINTENANCE OR REPAIR SERVICES WE PROVIDE TO YOU. "EQUIPMENT" MEANS ANY HARDWARE OR SOFTWARE WE USE OR PROVIDE TO YOU IN CONNECTION WITH SERVICES.

I. TERMS APPLICABLE TO ALL SERVICES.

1. OUR DUTIES. SUBJECT TO THESE TERMS, WE WILL PROVIDE YOU SERVICES AND YOU WILL PAY FOR THOSE SERVICES. YOU AGREE THAT THE TERMS INCLUDE, AND INCORPORATE BY THIS REFERENCE, OUR RESIDENTIAL INTERNET APPROPRIATE USE POLICY (AUP), A CURRENT COPY OF WHICH CAN BE FOUND ON THE INTERNET AT WWW.KNOLOGY.COM, AND YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT YOU HAVE REVIEWED, UNDERSTAND AND AGREE TO THE AUP. THESE TERMS WILL APPLY TO ANY ORDERS YOU PLACE WITH US THAT WE ACCEPT. WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO AMEND OR MODIFY THESE TERMS (INCLUDING THE AUP) BY POSTING REVISED TERMS ON OUR WEBSITE AND BY GIVING YOU NOTICE OF SUCH REVISIONS. YOU AGREE THAT YOUR FAILURE TO CANCEL ALL SERVICES WITHIN TEN (10) DAYS AFTER RECEIVING NOTICE OF REVISED TERMS WILL SIGNIFY YOUR AGREEMENT TO THOSE REVISED TERMS.

2. AVAILABILITY OF THE SERVICE. WE ARE NOT LIABLE TO YOU FOR SERVICE PERFORMANCE ISSUES WHICH ARE CAUSED IN WHOLE OR IN PART BY YOU, BY YOUR EQUIPMENT (E.G., VCR, TV, COMPUTER) OR EQUIPMENT YOU INSTALL OR MAINTAIN OR HAVE A THIRD PARTY INSTALL OR MAINTAIN. WE ARE NOT LIABLE FOR UNAVAILABILITY OF, OR ADVERSE PERFORMANCE OF, SERVICES DURING PERIODS OF MODIFICATIONS, UPGRADES, RELOCATION, REPAIRS TO THE EQUIPMENT USED BY US OR A SUPPLIER.

3. EQUIPMENT.
(A) ACCESS. WE MAY NEED TO INSTALL, MAINTAIN, REPAIR OR REMOVE EQUIPMENT ON YOUR PREMISES IN CONNECTION WITH SERVICES, AND YOU AGREE TO COOPERATE WITH US IN GOOD FAITH TO ENABLE US TO INSTALL THE EQUIPMENT. YOU HEREBY GRANT TO US AND OUR AGENTS FULL RIGHT AND AUTHORITY OF ENTRY AND ACCESS, ACROSS, UNDER AND OVER THE PREMISES AND ANY PROPERTY NECESSARY TO REACH THE PREMISES OR EQUIPMENT, FOR THE PURPOSE OF INSTALLING, INSPECTING, MAINTAINING, REPAIRING AND REMOVING THE EQUIPMENT, RUNNING WIRING THROUGH THE PREMISES THROUGH INTERNAL AND EXTERIOR WALLS, AND FOR DOING ALL THINGS NECESSARY AND REASONABLE WITH RESPECT TO THE SERVICES OR EQUIPMENT, FOR AS LONG AS WE PROVIDE SERVICE OR FOR AS LONG AS EQUIPMENT IS LOCATED ON THE PREMISES. YOU REPRESENT AND WARRANT TO US THAT (A) YOU ARE EITHER THE OWNER OF THE PREMISES OR A TENANT OR OTHER LAWFUL OCCUPANT OF THE PREMISES AND (B) YOU HAVE THE AUTHORITY TO GRANT US THE RIGHT AND AUTHORITY OF ENTRY AND ACCESS STATED ABOVE.
(B) OWNERSHIP OF EQUIPMENT. WE MAY PERMIT YOU TO BUY CERTAIN EQUIPMENT FROM US; IF YOU BUY SUCH EQUIPMENT, YOU AGREE TO PAY US ITS FULL RETAIL PRICE, PLUS TAX. EXCEPT FOR INSIDE WIRING, WHICH WE CONSIDER YOUR PROPERTY REGARDLESS OF WHO INSTALLED IT, AND EQUIPMENT YOU BUY FROM US, THE EQUIPMENT IS, AND SHALL ALWAYS REMAIN, SOLELY AND EXCLUSIVELY OUR PROPERTY. YOU AGREE TO ABIDE AT ALL TIMES BY THE TERMS OF ANY AND ALL LICENSE AGREEMENTS ASSOCIATED WITH ANY EQUIPMENT WHICH CONSIST OF COMPUTER SOFTWARE OR FIRMWARE. CERTAIN EQUIPMENT MAY BE SUBJECT TO THIRD PARTY WARRANTIES WHICH MAY BE PASSED THROUGH US TO YOU AT NO ADDITIONAL CHARGE. WHERE YOU HAVE BOUGHT AND PAID FOR EQUIPMENT, WE WILL COMPLY WITH ALL REASONABLE REQUIREMENTS NECESSARY TO EFFECT THE PASS-THROUGH OF THE WARRANTY TO YOU. AT ITS SOLE OPTION, WE MAY REPLACE DEFECTIVE EQUIPMENT ON BEHALF OF THE MANUFACTURER, PROVIDED YOU FOLLOW ALL APPLICABLE PROCEDURES AND OBTAIN A RETURN MATERIALS AUTHORIZATION (RMA) NUMBER. WE MAY, AT OUR OPTION, SUPPLY NEW OR RECONDITIONED EQUIPMENT TO YOU. WE WILL HAVE NO LIABILITY WHATSOEVER TO YOU OR TO ANY THIRD PARTY FOR ANY LIABILITY, LOSS, DAMAGE, OR EXPENSE ARISING OUT OF EQUIPMENT PROVIDED BY YOU OR BY A THIRD PARTY. YOU WILL NOT MOVE THE EQUIPMENT FROM THE LOCATION WITHIN THE PREMISES WHERE IT IS INSTALLED OR PERMIT ANYONE ELSE TO DO SO WITHOUT OUR PRIOR WRITTEN PERMISSION. YOU WILL NOT OPEN, TAMPER WITH, MAKE ANY CHANGES TO, OR TRY TO REPAIR, THE EQUIPMENT, OR PERMIT ANYONE ELSE TO DO SO, WITHOUT OUR PRIOR WRITTEN PERMISSION. YOU ASSUME ALL RISK OF LOSS FOR ANY EQUIPMENT PROVIDED TO YOU OR LOCATED ON THE PREMISES.
(C) INSIDE WIRING. WE CONSIDER INSIDE WIRING TO BE YOUR PROPERTY, REGARDLESS OF WHO INSTALLED IT, AND IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO MAINTAIN AND REPAIR THE INSIDE WIRING. IF YOU HAVE US REPAIR OR MAINTAIN THE INSIDE WIRING AT THE PREMISES, WE MAY CHARGE YOU, AND YOU WILL PAY, ADDITIONAL FEES FOR THAT WORK BASED ON THE TIME AND MATERIALS REQUIRED TO COMPLETE THE REPAIR OR MAINTENANCE. YOU REPRESENT, WARRANT AND AGREE THAT THE INSIDE WIRING AT THE PREMISES WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH THE NORMAL OPERATIONS OF SERVICES OR OUR PROVISION OF SERVICES TO OTHER USERS. LINE ASSURE FOR CABLE TELEVISION COVERS THE COST OF TROUBLESHOOTING AND REPAIRING PROBLEMS WITH THE INTERNAL WIRING AND CONNECTORS THROUGHOUT A CUSTOMER&#65533;S HOME. IT IS AVAILABLE AT ONE LOW

MONTHLY FEE TO COVER THE WIRING AND CONNECTORS USED FOR CABLE TELEVISION SERVICES. LINE ASSURE DOES NOT COVER THE COST TO RUN AND INSTALL NEW OUTLETS, REPAIRS TO CUSTOMER OWNED EQUIPMENT, DAMAGE CAUSED BY ACTS OF GOD (FIRE, FLOOD, ETC.) OR BY WILLFUL DESTRUCTION, SERVICE PROBLEMS THAT WERE OBVIOUS AT THE TIME OF SUBSCRIPTION, OUTLETS THAT DO NOT MEET INDUSTRY STANDARDS, AND REPAIRS THAT CANNOT BE MADE DUE TO SAFETY CONCERNS.

4. CREDIT CHECK AND DEPOSITS. YOU GIVE US PERMISSION TO OBTAIN YOUR CREDIT INFORMATION FROM CONSUMER CREDIT REPORTING AGENCIES AT ANY TIME. IF WE BILL YOU FOR THE SERVICES AND WE DETERMINE THAT YOU MAY BE A CREDIT RISK FOR (1) UNSATISFACTORY CREDIT RATING; (2) INSUFFICIENT CREDIT HISTORY; (3) FRAUDULENT OR ABUSIVE USE OF ANY KNOLOGY SERVICES WITHIN THE LAST FIVE YEARS; OR (4) LATE PAYMENTS FOR CURRENT OR PRIOR BILLS, WE MAY REQUIRE A DEPOSIT (OR AN ADVANCE PAYMENT AS PERMITTED BY STATE LAW) TO ENSURE PAYMENT FOR THE SERVICES. THE AMOUNT OF THE DEPOSIT WILL BE NO MORE THAN ANY ESTIMATED ONE-TIME CHARGES REQUIRED FOR THE SERVICES, PLUS THREE MONTHS OF THE ESTIMATED AVERAGE PER-MINUTE CHARGES AND/OR MONTHLY FEES FOR THE SERVICES. WE WILL PAY SIMPLE INTEREST AT THE ANNUAL RATE DETERMINED BY THE STATE LAW WHERE YOU RECEIVE THE SERVICES. IF YOU FAIL TO PAY FOR THE SERVICES WHEN DUE, WE MAY USE THE DEPOSIT WITHOUT GIVING NOTICE TO YOU.

5. CREDIT LIMITS. IF WE BILL YOU FOR THE SERVICES, WE MAY SET A CREDIT LIMIT BASED ON YOUR PAYMENT HISTORY OR YOUR CREDIT SCORE FROM CONSUMER CREDIT REPORTING AGENCIES. IF WE DO THIS, WE WILL NOTIFY YOU OF YOUR INITIAL CREDIT LIMIT AND ALL CHANGES TO YOUR CREDIT LIMIT. IF YOU EXCEED YOUR CREDIT LIMIT, WE WILL RESTRICT YOUR ACCESS TO THE SERVICES. IF YOU FAIL TO MAKE TIMELY PAYMENTS, WE MAY ALSO LOWER YOUR CREDIT LIMIT.

6. CHARGES. EACH INVOICE FOR SERVICES IS DUE AND PAYABLE, AND YOU WILL PAY SUCH INVOICE IN FULL, WITHIN TWENTY-FIVE (25) DAYS OF YOUR RECEIPT OF THE INVOICE. YOU AGREE TO REVIEW EACH INVOICE PROMPTLY AND TO NOTIFY US OF ANY BILLING DISPUTE WITHIN FOURTEEN (14) DAYS OF RECEIPT OF THE INVOICE. YOU AGREE THAT, IF YOU DO NOT NOTIFY US OF A DISPUTE WITHIN FOURTEEN (14) DAYS OF RECEIPT OF THE INVOICE, YOU HAVE WAIVED ALL RIGHTS TO DISPUTE THAT INVOICE. YOU FURTHER AGREE TO PAY ANY SALES, GROSS RECEIPTS, USE, EXCISE, ACCESS OR OTHER LOCAL, STATE OR FEDERAL TAXES AND CHARGES IN CONNECTION WITH THE PROVISION, SALE OR USE OF THE SERVICES (EXCEPT FOR TAXES MEASURED ON OUR GROSS INCOME). YOU AGREE TO PAY INTEREST ON ANY AMOUNTS NOT PAID WHEN DUE, AT THE RATE OF 1.5% PER MONTH UNTIL SUCH AMOUNT IS PAID IN FULL. YOU AGREE THAT YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ALL CHARGES FOR USE OF SERVICES AND FOR RELATED EQUIPMENT, WHETHER OR NOT SUCH USE WAS AUTHORIZED BY YOU. YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT YOU HAVE BEEN PROVIDED WITH THE RATES AND CHARGES FOR SERVICES. RATES FOR INTERSTATE AND INTERNATIONAL LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE SERVICE ARE AVAILABLE ON-LINE AT WWW.KNOLOGY.COM.

7. TERM. THESE TERMS WILL REMAIN IN EFFECT UNTIL YOU ARE NO LONGER TAKING ANY SERVICES AND ALL OF OUR EQUIPMENT PROVIDED TO YOU OR INSTALLED ON THE PREMISES HAS BEEN RETURNED TO US AND YOU HAVE PAID ALL CHARGES INCURRED IN CONNECTION WITH SERVICES AND RELATED EQUIPMENT. ALL

SERVICES ARE PROVIDED TO YOU ON A MONTH-TO-MONTH BASIS. UPON CANCELLATION OR TERMINATION OF ANY SERVICE, YOU AGREE TO PROMPTLY RETURN TO US ANY RELATED EQUIPMENT LOCATED ON YOUR PREMISES (OTHER THAN EQUIPMENT YOU BOUGHT FROM US AND PAID FOR IN FULL) IN ITS ORIGINAL CONDITION AND WORKING ORDER, EXCEPT FOR NORMAL WEAR AND TEAR. IF WE HAVE TO RETRIEVE EQUIPMENT FROM YOU, YOU WILL PAY A $9.95 PICKUP FEE. IF EQUIPMENT IS LOST OR DAMAGED OR OTHERWISE NOT RETURNED TO US IN ITS ORIGINAL CONDITION AND WORKING ORDER, EXCEPT FOR NORMAL WEAR AND TEAR, YOU WILL PAY US ITS FULL RETAIL PRICE, PLUS TAX.

8. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY. OUR LIABILITY ARISING OUT OF OR IN CONNECTION WITH THESE TERMS, ANY SERVICES OR ANY EQUIPMENT (INCLUDING LIABILITY ARISING OUT OF OR IN CONNECTION WITH MISTAKES, ACCIDENTS, OMISSIONS, INTERRUPTIONS, ERRORS OR DEFECTS IN TRANSMISSION WITH RESPECT TO SERVICES OR EQUIPMENT) SHALL BE SUBJECT TO THE LIMITATIONS SET FORTH BELOW, AS WELL AS ANY LIMITATION CONTAINED ELSEWHERE IN THESE TERMS OR IN ANY APPLICABLE TARIFFS. OUR TOTAL LIABILITY TO YOU ARISING OUT OF OR IN CONNECTION WITH THESE TERMS OR ANY SERVICES IS LIMITED TO ACTUAL, DIRECT DAMAGES, BUT IN NO EVENT SHALL WE BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ANY AMOUNT IN EXCESS OF THE TOTAL AMOUNTS YOU PAID TO US FOR SERVICES DURING THE TWELVE (12) MONTH PERIOD PRIOR TO THE TIME WHEN THE LIABILITY AROSE. IN NO EVENT WILL WE OR OUR DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, STOCKHOLDERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS AND AFFILIATES BE LIABLE TO YOU OR TO ANY THIRD PARTY WITH RESPECT TO THESE TERMS, ANY SERVICES OR ANY EQUIPMENT FOR ANY TYPE OF INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, INCIDENTAL, RELIANCE, ACTUAL, SPECIAL, OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES, OR FOR ANY LOST PROFITS, LOST REVENUES, OR LOST SAVINGS OF ANY KIND, WHETHER ARISING UNDER A CONTRACT, WARRANTY, NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, OR OTHER THEORY, AND WHETHER OR NOT WE WERE ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES OR WHETHER OR NOT SUCH DAMAGES WERE FORESEEABLE. THESE LIMITS DO NOT APPLY TO DAMAGES FOR DEATH OR BODILY INJURY.

9. NO RESALE AND FIXED LOCATION USE. SERVICES AND EQUIPMENT ARE FOR YOUR EXCLUSIVE PERSONAL USE ONLY AND YOU WILL NOT SHARE, RESELL OR ASSIGN THE SERVICES OR ANY EQUIPMENT (OTHER THAN EQUIPMENT YOU BOUGHT FROM US), NOR ALLOW ANY THIRD PARTY TO USE THE SERVICES OR ANY EQUIPMENT, WITHOUT OUR PRIOR WRITTEN CONSENT. YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THE SERVICES ARE FIXED-LOCATION SERVICES AND MAY NOT BE MOVED TO, OR USED FROM, ANY LOCATION OTHER THAN THE LOCATION TO WHICH THE SERVICES ARE FIRST PROVIDED, WITHOUT PAYMENT OF NEW CONNECTION FEES AND ANY APPLICABLE EARLY CANCELLATION CHARGE, IF APPLICABLE. IF YOU CHANGE RESIDENCES, YOU SHALL PROMPTLY NOTIFY US.

10. EVENTS OF DEFAULT. YOU WILL BE "IN DEFAULT" IF (I) YOU FAIL TO MAKE PAYMENT WHEN DUE AND SUCH FAILURE REMAINS UNCORRECTED FOR FIVE (5) CALENDAR DAYS AFTER NOTICE BY US; OR (II) YOU BREACH ANY OTHER PROVISION OF THESE TERMS AND ANY SUCH FAILURE REMAINS UNCORRECTED FOR TEN (10) DAYS AFTER NOTICE BY US. WE MAY REFUSE, SUSPEND, DISCONTINUE, OR TERMINATE ANY SERVICE(S) AND REMOVE ANY AND ALL EQUIPMENT WITHOUT NOTICE IN THE EVENT (A) YOU ARE IN DEFAULT, OR (B) THE SERVICE IS USED IN A MANNER THAT VIOLATES THESE TERMS OR ADVERSELY AFFECTS OUR PROVISION OF

SERVICE TO YOU OR TO ANY OF OUR OTHER USERS. IN ADDITION, YOU AGREE THAT, IF YOU ARE IN DEFAULT, YOU WILL PAY ALL ATTORNEYS' FEES, COLLECTION FEES, LATE CHARGES AND ANY SIMILAR EXPENSES INCURRED BY US IN THE ENFORCEMENT OF OUR RIGHTS OR YOUR OBLIGATIONS.

11. INDEMNIFICATION. YOU HEREBY AGREE TO INDEMNIFY, DEFEND AND HOLD HARMLESS US, OUR DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, STOCKHOLDERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS AND AFFILIATES FROM AND AGAINST ANY LIABILITY, LOSS, DAMAGE, OR EXPENSE, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, REASONABLE ATTORNEYS' FEES ARISING OUT OF, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, ANY ACTUAL OR THREATENED CLAIM, SUIT, ACTION, OR PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF (I) USE OR MISUSE OF ANY SERVICE OR EQUIPMENT BY YOU OR ANYONE ELSE ACCESSING SERVICES OR RELATED EQUIPMENT, WHETHER AUTHORIZED BY YOU OR NOT, OR (II) ANY ACT OR OMISSION BY YOU OR ANYONE ELSE ACCESSING SERVICES OR RELATED EQUIPMENT, WHETHER AUTHORIZED BY YOU OR NOT WHICH VIOLATES, OR IS ALLEGED TO VIOLATE, THESE TERMS.

12. SELF-INSTALLATION. AT OUR SOLE OPTION, WE MAY PERMIT YOU TO PERFORM INSTALLATION OF EQUIPMENT (FOR EXAMPLE, NETWORK CARDS, INSIDE WIRING) OR TO HAVE INSTALLATION PERFORMED BY A THIRD PARTY SELECTED BY YOU. YOU AGREE THAT INSTALLATION OF EQUIPMENT BY YOU OR A THIRD PARTY CHOSEN BY YOU MAY PREVENT YOU FROM SUCCESSFULLY ACCESSING, OPERATING OR USING THE SERVICES, AND THAT SUCH INSTALLATION MAY CAUSE DAMAGE TO YOUR REAL PROPERTY OR PERSONAL PROPERTY (INCLUDING COMPUTERS, DATA, SOFTWARE, FILES OR PERIPHERALS), AND WE HAVE NO LIABILITY WHATSOEVER FOR ANY INABILITY TO USE THE SERVICES DUE TO INSTALLATION OF EQUIPMENT BY YOU OR A THIRD PARTY CHOSEN BY YOU. IN ADDITION, YOU HEREBY AGREE TO INDEMNIFY, DEFEND AND HOLD HARMLESS US, OUR DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, STOCKHOLDERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS AND AFFILIATES FROM AND AGAINST ANY LIABILITY, LOSS, DAMAGE, OR EXPENSE, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, REASONABLE ATTORNEYS' FEES ARISING OUT OF, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, ANY ACTUAL OR THREATENED CLAIM, SUIT, ACTION, OR PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF INSTALLATION OF EQUIPMENT BY YOU OR A THIRD PARTY CHOSEN BY YOU.

13. CUSTOMER SERVICE. OUR BUSINESS OFFICE IS OPEN FOR CUSTOMER VISITS MONDAY THROUGH FRIDAY, EXCEPT HOLIDAYS. OUR TELEPHONE NUMBER IS PRINTED ON YOUR MONTHLY BILL. WHEN YOU CALL ABOUT A SERVICE PROBLEM, A CUSTOMER SERVICE REPRESENTATIVE (CSR), AVAILABLE 24 HOURS, WILL ATTEMPT TO DETERMINE THE NATURE OF THE PROBLEM. IF POSSIBLE, THE CSR WILL HELP YOU RESOLVE THE PROBLEM OVER THE TELEPHONE. IF THE PROBLEM CANNOT BE RESOLVED DURING THE CALL, THE CSR WILL SCHEDULE A SERVICE TECHNICIAN TO VISIT YOUR HOME, USUALLY WITHIN 24 HOURS OF THE TIME YOU CALL. IF OUR WORKLOAD PERMITS, THE SERVICE TECHNICIAN WILL BE DISPATCHED THAT VERY SAME DAY. FOR INSTALLATION, SERVICE CALLS OR OTHER INSTALLATION ACTIVITIES, WE WILL USE BEST EFFORTS TO ARRIVE DURING THE 'APPOINTMENT WINDOW' WE SPECIFY (EITHER A SPECIFIC TIME OR, AT A MAXIMUM, A FOUR-HOUR TIME BLOCK DURING BUSINESS HOURS). WE WILL NOT CANCEL OUR APPOINTMENT WITH YOU AFTER THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS IN THE BUSINESS DAY PRIOR TO A SCHEDULED APPOINTMENT. IF WE ARE RUNNING LATE FOR AN APPOINTMENT, WE WILL ATTEMPT TO CONTACT YOU AND WILL, AS NECESSARY, ATTEMPT TO RESCHEDULE TO A TIME WHICH IS CONVENIENT FOR YOU.

14. NO LIABILITY FOR CONTENT. YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT WE HAVE NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR, OR OBLIGATION TO CONTROL, THE CONTENT AVAILABLE THROUGH THE SERVICES, AND THAT YOU ACCESS, USE AND TRANSMIT SUCH CONTENT AT YOUR OWN RISK. YOU AGREE THAT NEITHER WE NOR OUR DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, STOCKHOLDERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS AND AFFILIATES WILL HAVE ANY LIABILITY WHATSOEVER FOR ANY CLAIMS, LOSSES, ACTIONS, DAMAGES, SUITS OR PROCEEDINGS ARISING OUT OF OR OTHERWISE RELATING TO THE ACCESS, USE OR TRANSMISSION OF SUCH CONTENT BY YOU OR BY ANY THIRD PARTY. HOWEVER, WE WILL HAVE THE RIGHT (BUT NOT THE OBLIGATION) TO ELECTRONICALLY MONITOR, FROM TIME TO TIME, CONTENT ACCESSED, TRANSMITTED OR USED BY YOU OR ANYONE ELSE ACCESSING SERVICES OR RELATED EQUIPMENT, WHETHER AUTHORIZED BY YOU OR NOT, AND TO DISCLOSE ANY INFORMATION AS NECESSARY TO SATISFY ANY LAW, REGULATION OR OTHER GOVERNMENTAL REQUEST, TO OPERATE THE SERVICES PROPERLY OR TO PROTECT US OR OTHER USERS. WE HAVE THE RIGHT (BUT NOT THE OBLIGATION) TO POST OR TO REMOVE ANY INFORMATION OR MATERIALS, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, THAT WE, IN ITS SOLE DISCRETION, DEEM TO BE UNACCEPTABLE, UNDESIRABLE, OR IN VIOLATION OF THESE TERMS.

15. INFRINGEMENT. YOU HEREBY AGREE TO INDEMNIFY, DEFEND AND HOLD HARMLESS US, OUR DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, STOCKHOLDERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS AND AFFILIATES FROM AND AGAINST ANY LIABILITY, LOSS, DAMAGE, OR EXPENSE, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, REASONABLE ATTORNEYS' FEES ARISING OUT OF, OR IN CONNECTION WITH, ANY ACTUAL OR THREATENED CLAIM, SUIT, ACTION, OR PROCEEDING BASED UPON A CLAIM THAT THE USE OF THE EQUIPMENT OR SERVICES BY YOU OR ANYONE ELSE ACCESSING SERVICES OR RELATED EQUIPMENT, WHETHER AUTHORIZED BY YOU OR NOT, INFRINGES THE COPYRIGHT, PATENT, TRADEMARK, TRADE SECRET, CONFIDENTIALITY, PRIVACY, OR OTHER INDUSTRIAL OR INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS, PROPRIETARY RIGHTS OR CONTRACTUAL RIGHTS OF ANY THIRD PARTY.

16. ACTS BEYOND OUR CONTROL. WE WILL NOT BE IN BREACH OF OUR OBLIGATIONS UNDER THESE TERMS IF OUR PERFORMANCE IS DELAYED OR PREVENTED BY ANY ACT OF GOD, FIRE, NATURAL DISASTER, ACCIDENT, RIOTS, WAR, TERRORISM, ACTS OF GOVERNMENT, SHORTAGE OF EQUIPMENT, SERVICES OR MATERIALS FROM OUR VENDORS, FAILURE OF TRANSPORTATION OR COMMUNICATION, THIRD PARTY NON-PERFORMANCE (INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, THE FAILURE OR PERFORMANCE OF CARRIERS, SUPPLIERS AND SUBCONTRACTORS), OR ANY OTHER CAUSE BEYOND OUR REASONABLE CONTROL, AND, AT OUR ELECTION, THE TIME FOR OUR PERFORMANCE IS EXTENDED FOR LENGTH OF THE CONDITION THAT CAUSED THE DELAY OR PREVENTED THE PERFORMANCE.

IN ADDITION, OUR OBLIGATIONS HEREUNDER SHALL BE SUBJECT TO ANY APPLICABLE LAW, RULES OR REGULATIONS, AND ANY TARIFFS FILED BY US OR OUR AFFILIATES. IN THE EVENT OF A CONFLICT BETWEEN THE TERMS OF ANY APPLICABLE TARIFF, RULE, OR REGULATION AND THESE TERMS, THE TARIFF, RULE, OR REGULATION SHALL CONTROL WITH RESPECT TO SUCH CONFLICTING PROVISION, BUT ALL NON-CONFLICTING PROVISION OF THESE TERMS SHALL CONTINUE TO APPLY.

18. WARRANTIES. YOU AGREE THAT, EXCEPT FOR EXPRESS WARRANTIES SET FORTH IN THESE TERMS, ALL EQUIPMENT AND SERVICES ARE PROVIDED "AS IS", "WITH ALL FAULTS" AND "AS AVAILABLE", WITHOUT WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, AND ANY AND ALL WARRANTIES NOT EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN THESE TERMS, INCLUDING WITHOUT LIMITATION ANY WARRANTIES OF TITLE OR NONINFRINGEMENT, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, MERCHANTABILITY AND ANY WARRANTIES ARISING FROM A COURSE OF DEALING OR USAGE OF TRADE, ARE HEREBY EXCLUDED AND DISCLAIMED. WITHOUT LIMITING THE FOREGOING, WE DO NOT WARRANT UNINTERRUPTED USE OR OPERATION OF THE EQUIPMENT OR SERVICES OR THAT ANY DATA OR FILES SENT BY OR TO YOU WILL BE TRANSMITTED IN UNCORRUPTED FORM OR WITHIN A REASONABLE PERIOD OF TIME.

19. DISPUTE RESOLUTION. THE PARTIES ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THESE TERMS EVIDENCE A TRANSACTION IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE. THE UNITED STATES ARBITRATION ACT AND FEDERAL ARBITRATION LAW SHALL GOVERN THE INTERPRETATION AND ENFORCEMENT IF THESE TERMS AND PROCEEDINGS RELATED THERETO PURSUANT TO THIS ARBITRATION CLAUSE. THE ARBITRATOR SHALL HAVE NO AUTHORITY TO AWARD PUNITIVE DAMAGES OR ANY OTHER DAMAGES NOT MEASURED BY THE PREVAILING PARTY'S ACTUAL DAMAGES, NOR SHALL ANY PARTY SEEK PUNITIVE DAMAGES RELATING TO ANY MATTER ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT IN ANY OTHER FORUM.

20. SURVIVAL. THE OBLIGATIONS CONTAINED IN THIS AGREEMENT WITH RESPECT TO PAYMENT OF AMOUNTS DUE, LIMITATION OF LIABILITY, DISCLAIMERS OR EXCLUSIONS OF WARRANTIES, ARBITRATION AND INDEMNIFICATION SHALL SURVIVE TERMINATION OF THESE TERMS. EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY PROVIDED IN THESE TERMS, NEITHER PARTY MAY AMEND OR MODIFY THESE TERMS EXCEPT BY A WRITING SIGNED BY BOTH PARTIES.

21. ASSIGNMENT. YOU MAY NOT ASSIGN THIS AGREEMENT WITHOUT OUR PRIOR WRITTEN CONSENT.

22. ENTIRE AGREEMENT. THESE TERMS, AS MAY BE AMENDED FROM TIME TO TIME, ALONG WITH THE TERMS OF ANY APPLICABLE ORDERS ACCEPTED BY US AND ANY APPLICABLE TARIFFS, CONSTITUTE THE ENTIRE AGREEMENT OF THE PARTIES WITH RESPECT TO SERVICES AND EQUIPMENT, AND SUPERSEDE ALL PRIOR ORAL OR WRITTEN AGREEMENTS, UNDERSTANDINGS, REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES. IN THE EVENT OF A CONFLICT BETWEEN THE TERMS OF ANY APPLICABLE ORDERS AND THESE TERMS, THESE TERMS WILL CONTROL.

23. SEVERABILITY. ANY PROVISION OR PORTION OF THESE TERMS HELD OR DETERMINED BY A COURT (OR OTHER LEGAL AUTHORITY) OF COMPETENT JURISDICTION TO BE ILLEGAL, INVALID, OR UNENFORCEABLE IN ANY JURISDICTION SHALL BE DEEMED SEPARATE, DISTINCT AND INDEPENDENT, AND SHALL BE INEFFECTIVE TO THE EXTENT OF SUCH HOLDING OR DETERMINATION WITHOUT (I) INVALIDATING THE REMAINING PROVISIONS OF THIS AGREEMENT IN THAT JURISDICTION OR (II) AFFECTING THE LEGALITY, VALIDITY OR ENFORCEABILITY OF SUCH PROVISION IN ANY OTHER JURISDICTION.

II. ADDITIONAL TERMS APPLICABLE TO INTERNET SERVICES.

1. INTERNET SERVICES. "INTERNET SERVICES" MEANS THE HIGH SPEED INTERNET ACCESS, HIGH SPEED BANDWIDTH (PON), AND/OR WEB-HOSTING SERVICES FOR WHICH WE ACCEPT YOUR ORDER.

2. THIRD PARTY CHARGES. YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT YOU MAY INCUR CHARGES WITH THIRD PARTIES WHILE USING THE INTERNET SERVICES. FOR EXAMPLE, CHARGES MAY BE INCURRED AS A RESULT OF ACCESSING CERTAIN INFORMATION, OR PURCHASING OR SUBSCRIBING TO CERTAIN OFFERINGS, VIA THE INTERNET. YOU AGREE THAT ALL SUCH CHARGES, INCLUDING ALL APPLICABLE TAXES, SHALL BE PAID BY YOU AND ARE NOT OUR RESPONSIBILITY.

3. INSTALLATION.
(A) COMPUTER EQUIPMENT REQUIREMENT. YOU REPRESENT AND AGREE THAT YOU HAVE REVIEWED MATERIALS WHICH SET FORTH THE MINIMUM HARDWARE AND OPERATING SYSTEM REQUIREMENTS NECESSARY TO USE THE INTERNET SERVICES AND THAT THE COMPUTER IN WHICH EQUIPMENT WILL BE INSTALLED MEETS THESE MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS. FURTHER, YOU UNDERSTAND THAT YOU MUST POSSESS ORIGINAL (OR EQUIVALENT) MEDIA (CD, DISK, ETC.) FOR THE OPERATING SYSTEM OF THAT COMPUTER IN ORDER FOR INSTALLATION OF INTERNET SERVICES AND RELATED EQUIPMENT TO BE SUCCESSFUL.
(B) BACK-UP REQUIREMENTS. YOU ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT OUR INSTALLATION, USE, INSPECTION, MAINTENANCE, REPAIR AND REMOVAL OF THE EQUIPMENT USED FOR INTERNET SERVICES MAY RESULT IN SERVICE OUTAGE OR POTENTIAL DAMAGE TO YOUR COMPUTER, SOFTWARE, FILES, DATA AND/OR PERIPHERALS, AND THAT YOUR ARE SOLELY RESPONSIBLE FOR BACKING-UP ALL OF YOUR DATA PRIOR TO INSTALLATION OF THE EQUIPMENT AND PRIOR TO ANY INSPECTION, MAINTENANCE, REPAIR OR REMOVAL OF THE EQUIPMENT. NEITHER WE NOR ANY OF OUR DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, STOCKHOLDERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS AND AFFILIATES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY WHATSOEVER TO YOU OR TO ANY THIRD PARTY FOR ANY DAMAGE TO, OR LOSS OR DESTRUCTION OF, YOUR COMPUTER, SOFTWARE, FILES, DATA OR PERIPHERALS (EXCLUDING DAMAGES FOR DEATH OR BODILY INJURY).
(C) ACCESS AND FILE MODIFICATION. IN ORDER TO INSTALL THE EQUIPMENT, IT MAY BE NECESSARY TO OPEN YOUR COMPUTER, AND YOU ASSUME ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR IMPACTS TO OR LOSS OF ANY WARRANTY ASSOCIATED WITH THE OPENING OF YOUR COMPUTER FOR INSTALLATION OF EQUIPMENT. IN ADDITION, AS PART OF THE INSTALLATION PROCESS FOR THE SOFTWARE, AS WHEN MOST SOFTWARE IS INSTALLED ON A COMPUTER, SYSTEM FILES ON YOUR COMPUTER, SUCH AS INI, BAT, SYS AND DLL FILES, MAY BE MODIFIED OR DELETED. WE DO NOT REPRESENT, WARRANT, OR COVENANT THAT SUCH MODIFICATIONS OR DELETIONS WILL NOT DISRUPT THE NORMAL OPERATIONS OF YOUR COMPUTER, AND NEITHER WE

NOR ANY OF OUR DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, STOCKHOLDERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS AND AFFILIATES SHALL HAVE ANY LIABILITY WHATSOEVER TO YOU OR TO ANY THIRD PARTY FOR ANY DAMAGES RESULTING FROM INSTALLATION OF EQUIPMENT (EXCLUDING DAMAGES FOR DEATH OR BODILY INJURY).

4. SECURITY BREACHES. THE INTERNET IS A SHARED RESOURCE AMONG MILLIONS OF USERS. BECAUSE OF THIS, THERE IS A RISK THAT YOU COULD BE SUBJECT TO A VARIETY OF SECURITY BREACHES, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO EAVESDROPPING AND DENIAL OF SERVICE ATTACKS, AND THAT OTHER PEOPLE MAY BE ABLE TO ACCESS, MONITOR AND/OR ALTER YOUR FILES, DATA OR OTHER TRAFFIC SENT OR RECEIVED USING THE INTERNET SERVICES, AND/OR NEGATIVELY AFFECT YOUR ABILITY TO USE THE INTERNET SERVICES. IN ADDITION, WHEN USING THE COMPUTER TO ACCESS THE INTERNET OR ANY OTHER ON-LINE NETWORK OR SERVICE VIA THE INTERNET SERVICES, CERTAIN APPLICATIONS, SUCH AS FTP (FILE TRANSFER PROTOCOL) SERVERS AND HTTP (HYPER TEXT TRANSFER PROTOCOL) SERVERS, MAY ALLOW OTHER INTERNET USERS TO GAIN ACCESS TO YOUR COMPUTER. YOU ARE PERMITTED TO RUN SUCH APPLICATIONS FOR YOUR PERSONAL USE SUBJECT TO ALL OF THESE TERMS; HOWEVER, YOU ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT, IF YOU RUN SUCH APPLICATIONS, THE RISK OF SECURITY BREACHES AS DESCRIBED IN THESE TERMS MAY BE SIGNIFICANTLY INCREASED. YOU ACCESS AND USE THE INTERNET SERVICES AT YOUR OWN RISK. YOU AGREE THAT NEITHER WE NOR OUR DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, STOCKHOLDERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS AND AFFILIATES HAVE ANY LIABILITY WHATSOEVER FOR ANY CLAIMS, LOSSES, ACTIONS, DAMAGES, SUITS OR PROCEEDINGS ARISING OUT OF OR OTHERWISE RELATING TO BREACHES OF YOUR SECURITY (INCLUDING WITHOUT LIMITATION OTHER USERS ACCESSING YOUR COMPUTER, SOFTWARE, DATA OR PERIPHERALS) IN CONNECTION WITH THE INTERNET SERVICES (EXCLUDING DAMAGES FOR DEATH OR BODILY INJURY).

III. ADDITIONAL TERMS APPLICABLE TO CABLE SERVICES.

1. CABLE SERVICES. "CABLE SERVICES" MEANS THE CABLE TELEVISION SERVICES FOR WHICH WE ACCEPT YOUR ORDER.

2. COMPATIBILITY - "CABLE READY" AND "CABLE COMPATIBLE EQUIPMENT". YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT EVEN A TV OR VCR THAT IS DESCRIBED AS &#65533;CABLE READY&#65533; OR &#65533;CABLE COMPATIBLE,&#65533; MAY NOT PERFORM PROPERLY WITH THE CABLE SERVICES WHEN CONNECTED DIRECTLY TO THE CABLE SERVICES, AND THAT YOU MAY ENCOUNTER PROBLEMS OR INTERFERENCE (SUCH AS CO-CHANNEL INTERFERENCE, INABILITY TO RECEIVE HIGHER NUMBER CHANNELS) WHICH WILL NECESSITATE USE OF A SET-TOP CONVERTER BEFORE THE CABLE SERVICES WILL OPERATE PROPERLY WITH SUCH TV OR VCR. IF WE PROVIDE YOU WITH A SET-TOP CONVERTER AND/OR REMOTE CONTROL DEVICES, YOU AGREE TO PAY THE APPLICABLE MONTHLY FEE FOR THESE ITEMS. USE OF A SET-TOP CONVERTER MAY IMPAIR CERTAIN FEATURES OF YOUR TV OR VCR THAT DEPEND ON CHANNEL TUNING; IN THIS EVENT, YOU WILL NEED TO PROCURE ADDITIONAL SPECIAL EQUIPMENT TO REGAIN SOME OR ALL OF THESE FEATURES. THIS EQUIPMENT MAY INCLUDE AN ADDITIONAL CONVERTER OR AN A/B SWITCH TO ENABLE YOU TO BYPASS THE CONVERTER, AND MAY BE ACQUIRED THROUGH US OR THROUGH A THIRD PARTY. IN SOME AREAS, YOU MAY ALSO BE ABLE TO BUY THEM FROM US.

3. THEFT OF SERVICE. YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT IT IS ILLEGAL UNDER BOTH STATE AND FEDERAL LAWS TO TAMPER WITH CABLE TV EQUIPMENT OR TO ACQUIRE UNAUTHORIZED USE OF CABLE TELEVISION SERVICES, AND YOU AGREE TO NOT TAMPER WITH CABLE TV EQUIPMENT OR TO ACQUIRE UNAUTHORIZED USE OF CABLE TELEVISION SERVICES IN ANY FASHION OR BY ANY MEANS (INCLUDING BY UNAUTHORIZED MODIFICATION OF A CABLE INSTALLATION, SUCH AS CUTTING CABLE LINES, CHANGING THE LEVEL OF SERVICE RECEIVED, OR THEFT OF AUDIO, VIDEO, TEXTUAL DATA OR OTHER SERVICES, INCLUDING DATA TRANSMITTED TO OR FROM A CUSTOMER OVER A SYSTEM THAT HAS INTERACTIVE CAPABILITY).

I'd be curious to know if Roger's marriage lasted more than 12 months. Since he is quite the outspoken critic concerning the marriages of others, perhaps he could shed some light on why his ended in such a dismal failure.
Enquiring minds want to know.

Your turn, Wabbit. (without the filth...)

That's whom I had in mind, to be sure, though they only have one thing in common, really -- being delusional buffoons, as the FNVW recently mentioned to me. "Farky", as Max calls him, is also an apposite epithet, as it is an acronym for something which currently escapes me but is very highly appropriate. "Porchy" is another good one, but I like "Felchy" more, since he seems to be so obsessed with it.

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

I couldn't care less about your deviant proclivities. The exchange of sexual barbs seems to center mostly around the exchanges you have with Wiseman, and we all know that he is far from the accepted definition of normal.
Your choice of "flavors" is just that...YOUR choice, and I will not again mention same. What actions Wiseman undertakes, on the other hand, is not for you or me to control. I feel that, in his case, the best action to take is no action. Ignore him. He hates being ignored and shunned and, come to think of it, is very much like you in that regard.

You're both idiots.

Landshark can "own" anything he wants that isn't a controlled substance, violates National Security, or requires a federal license for ownership (ie: automatic firearms) Using it is another subject.

As for "violating" anything, Morkie, your use of profanity, not-so-subtle attempts at being the "moderator", and substandard spelling skills are as distasteful as anything to hit USENET since it's inception with the possible exception of Toiddie's lame efforts at promoting child pornograpy.

806. N0VFP - Countdown to No-Code - Hey Liberty Net ! ! !

Attention all members of The Great Liberty Net ...

Six weeks from tonight, you will have a new Check-in, courtesy of the no-code rules.

N0VFP will be joining The Great Liberty Net on Feb. 24, as soon as he can pass the test at the nearest VE site.

Tens of thousands of jammers - oops - I mean - SWL'ers will be on hand to greet Mr. Davies on his achievement.

Y-Man will cut his honeymoon with Ms. McKinney short so he can return to the keyboard and give this event the proclamation it truly deserves.

Meantime maybe VFP will give us his qsl address so we can send him a QSL card to commemorate this momentous event.

Too bad Kevin and Loose Orifice and Chicken Fornicator and Arky Bob won't be on hand for VFP's first check-in.

But guess who will be there - - Nashville Joe. :-)

42 days and counting till the proclaimer says - - - Gentlemen - start your amps ! ! !

It is almost a sure bet that the next miscreant in line after this new rule change will be Roger Wiseman, AB8MQ. He is sure to suffer panic attacks upon hearing his favorite stalkee, Lloyd Davies anywhere on the bands.

Wabbit Wiseman will be between that proverbial Rock And A Hard Place. He will most assuredly break out in a cold sweat as he fights an inner battle to keep his greasy fingers away from his microphone. Roger will doubtless have to forego his juvenile urge to jam Lloyd, and knows full well that he cannot do so because of the recent attention paid him by Riley Hollingsworth.

This will only get better. Enter Mark Morgan, another of Roger's favorites. Should Mark upgrade and make his presence known on the HF bands, Roger will doubtless spin out of control and go into a spittle spewing frenzy.

If Mark continues his stupidity, and he will, and if Roger doesn't take his doctor-ordered Thorazine, and he won't, the coming months should become very interesting.

808. Apology to Mark and Gav

I , Roger Leo Wussman, being of unsound mind and often out of my head, would like to issue a public apology to Mark Morgan for my unnecessary and often mean comments directed toward Mark over these past few years.

I deeply regret posting Mark's home address, his telephone number, and I am very, very sorry for having sent Mark anonymous letters and magazine subscriptions over the names of others. I will never again do this. You have my word on it. And, Mark? Rest assured that the late night telephone calls will cease as of this very moment.

I would also like to take this opportunity to apologize to Mark for cross posting to groups that were innocent bystanders. I was in total error and fully realize that I should not have done so. I will not do this ever again.

And lastly, allow me to eat just one more slice of Humble Pie. I would like to extend a heartfelt apology to Mark's wife, Gav. I went well over the line by accusing Mark's wife of being a Shemale and Transvestite. I now bow my head in shame and humbly plead for forgiveness. If I can make amends to Gav in any way, I will do whatever is necessary to prove my sincerity.

I have my own personal devils to deal with, Mark. I am trying my best, but some of the hurdles are just too great for me to leap over by myself. I'm sure you understand.

I hope you can find it in your heart to forgive me.

Roger

You'll never have to worry about that day. Robesin is incapable of

Members of the "Buddipole Users on Montserrat" (BUMS) will mount a DXpedition to the island of Montserrat (NA-103) from January 29th to Feburary 6th, 2007. It seems DXpeditions have now moved from Microlite to Ultralite. DXpedition team members will pack light for this DXpedition taking only lightweight transceivers and portable antennas. The maximum equipment weight taken to the island will be 100 pounds per person. With this lightweight equipment, the team plans many on island portable operations in the hills, on the beach, and from the volcano observatory on the southern part of the island. The team members mentioned are (updated): Budd/W3FF/VP2MFF, Chris/W6HFP/VP2MHF, Paul/KB9AVO/VP2MVO, Mike/KC4VG/VP2MVG, Tom/W4OKW/VP2MTC, Bob/AB7ST/VP2MST, Dan/WZ1P (No VP2 callsign yet), Scott/NE1RD/VP2MRD and Dave/KZ1O. Activity will be on all bands 160-6 meters, CW, SSB, PSK31, RTTY and SSTV. QSL via NE1RD. Check their Web site for more information and updates at: http://dxpedition-vp2m.com/

Also, you can follow along with the planning, preparation, execution, and follow through on this DXpedition through NE1RD's blog, "The 100 Pound DXpedition", at: http://100pounddxpedition.blogspot.com

2007 VISALIA INTERNATIONAL DX CONVENTION. The 2007 International DX Convention will take place April 27th, 28th and 29th, 2007, at the Holiday Inn Hotel & Conference Center in Visalia, California. This is an ARRL sanctioned convention that is sponsored this year by the Northern California DX Club. It is expected to draw visitors from around the World and will feature programs from recent DXpeditions and contest operations.
The Convention theme this year is, "Elmering New DXers is Job Number One!" Accordingly, a portion of the programming will be devoted to helping new DXers learn how to be noticed in a pile-up, snag a "new one" and get that elusive QSL card.
Other Convention offerings will include: DX, Top Band and Contest Forums, technical talks, many door prizes, both Friday and Saturday evening "attitude adjustments", Saturday Barbecue Lunch, Saturday night banquet, Sunday morning "power" breakfast, Vendors Exhibits and QSL card checking.
Current information and registration forms are available on the Convention web page which can be found at: http://www.dxconvention.org
Additional registration information can be obtained by contacting Convention Registration Chairman, Dick Letrich, W6KM via Email at: dlw6km@aol.com
If you're interested in DXing, the Visalia DX Convention is the place to be. We hope to see you there.

5H, TANZANIA (IOTA Op Cut Short!). World traveler Vladimir, UA4WHX, informs OPDX, that he had to cut short his 5H3VMB/3 IOTA operation from AF-075 because of a major transceiver failure. His activity only lasted for two days before the failure. He is currently in Dar-es-Salaam looking to repair or replace his radio. He feels the radio may not get repaired and may try to borrow or purchase a new radio (or possibly invite someone to come and operate with him). Vladimir does want to travel to a couple more locations before returning home to Russia. If you can help Vladimir, let OPDX know and we will contact him.

9M8, EAST MALAYSIA. David, VK2CZ, will be attending an Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) Region 10 meeting in Koto Kinabalu and plans to be active for a few hours during the CQ WPX SSB Contest (March 24-25th) possibly as 9M6/VK8AA. David states, "I've love to catch up with any ham in / around East Malaysia - given the hassles about securing my own 9M licence.."

9Q, DEM. REPUBLIC OF CONGO (Possible Topband Activity). Philippe/9Q1TB and his friend/neighbor George/9Q1EK (VE2EK) were heard this past week. Watch 40/30 meters. Philippe mentioned that this past week George and he were conducting some encouraging tests on 160 meters after setting up an Inverted L this past Sunday (January 14th). He states, "The signals are not too open over Africa, but we've heard a lot of Europeans." They hope to set a second antenna. Those who can access Google Earth, enter the following coordinates at: 4° 19'40.00"S and 15° 16'31.80" E You can see George's house on the left and Philippe's on the right. The two operators share air time because their stations are so close; they also share a great part of their antenna systems. QSL 9Q1EK and 9Q1TB, via SM5DQC (only direct) to: Osten B. Magnusson, Nyckelvagen 4, SE-59931 Odeshog, Sweden.

VK1AA QSL EXCHANGE SERVICE: "Part of the enjoyment of contacting other amateurs is the final courtesy of the QSO - the QSL card. In addition to the necessity of verification of contacts for awards, many amateurs enjoy collecting QSL cards. VK1AA QSL Exchange Service is a QSL service for those who would like to have a better return rate than through an existing QSL bureau.

To our Australian members, we guarantee 4 weeks delivery time on all incoming cards for symbolic yearly membership of only $A10 (US$ 8) or $A5 (US$4) for F-class callholders. Of course, we gladly accept all incoming cards for all VK stations; members or not. (Non-member cards are forwarded to local National bureau on bi-monthly basis).
Our members are encouraged to promptly reply to all incoming cards through our own outbound QSL service to overseas bureaus which is free of charge for small to medium users and 'at actual cost' to large volume users.
We believe QSL Exchange Service will make a dramatic impact on QSLing 'down-under' and we invite you to support our project. Sending your QSL cards for VK stations via QSL E. S. will not just unclog the existing, mostly inefficient system, but will also reduce delivery time from many months to just a few weeks.
Please do not send money or IRC - this 'new old-fashioned' QSL service is not for profit. Should you wish to receive an acknowledgement of receipt, please include your E-mail address. Thank you for your patronage and happy QSLing..... Nick Hacko, VK1AA

S21, BANGLADESH (Update). The S21XA "Bangladesh 2007 DXpedition" is now QRT. The team pulled the plug Tuesday, Jaunary 16th, at 0000z with little more than 17,000 QSOs. They report that the S21XA team was tired after seven hard days of 24 hours/day of non-stop operations. The team is happy with their operation inspite of the bad propagation. They were able to provide a "new one" for a lot of operators and also help fill in a new band and/or mode QSO to the rest. QSL via EA3BT, either direct or by the bureau. Online logs are available at:
http://www.ea3bt.com/bangladesh/bangla-logs.php

STATESIDE CODE TO BE ELIMINATED. The following is from the ARRL Web page this past week: "Codeless Amateur Radio Testing Regime Appears Set to Begin February 23 (Jan 19, 2007) -- The ARRL has learned that the FCC's Report and Order (R&O) in the "Morse code proceeding," WT Docket 05-235, is scheduled to appear in the Federal Register Wednesday, January 24. Assuming that occurs, the new Part 97 rules deleting the requirement that Amateur Radio license applicants pass a Morse code examination for any license class would go into effect Friday, February 23, 2007. The League cautions that this date is tentative, pending official confirmation and publication." The ARRL has posted all relevant information on the important Part 97 rule revisions on its "FCC's Morse Code Report and Order WT Docket 05-235" Web page, at: http://www.arrl.org/fcc/morse/

TA, TURKEY. Ozer, TA2RC, will be active during the CQ 160-Meter CW Contest (January 27-28th) as a Single-Op/Slow-Power entry. QSL via TA2RC by the Bureau.

TZ, MALI. Operators Eric/ON4LN (TZ2T), Ivo/ON5CD (TZ1T), Stefaan/ON4FG (TZ4T) and Bart/ON3VK (TBA) will be active from Bamako, Mali, April 2-7th.

The group plans to activate some prefixes that were never issued before. Activity will be on 160-10 meters on SSB, CW and Digital modes (RTTY, BPSK31, etc.) with at least 2 stations on the air simultaneously. Bands and mode will largely depend on the propagation. The aim is to activate the low and WARC bands, CW and digital modes as often as possible. QSL direct to ON4LN for all callsigns, or via bureau to their home callsigns. More information is available on their Web site at: http://mali2007.obox.be/

Activity will be on 40-6 meters, possibly some 80m operations if the antenna situation permits. Their emphasis will be on 40/30/17 meters, also 12m if the band is open. Operations will be primarily on CW, but with some possible SSB. Look for activity to be sporadic since this is a holiday style operation, but they do plan to be on the air at least 2-3 hours a day. Some limited time of participation, possibly 6-12 hours, and are expected in the ARRL DX CW Contest (February 17-18th), as a QRP entry. Their operating locations will vary between portable locations including the beach and from their living accomodations. QSL via AK0M, direct or by the bureau (processed once a year). Logs will also be available on LoTW after the trip. For more details/information about their operation, visit: http://pages.cfu.net/~sjs/vp2v/vp2v_feb_2007_main.html

816. Not just Kevin Alfred Strom -- several other white supremacists are perverts

It's the dirty little secret of the white supremacist movement in America. Klan leaders with black girlfriends. A neo-Nazi caught with a black transvestite. A macho skinhead arrested while soliciting sex from Latino men. National Socialists affiliated with Satanists who promote sexual ceremonies involving children.
And now, the arrest of Kevin Alfred Strom, a key "intellectual" of the radical right, for possession of child pornography.

But that's not all.

Just days after the Jan. 4 arrest of the leader of the neo-Nazi National Vanguard group, news emerged that two weeks earlier another National Vanguard member had been arrested for another sexual crime. Police in Brookline, Mass., jailed Matthew Downing, a prominent, 25-year-old activist and organizer with the Boston unit of the organization, on a felony charge of statutory rape.

Officials say that an acquaintance of Downing's, 17-year-old Jeremy Perea, got two teenage girls to come to Downing's Brookline home six days before Christmas. Once they were there, Perea allegedly told them he would not drive them home unless one had intercourse with Downing. They refused, but one of them, a 14-year-old, agreed to perform oral sex on the Aryan activist.

If that wasn't enough for embarrassed movement stalwarts, police in Sharpsburg, Md., on Jan. 10 arrested recent Klan boss Gordon Creal Young, 40, and charged him with seven criminal counts for allegedly forcing an underage girl to perform oral sex on him on two occasions in late October. Young, who was then still the imperial wizard of the World Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, also allegedly told the girl on another day that Klan members always strip females who want to join in order to search their bodies for imperfections. The girl later told a pastor that Young then touched her inappropriately.

Last November, just days after his alleged sexual encounters with the child in his home, Young announced he was shutting down the World Knights in order to become state leader of the National Socialist Movement (NSM). After Young's arrest in January, NSM leader Jeff Schoep E-mailed a local Herald-Mail newspaper reporter to say that Young "is not currently active with the National Socialist Movement," but refusing to discuss the matter further.

Now, now. Would you rob him of his life's few pleasures? The poor frogger can't even wank without being you, your wife, your imaginary children, Lloyd, or Andy. Impersonation of most of his owners is all he has to get him through the day. Why, without you guys, Wabbit would have to commit suicide. His life would be over, finis, kaput. But Wabbit had better watch out he doesn't frog /me/ -- Monkey-man'll kick his arse. He wuvs me. He'll never have me, but still, unrequited love is so charming, innit?

Oh, I know the difference, you made the statement, not I, stating "afraid of you too" meaning also or additionally. You need to articulate yourself more clearly. You probably meant to say "wether lloyd is afraid of you is another matter", the usage of "too" was unnecessary. What, didn't you at least make it through elementary school?

How about your poor grammer skills, poor english skills, poor typing skills, technican class license without obtaining an upgrade for years, possible O/C disorder exhibited by excessive posting, and cross posting to news groups.

What truth and justice???. Do you really think that you are some type of representative of truth and justice??? Get real, you sound more like some whiner playing the victim role every chance your get. You dish it out, you should take it like a...well I was going to say man, but since you like to make sure everyone knows your orientation, I'll say half man.

REQUEST FOR DISCUSSION (RFD)
moderated group rec.radio.amateur.moderated

This is a formal Request For Discussion (RFD) for the creation of the moderated Usenet newsgroup, rec.radio.amateur.moderated.

NEWSGROUPS LINE: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

rec.radio.amateur.moderated Amateur radio practices, rules, etc. (Moderated)

rec.radio.amateur.moderated is a moderated alternative to the existing rec.radio.amateur.misc and rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroups. The rec.radio.amateur.misc newsgroup is chartered to discuss amateur ("ham") radio practices, contents, events, rules, etc., including anything related to amateur radio not specifically covered by another rec.radio.amateur.* newsgroup. The rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroup is chartered to discuss ham radio rules, regulations, and policy. Over the past several years, the traffic on both groups has become largely flame wars, spam, and personal ad-hominem discussions of past, present, and future violations and violators, having little or no bearing on amateur radio. Polite requests by serious group posters to the offenders to refrain from such behavior have not resulted in elimination of such behavior and has in fact resulted in another series of flame wars. As a result, many knowledgeable and concerned posters in both groups have ceased being active therein.

Prior to the deterioration of rec.radio.amateur.misc and rec.radio.amateur.policy, both groups had active discussion of their chartered topics. It is expected that offering a moderated group will persuade those who formerly participated to resume their participation in rational, focussed, and informed discussion. Proper moderation will enable serious postings to the group to remain on topic while not limiting who can voice opinions or what opinions can be voiced.

Combining the topics of the unmoderated rec.radio.amateur.misc and rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroups into a single moderated newsgroup is offered as the most practical solution for both the moderators and the participants at this time. Followup discussion in response to the 1st RFD indicated that there was significant and strongly-held opinions in favor of either opening up the proposed newsgroup to all amateur radio topics, or changing the name to reflect a misc+policy scope only. In addition to the rec.radio.amateur.misc, and rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroups, there has also been recent discussion about moderation in rec.radio.amateur.antenna and rec.radio.amateur.dx. As a result, pointers to this 2nd RFD will be posted to those additional newsgroups. In particular, some consensus about alternatives is being actively solicited at this time. The main alternatives are:

1. Make rec.radio.amateur.moderated an all-encompassing moderated amateur radio discussion newsgroup.

2. Keep the topics focused on misc and policy, and come up with a better name for our proposed misc+policy moderated amateur radio discussion newsgroup.

Alternative #2 then branches out to two possible outcomes:

2.a. Create additional moderated newsgroups for other topics, like .antenna and .dx, now or in the future.

2.b. No one steps forward to create additional moderated newsgroups, and the other topics continue unmoderated.

Alternative #1 does not rule out the creation of additional moderated newsgroups in the future, though there is the valid point that alternative #2 fixes the name-space problem immediately for future growth, and would not have to be revisited.

Alternative #2 requires a suitable name. The name of rec.radio.amateur.misc+policy.moderated was suggested by Kathy Morgan.

One argument in favor of alternative #1 is:

- It may not be realistic to expect that, even if strongly desired, additional moderated newsgroups for other topics are going to emerge anytime soon, or at all.

Our moderation team does not intend to moderate more than 1 or 2 discussion newsgroups. We also do not feel that, as a whole, we are deep enough experts in the somewhat advanced-level topics of antennas and dx to effectively vet appropriate articles for those topics.

In followup discussion for this 2nd RFD, we would like to try and separate mere opinions from realistic plans/intentions to add additional moderated discussion newsgroups for rec.radio.amateur.*. Alternatively, it may be the case that those newsgroups' readership may not favor such new moderated newsgroups, and either defer to ours, or retain their topic discussions in the existing unmoderated newsgroups.

CHARTER:

rec.radio.amateur.moderated is for the discussion of amateur ("ham") radio, also known as the Amateur Radio Service, as defined in Federal Communications Commission Regulations and U.S. Law (47 CFR Part 97), and in similar laws and regulations in other countries, based on international treaty. It is not limited to the rules of any one country or time period. Possible topics include past, present, and future operating practices; events; contests; past, present, and potential-future rules; power limitations; authorized frequencies; allowed modes and band plans (or other gentlemen's agreements) that govern how we are to operate; what constitutes the acceptable operation of amateur stations.

The newsgroup is intended to be international in scope, not just for amateurs in the United States. It is, however, intended as an English-language forum, by custom and practice. As with General Aviation and other internationally-scoped endeavors, the Amateur Radio Service has a strong custom of the use of English and the Latin alphabet. Discussion of amateur radio in languages other than English also occurs in many country- and region-specific hierarchies, many of which have specific amateur radio newsgroups, including:

de.* (Germany)
dk.* (Denmark)
es.* (Spain)
fr.* (France)
nl.* (Netherlands)
pl.* (Poland)
pt.* (Portugal)
relcom.* (Russia)

This newsgroup is only intended to supplement, not supersede, any other amateur radio newsgroups.

General communications law or government policy of various government agencies is also on-topic, as long as the discussion relates to amateur radio. Examples would be emergency communications, local antenna restrictions, and property deed restrictions applying to operation of amateur radio stations.

Discussion of other type of radio, such as Citizens Band, Broadcast, other Personal Radio Services, Commercial or Private Land Mobile, and Marine or Aviation services are off-topic, except when directly related to amateur radio. Similarly, discussion of methods violating applicable communication law and regulations concerning radio equipment or operations are off-topic.

The following are prohibited:

* Personal advertisements (submitters of such articles will be referred to rec.radio.swap, instead).
* Commercial advertisements and money-making schemes.
* Chain letters.
* Posts in HTML.
* EMP spam.
* Binaries, apart from PGP signatures, X-Face headers, and other ancillary article meta-data.
* Forgery of valid e-mail addresses.
* Excessive morphing/nym-shifting.

* Copyright violations. Pointers to news articles, blogs, etc. on this topic are welcome but are required to comply with fair use standards.
* Personal attacks and flames, as defined by the moderation team.
* Advertising items and/or services for sale.
* Links to "objectionable" web content, including pornographic sites,
sites encouraging illegal activities, or sites deemed unacceptable
by the moderation team. The moderation team will cursorily check the contents of specific links to confirm on-topic content, but acceptance for posting does not imply endorsement or approval of the entire present or future contents of that web site.
* Discussion of moderation decisions. See below for information on appealing moderator action.

MODERATION POLICY: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

A moderation robot will scan all submitted posts. Each post will be either automatically approved, rejected, or sent to the moderators for manual review. The moderator 'bot will enforce the following guidelines:

* Crossposting is generally not allowed, with the general exception of crossposts of bulletins, FAQ's, and other informational articles to rec.radio.info, rec.answers, and news.answers. Infrequent administrative crossposts may occasionally be allowed at the sole discretion of the moderator.

* Postings must be in plain text. In particular no HTML or mixed text and HTML posts will be allowed. Messages that are multipart/alternative will be automatically filtered to pass just
the text/plain version to the newsgroup.

* No binary postings of any sort will be accepted. Exceptions will be made for cryptographic signatures and such.

* Messages must not have a 'Followup-To' header that points out of rec.radio.amateur.moderated (other than to "poster").

* Messages must not continue a thread that has been "closed" by the moderators.

Individual posters may be temporarily banned for consistently violating

rejected or banned, either for specific content or by a specific moderator, may appeal the decision. They may do so by contacting the Appeals Board, consisting of a rotating group of 2 or more moderators, at the Administrative Contact address below. The Board will discuss and vote on the appeal and respond within 14 days if the appeal is successful. The Board will also reply within 14 days to unsuccessful submitters of any appeal that is on-topic, reasoned, civilly stated, and is not substantially an attempt to revisit the subject matter and arguments of a previous unsuccessful appeal.

Multiple temporary bans, attempting to circumvent the ban, or abuse of the appeal system may result in a permanent ban.

PROCEDURE:

For more information on the newsgroup creation process, please see:

http://www.big-8.org/dokuwiki/doku.php?id=policies:creation

Those who wish to influence the development of this RFD and its final resolution should subscribe to news.groups.proposals and participate in the relevant threads in that newsgroup. This is both a courtesy to groups in which discussion of creating a new group is off-topic as well as the best method of making sure that one's comments or criticisms are heard.

All discussion of active proposals should be posted to news.groups.proposals. To this end, the 'Followup-To' header of this RFD has been set to this group.

If desired by the readership of closely affected groups, the discussion may be crossposted to those groups, but care must be taken to ensure that all discussion appears in news.groups.proposals as well.

We urge those who would like to read or post in the proposed newsgroup to make a comment to that effect in this thread; we ask proponents to keep a list of such positive posts with the relevant message ID (e.g., Barney Fife, <4JGdnb60fsMzHA7ZnZ2dnUVZ_rWdnZ2d@sysmatrix.net>). Such lists of positive feedback for the proposal may constitute good evidence that the group will be well-used if it is created.

928. MI5 Persecution: Toronto Freenet supports free speech (843)

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.misc
Date: 2007-01-25 19:43:57 UTC
From: MI5Victim@mi5.gov.uk
Message-ID: <m07002520381956@4ax.com>
Source record: 21564
Cross-posted to: proxad.free.adsl,aus.radio.amateur.misc,rec.radio.amateur.misc,alt.os.linux.suse,gay-net.spiele

Despite an orchestrated campaign of attempted censorship by UK-resident newsgroup readers, TFN did not bow to demands for a suppression of freedom of speech. TFN general policy on the matter is as follows;

Draft Policy on Account Deactivations due to News Group Postings
==========

News group postings occasionally take the form of a message which goes against the "topic" of the conference.
For example, a derogatory message about Canadians in the soc.culture.canada.

Members of such news groups then may send a message to the system administrators asking that a user's account be terminated because of such posting.

The Toronto Free-Net Board of Directors has taken the position that the only postings that will get a person's account terminated is material that is illegal under Canadian law. Otherwise, the Toronto Free-Net will not take any action.

Freenet Executive Director Mike Anderson had this to say regarding the continued attempts of a minority of usenet participants to have my account on his system deactivated;

The TFN's policy is not to take action against members unless they contravene the Criminal Code of Canada, or engage in practices such as forgery, attacks against other computer systems or mailbombing.

Mr. Corley, while possibly being very annoying, has not contravened the TFN's policies. The TFN believes strongly in freedom of expression, while recognizing that the price for such freedom may be a high signal-to-noise ratio in Usenet.

If Mr. Corley breaks the law, we will take action -- until then, he has the same rights as any TFN member to post to Usenet newsgroups. Actions such as mailbombing the TFN in protest will be met by strong complaints to the originating site's postmaster. The best defense against unwanted postings may be simply be to ignore them and deny the poster an audience.

TFN Executive Director Toronto, Ont CANADA

Personally, I find it gratifying that my contributions to usenet discussion are recognized as being conducive to a high signal-to-noise ratio by their quality and thoughtfulness.

Remember the two-way televisions in George Orwell's 1984?
The ones which watched you back? Which you could never get rid of, only the sound could be turned down?

Well the country which brought Orwell into the world has made his nightmare follow into the world after him.
Since 1990 the British have been waging war against one of their own citizens using surveillance to invade privacy and a campaign of abuse in the transmitted media in their efforts to humiliate their "victim".

And the most remarkable thing about it is that what they do is not even illegal - the UK has no laws to protect the privacy of its citizens, nor does it proscribe harassment or abuse except in the case of racial abuse.

A lot of people in England know this to be going on,
yet so far they have maintained perfect "omerta";
not a sound, not a squeak has escaped into the English press, and for all the covert harassment absolutely nothing has come out into the public domain.

Have the British gone mad? I think we should be told.

Mmmm.

Who, exactly is this victim you're talking about?

First up, Britain or the UK (not 'England' - England is a part of Britain, like Kansas is a part of the USA) does have laws that protect the individual from harassement - you can't just threaten people willy nilly. There are laws against that. And if someone lies about you in the press or tv then you have recourse to libel/slander etc. laws.

True, Britain has no 'privacy' laws as such, but isn't that a good thing? As of this moment, the govt. are considering a privacy law, but it is unlikely to succeed. Why? Because any such law would benefit the priviledged and those in power.
Privacy laws, while supposedly protecting the individual, help those in power hide their mistakes/scandals. They stop the press etc. investigating. Privacy laws are undemocratic - they prevent the people from keeping an eye on govt.

And stop looking for some kinda conspiracy in the British press. It's hardly perfect, but your notion that they don't cover/campaign against press legislation, harrassment, discrimination, human rights etc. is plain wrong. You've never seen a British paper in yr life.

You clearly have a specific case/individual in mind. Speak up!
The thought police aren't coming round just yet.

Douglas.

Confession time - the victim is/was me (except my name isn't Corley, but that's irrelevant). What happened was not threats; just invasion of privacy, in a partiicularly flagrant and shocking way, in a way which most people would consider to constitute harassment.

You know there's a particular category of person with mental illness to whom TV and radio "talk", ie they feel the broadcast is directed at them in particular? This happpened to me, quite some time ago in the UK (I'm originally from London, so I've seen plenty of British media print and other).
They invaded my home with their bugs, they repeated what I was saying in the privacy of my home, and they laughed that it was "so funny", that I was impotent and could not even communicate what was going on. Who did this? Our friends on BBC television, our friends in ITN, last but not least our friends in Capital Radio in London and on Radio 1.

How did they do this? I'll give you an example. About a year ago,
I was listening to Chris Tarrant (Capital Radio DJ among other pursuits) on his radio morning show, when he said, talking about someone he didn't identify, "you know this bloke? he says we're trying to kill him. We should be done for attempted manslaughter" which mirrored something I had said a day or two before (I'm not paranoid, honest!). Now that got broadcast to the whole of London - if any recordings are kept of the shows then it'll be there.

You mean the category where they think that everyone is after them ? that one ? So lets get this straight you know you are paranoid and you think that they are out to get you ? Uh huh, try putting the two together and see what you come up with.

Oh yeah, I can see it now. All of them banding together, in a united effort against one man. So ITN, the BBC, and Capital all decide to sit round the table and they come up with idea of breaking into someones house, putting bugs everywhere, listening in to his conversation, and shoving it out on the news everyday. This someone has nothing to do with politics, or business, or entertainment, just an ordinary Joe Bloggs who seems to be extremely paranoid.

Have some sense, grow up and smell reality. What you are talking about would take loads of planning, tens of thousands of pounds and lots of people involved in the planning, execution and maintenance of it. You must have a very high opinion of yourself to think you are worth it.

Of course you are not paranoid, just slightly mad. Did you ever look for the bugs in your house ? If not, why not ? I mean if I thought that was happening to me, I'd search the place from top to bottom, I mean I live there I would know if anything was out of place. If I was really paranoid, whoops I mean suspicious, I would call in one of those bug detection teams which have those machines that pick up the transmitted radio waves. This reminds me of BUGS, that new programme on BBC1 on saturdays which is all about this kind of stuff, but, shown as a drama / thriller. I suppose thats based on you as well is it ?

>is that there is a conspiracy in Britain, that it encompasses the >broadcast media, and there is no way of breaking the conspiracy.
>The people who are involved in it will not open up.

What a load of jolly hollyhocks, I would say something else but, apparently students are not allowed to swear on newsgroups in case it damages the reputation of the university or some such jolly hollyhocks.

This guy is extremely paranoid to suggest that the entire British media is after him in such a big way. He gives no real reason as to why they are after him, just that he suffers/suffered from a slight mental disorder, could it be paranoia perhaps ?? No surely not.

I put it to the house that he has never recovered from this mental disorder, lets come out with it and call it paranoia, and thinks everyone is after him. Remember just because you aren't paranoid, doesn't mean they aren't after you.

This guy has a serious problem to suggest that the media would go to such lengths just to single out and ridicule one person. I mean apart from anything else, we ( the listening masses) wouldn't be interested unless it concerned the royal family, politicians or showbiz personalities. e.g. the camillagate tapes. I would think that almost everyone, no matter how much they went on about infringements of privacy read the transcripts with interest. I really don't think that Joe Bloggs ordinary guy or paranoid nutter would have the same appeal. Well actually I dunno. :)

Paul.

That is what happens in big cities. Hell, it scared me to death when I first started working in Manchester. People keep talking to me on the streets, even if its just to say hello, and I've no idea who they are. This happens to most people, don't worry about it.

Exactly. All you have offered so far as proof of your harrassment by these people is:

1) Someone on radio said something that you had recently said and
2) People on the streets seem to recognise you.

These are both perfectly normal occurences and happen to lots of people every day so it is unsurprising that people here, and the police, are not taking you seriously.

Trying to always keep an open mind about things I would say that one of three things is likely.

Either there is a lot more to this that you are not telling us, or you are messing about or you have some genuine delusions. I'd like to think that in two of the three cases you would find some real support here, but it seems unlikely I'm afraid.

The key is the pattern, or a change in the pattern. I've lived in London almost all my life, and just walking around the streets, I never got hassled by anybody. All of a sudden, people start harassing you, throwing abuse at you, behaving as if they know you personally, as if they've seen you before somewhere. I read in the papers that this happens to Colin Stagg and people like that Eastenders actress, but they've had their picture in the paperes, so that is understandable.
In a couple of cases people have even known my name - when I was in London over Easter I was walking down Shaftesbury avenue in the West End when somebody (no idea who they were, just some bloke with his girlfriend) called me by name - quite clearly, and my name is distinctive. This also happened once about four 1/2 years ago, onn the tube - some blokes I had never seen started chanting my name and a term of abuse.

It's the pattern which convinces me there's something to it - and would convince any impartial abserver who could see things tyhrough my eyes.

>Doesn't this suggest to you that there are, in fact, no bugs to be found?

There's a little story behjjind this. First iof all, in 1992 I worked for a company where the people made clear they knew what was going on, first of all directly (the very first evening I was there I went out to the pub with them and the Technical Directpor said to another guy, "is this the bloke who's been on TV?" "yeah, I think so") and also indirectly, by rep[peating stuff I was saying at home in London and in my rented accomodation there (I moved several times in the course of 1992 and they followed me each time). Now, if "they" (the buggers) knew their bugs could be found easily, they wouldn;'t be keen to make their existence known, would they?

Also, in summer 1992 I went on a trip abroad to Europe by coach, and on the way out there were a couple a little younger than myself on the coach a bloke and hius girlfriend. He said things about some bloke who was never named, who sounded exactly like me - and he made explicitly clear that our house was bugged, and that a neighrbours house was bugged (and at work they'd been rep[earting what was said at the neighbours, so this looks like independent corroboration).
They also said stuff like "at school he was always really streesed, they found someone from his school and he was a real psycho" and that "he was in a B&B for one night and they got him", dead right again, I had been in B&B for once night a few days before this trip and weatching the news again got a reaction from the newsreader.

Yeah, but this is the point. Each incident is easily and automatically deniable along the lines you're taking. But when this happens every time, and when you get independent corroboration from other people, then there's no escaping it. For example, immediately after I lost my job in 91 I went into the local garage to get some work done on the car, and one of the blokes there said to the other, "so what do you think of it then? it's getting killed on the radio isn't it" Now again, you look at that and no proff; you can ask them what they're referring to and they can say they're talking about something else.

>I know you may be a little paranoid, but I suggest you sit down >and work out rationally what possible reason anyone off television, >or radio would have for listening to your conversations. After all >it must be hard enough to present a show to millions of people >without the added burden of watching and listening to a single >person and slipping their phrases into the programme.

These presenters are clever people. They wouldn't be presenters if they weren't - they're easily capable of reacting to an individual in this way.

What possible reason? I guess because they think it's amusing to do so. They know that if you ever tell anybody, without being able to show any evidence, then the reaction you'll get from just about anybody will be the one you're showing now.

I realize there are loads of people in England and elsewhere with the sort of thoughts I've described in these postings; and almost all impartial observers would say that nothing other than an go after their private conversations (if they did it to me then I can do it to them, it's a questions of technical competence and money).
If you were lucky, you might be able to entrap them into admission.
You could of course harass or threaten them back (any coppers reading this?) but that would be illegal and might get a result quite different to the one you're trying to achieve. Of course, it might come out of its own accord given time - if so many people know, if they have an escape valve in their "subtext" through the media, will it not cease to be at a covert level, given time? Surely it is in my interest for it to become overt, since the transgressions at this time are on their side and not on mine?

Thoughts? There must be some way of breaking the secrecy. This isn't the first time in human history that a conspiracy has taken place on this scale, but the truth tends to out. The situation now is they think they';re "winning" hence have little stimulus to change the rules - if they started seeing themselves "losing" things could change drastically.

Mike, if that is your name,

I'm going to try to rationalise what you're telling us. I can think of three possible explanations for what you are experiencing.

One is that there _is_ a conspiracy against you. As a previous writer said, though, a lot of these programmes are taped, so it really isn't possible in some of the cases you've named. Further, why were no bugs found in your house? Finally, unless you are a political figure or someone else in the public eye, why would anyone bother? People like me (and I assume you) are small fry; our contribution to society is likely to be minor. Why would anyone spend so much money and effort on you?

Another possibility is that you are developing some kind of paranoia. There's no stigma attached to this; we're all paranoid to some extent, although perhaps not to the extent that a doctor would call us paranoid. I think paranoia is quite a straightforward explanation here - you really do believe that all these things are aimed at you; you see people everywhere trying to get at you. Logic suggests that this cannot really be the case.

The third possibility is that not even you really believe any of this, and that this is a "troll". I'm not sure I believe this possibility, but it's possible.

Anyway, if you want to be sure that you're _not_ going mad, I'd go and see your G.P. if I were you. If you don't trust him/her, why not see someone recommended by a person you can trust? If you don't trust anyone any more, don't you think it's time you got help?

For a troll, the posts are remarkably well-informed on paranoid behaviour.. you'd need to be one, or be reasonably well-informed on the subject to sustain the tale... which lead me to my theory...ahem...:

An extension to possibility 3 (Number 3.5, perhaps?) is that the original poster may be somehting like a psychology student writing a term paper on the net community's reactions to this tale. (Now, there's paranoia for you! Not only are they listening to/watching us, they're writing reports about us too...:-)

More likely, though, is that the poster is genuinely in need of professional help (he has intimated as much, himself) and, as such, he should be encouraged to seek it.

But we've done that. I certainly have at least. Way back when you nor stupidly long.

But whenever anyone makes any good suggestions you ignore them and start posting from the begining again. You don't want us to help you - so what do you want? If you really wanted help you would listen to peoples suggestions and respond to them. Is this just an attention thing?
But I'll try again, because I'm a fool like that.

You haven't yet given any examples of anything concrete to suggest that this is really happening to you. This, I would imagine, will be the stumbling block for the police. How can they possibly help you when your only evidence is a jumbled mess of TV presenters saying things that could be construed as answers to your comments and the 'feeling' that people are talking about you and watching you?

I seem to recall that last time this was being discussed someone asked if you had been to see a psychiatrist about this - after all if this is really happening then you have can only benefit from being given a clean bill of health. I don't recall an answer.

So you are no longer in the uk? And this is not happening anymore?

Then let it go. Just leave it alone and get on with your life. Its just not worth it. There is nothing you can do to prove that this happened whether it did or did not. So forget it. Go and explore the net - when people aren't spamming it with useless repetitve posts there's a lot of interesting and worthwhile things out there to see and do. Likewise real life (I'm told *&).

>But we've done that. I certainly have at least. Way back when you >originally started posting and your posts were neither tediously repetitve >nor stupidly long.

Once again we're running into a brick wall. The reason I started posting was because I couldn't figure out a way out of the situation, and thought that saying it out into the open would provide a catalyst for one of those "in the know" (there are plenty in this category, and it's a fair bet that some of them are reading this) to speak up.

It hasn't worked, yet. A little more aggressive shit-stirring (excuse expletive) might do the trick. Perhaps Usenet posting is the wrong arena for this sort of activity; although obviously it does have the advantage of rapid feedback.

Thing is, for people to open up, you would have to provide them with a reason why it would be in their interest to do so. There's no obvious way of doing that; to get thinking people to incriminate themselves when they're safe in denying all knowledge is not a trick I can figure out how to do.

>But whenever anyone makes any good suggestions you ignore them and start >posting from the begining again. You don't want us to help you - so what do >you want? If you really wanted help you would listen to peoples suggestions >and respond to them. Is this just an attention thing?
>But I'll try again, because I'm a fool like that.

A "good" suggestion would be one which had the effect of halting the persecution, which so far hasn't happened. If you make a "good" suggestion then damn right I'll stop posting - because then I won't have to.

>You haven't yet given any examples of anything concrete to suggest that this >is really happening to you. This, I would imagine, will be the stumbling >block for the police. How can they possibly help you when your only evidence >is a jumbled mess of TV presenters saying things that could be construed as >answers to your comments and the 'feeling' that people are talking about you
>and watching you?

Because, as said previously, concrete proof does not exist. If it existed then I wouldn't be talking to you - if it could be proved, or if those doing it could be found, they wouldn't be able to continue.

What's happened is all conversation. You can't prove conversation, not without a tape recorder, and even then you would have to prove that what they meant corresponded to what you understood.

The psychopath who manages the Applics group at my previous employers played little word games, not only with me but with at least one other person in the group; words which rhyme with swear words, words which are ambiguous, eg "bent", words which rhyme with wank, "sheet" rhymes with shit, end (how was your weak end? being the standard salutation on a Monday morning). Sounds childish, most people would easily tell him to fuck off; except to people with predisposition to depression and the inability to express themselves (this was before I started taking medication), that sort of nastiness is not bearable. After ten months of this I was so ill I was crying constantly, eventually I went into hospital and started on medication. Somebody else he did this to (over a year later!) got so depressed he took an overdose of pills, had to go on antidepressants and left.

And where does the "concrete proof" of this trouble exist? NOWHERE. Even if you had physical evidence, even if you had the presence of mind to record what was said, how could you prove what he actually meant by what he was saying? In some cases of harassment you can prove what was done, because it's undeniable. But when the harassment is done with any presence of mind whatsoever, it becomes difficult. In the case of the wider harassment, the people doing it obviously know what they're about - they must have done similar things to other people before in one form or another, and they know what they can get away with, they know what the police will do nothing about.

>I seem to recall that last time this was being discussed someone asked if you
>had been to see a psychiatrist about this - after all if this is really >happening then you have can only benefit from being given a clean bill of >health. I don't recall an answer.

Yes. The reply was of the "neither confirm nor deny" variety. Not much else they can say, is there?

>Well how could they? Who would you sue? The country?

Hmmm, now there's a thought... :-)

>If this gets out then that will be the time to bring your claims to the >foreground.

Wrong way round. It won't get out unless I do something to bring that about; remember, it isn't in THEIR interest for THEIR criminality to be exposed. Yelling loudly on Usenet might nudge things along in the right direction.

>The only thing ruining your life right now is you, Mike. And the only thing >that will make your life any better now is also you. So go and make your >life better and show them that they failed.

Ignoring them would be bliss, but it's not a winning strategy.

There are going to be more of these posts. Sorry. That's the way it is.

940. MI5 Persecution: But why? 2/8/95 (5368)

Well, cos it's true. I was hoping that someone "in the know" would appear and make some self-revealing comments, but that hasn't happened. Everyone's keeping quiet. What a pity.

>>This is an agglomeration of articles and replies previously

Mine, mainly. The reason for putting that episode at the top of the posting is that they tried to kill two birds with one stone at the Beck trial - they simultaneously put words into the mouth of their invented "witness" to smear Janner, and repeated exactly, word-for-word, stuff which had been said by and about me.

That was the only occasion (the only one recognizable to me, anyway) when they went after another target at the same time.
And it's quite lucky they did that - because it could give some pointers to who they might be.

Presumably there are people still around who were involved in that trial, and know what happened. Beck might be dead, but the "witness" would still be around, as would Beck's solicitor.

Well, your guess is as good as mine. But what newspaper would send a team after someone for five years? I don't think so, somehow. Of course they could, but it wouldn't be in their commercial interest.

You'd have to look at a corporate entity which would indulge in activity of this type, and the nature of the contacts they have narrows down the search.

Janner blamed Beck for the invention. He didn't say anything about it having any other origin. Even had he suspected any other source, he could hardly have pointed the finger without some evidence.

>You say that the media is making similar allegations about you in >relation to this issue? So, you're accused of child abuse, amd

I've been accused of many things although that wasn't one of them.
Most of them have been yelled in my face by people on the street in London at some time or other. Bit difficult to misinterpret when that happens.

>What exact;y are they saying about you? (Respond here please. I'm >leaving the UK tomorrow, so I can't read e-mail.)

It changes with time. Every so often, they sing a new song;
so at one point the allegation was homosexuality, at another is was low intelligence, then it degenerated into sexual abuse.

>How do you know this? Just from what you hear on the radio?

I can't remember if this was mentioned in the "regular" posting, but on a few occasions they set me up with people nearby to talk about me, or more correctly, to talk about somebody who (in their minds) "resembles" me, with actually naming me.

One such occasion was a coach trip to Europe in June 1992.
The "set up" comprised a guy talking to a vacant giggling female about "this bloke", who was never named. Apparently "they" (also never named) "found somebody from his school",
"they" "got" him at his house and at a neighbours, and at a B&B where their target was for one night.

Apart from that, yeah, from "what I hear on the radio". And from what I see on TV. (I wouldn't be doing my job as a mentally ill person properly if the TV and radio weren't talking to me, now, would I?)

>>Oh yeah, I can see it now. All of them banding together, in a united

>They are usually known as delusions.

This is the problem, and there doesn't seem to be any way around it.
If a clearly sane person reported this persecution, you might believe him, but probably you'd tell him to go see a doctor to "verify his sanity". If someone with the illness of which you could argue these things to be symptomatic says these things, again, you might believe him, but it would be unlikely - the easiest route is the one you are taking in the above paragraph. The only way I can convince you of what I am saying is by giving precise details of what, when, how - and for most of that stuff is based solely on memory.

To prove it would require an admission from somebody, or else hard proof in the shape of physical evidence such as tape recordings.
Of course, I don't have that.

>The idea of a "pattern", and the notion that if anyone could look >through your eyes they would see the same thing is very indicative of >the onset of a psychiatric illness. Schizophrenia and manic depression >have similar symptoms. I'm not trying to be disrespectful here.
>This may be an illness and it can be managed by the use of medication.
>If it _isn't_ treated, it can lead to terrible tragic consequences.

I'm quite aware what the symptoms would be, and that the reality corresponds to those symptoms.

But if anything, that is an argument which could convince you of the truth of what I'm saying. If they deliberately set out to simulate the symptoms of schizophrenia - in other words, if they know through observation that their target is either suffering from the illness, or is on the borderline and could be pushed in with an appropriate stimulus, then they can feel safe in what they do, since once you are registered as suffering from the illness, people will assign less credibility to assertions that persecution is based in reality.

That this can happen, and people collude by silence, is absolutely horrifying. It is all the more horrifying that it can happen in a country such as Britain which has no history of repression.
Perhaps its happening in the UK is due to the arrogant assumption of moral superiority on the part of those in the media and others involved - we won the last war and we can keep harping on about

German and Japanese war crimes, so we can do whatever we like and we'll be right, up to and including destroying the lives of our citizens (as long as we're not caught doing it).

Those are pretty much the sort of calculations that went through my head once I stopped to consider what it must be costing them to run this little operation.

The partial answer is, there have been periods when the intensity has been greater, and times when little has happened. In fact, for much of 1993 and the first half of 1994, very little happened. Although I don't think that was for reasons of money - if they can tap into the taxpayer they're not going to be short of resources, are they?

The more complete answer is in the enormity of what they're doing.
When countries kill their own people, as a rule, they get found out and all hell breaks loose. This isn't some para shooting Irish teenagers in the back. This is something which permeates English society, which they are ALL responsible for, and which they cannot escape responsibility for.

Relative to the cost to British pride of seeing their country humiliated for the persecution of their own defenceless citizens, isn't is worth the cost of four or five people to try to bring things to a close in the manner they would wish? To the government a million or two is quite honestly nothing - if they can convince themselves of the necessity of what they're doing, money is not going to be the limiting factor.

Sure, it "leans" towards it. But please at least admit there is a POSSIBILITY of it being very real. And once you've done that, can you come up with some thoughts on methods of proof? I may be missing something in my assessment - there may be a way of proving it, in the face of non-cooperation from the "players".

Why am I a coward? Because I am not stupid enough to identify myself??? Look back on your interaction with these news groups, don't you think you would have been better off if you used an alias? Look at all the negative attention you have received and the death threats

No lie, you end every post with a link to your blog which includes in the heading "bi-sexual ham". I agree that you don't hide it, but why bother to announce it. Do you think everybody should list their sexual orientation on their blogs or in their NG posts. What's the point, unless your trying to make it a point that everybody should know that your bi-sexual?? BTW it doesn't piss me off. Hey its your ass, just don't cry when you get into your 50's and you can't hold your poop. Get used to having to run to the bathroom as poop is running down your leg into your shoe. You ought to hear all the gays that whine about this Guess what, no cure, its an exit, not a place to stick a weiner.

See, here you go again, playing the victim, implying these are "harrasing questions."

You made a statement that you stand up for "truth and justice", I simply asked a question, and you refuse to answer. Leaving one only to guess that you have no rationale, or can adequately explain what you mean by this statement. If this is the case, then just say so, but don't play the "victim role".

no you are simply enaging in your lieathon

I did not imply they were harassing questions I stated it as a fact that you keep asking the the same question over and over after receieving an answer makes em harrasing questions

992. A Very Early Strange Radio Station

In the 1920's a radio station in Schenectady, NY built a powerful transmitter. In those days before FCC regulations, not knowing just how big to make a transmitter in order for the signal to be received some distance away, the station set up to broadcast at 500,000 watts. It requires about one watt to be received four blocks away. This station broadcast at such tremendous power that they could be heard around the world. People in New York didn't even need radios. They could sometimes hear voices in their furnaces and coming off chain-link fences. Light bulbs lit up in people's houses even if they were switched off. - from www.odd-info.com
